Report to Governor Hits James Board.

Misappropriation and misapplication of funds, waste, graft, pay roll padding, looting, and general mismanagement were charged yesterday against the former west park board, which was appointed by former Gov. Emmerson and was headed by W. R. James as president.

A report to Gov. Horner by Harry Joseph, president of the present park board, showed the condition in which this board found the park system and the park finances when it took office last January. The report included a statement showing how former President James had accounted for $40,000 which was voted him as a contingent fund and which he checked into his personal bank account.

The state's attorney is now investigating the looting of the park treasury, Mr. Joseph informed Gov. Horner. The present park commissioners are giving consideration to a recommendation that the former commissioners be sued on their bonds.

"Parks Left an Eyesore."

The report, in portraying the condition in which the present board found the park system, deals with the physical aspect of the parks as well as with the load of debt bequeathed to the system by the James board.

"Unkempt lawns, slovenly gutters, disreputable shrubbery, lean and diseased trees were common eyesores," the report says. "It may safely be said that the lawns and parkways have not been properly cultivated for at least five years. The physical aspects of the recreation centers and smaller park areas were in some instances appalling.

"Formerly there were benches in abundance, but we are informed that many of them now repose in country homes and private gardens. It is reported they were carted away by the truckload. It appears that anything that was movable could be taken away almost without restriction."

Many Materials Disappear.

In another section of the report it is stated: "Many items of stores material that were not of too great bulk or weight were found to disappear probably because of the practice of permitting privately owned cars to be parked in the storehouses."

Under the heading of disappearance of furniture the loss of 450 chairs is revealed. These, according to the report, are said to have gone into the furnishing of the 37th Ward Republican club, of which Eden T. Brekke, former park commissioner, is the leader.

The report says that the bills of furniture came to the park board, but the ward club got the furnishings. In addition, it says, Brekke's club had a private headquarters in the park administration building, keys were available to all members, and a private telephone was installed in the park building for the ward club.

Warren Boulevard "Disgraceful."

Rubbish piled by the former board at 31st street and Sacramento boulevard now furnishes one of the most unsightly spots in the city, the report says. It is comparable, the report goes on, to the condition of the boulevards and walks, some of which are described as "truly dangerous." Warren boulevard, the report says, is in a "disgraceful condition."

From this point the report goes into the former board's record of purchases without authority and in violation of the law, and shows that many of these purchases were not authorized until as much as nine months after they were made.

Coal contracts are discussed. The report charges that the old board bought coal without regard to bids and at prices above what they should have been.

Electrical and paving contracts were let without regard to law or order, the report says. It charges that in some instances contractors were paid without contracts, and were paid in cash when park employés had not been paid for a year.

James' Spending Discussed.

Regarding former President James' personal expenditures the report says:

"The actual checks drawn by the former president in the total amount of $40,000 were all endorsed personally by him and deposited in a personal account in a west side bank.

"There is no available record to show the nature of this account. Expenditures from the fund were accounted for by the former president in two letters on file, one dated March 27, 1931, and one dated Jan. 22, 1932, which direct the chief accountant to

PRESIDENT SAYS VETERAN FUND MUST NOT GROW

Talks to Conferees at White House.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—There will be a showdown in the senate tomorrow and the issue will be—Roosevelt economy plans or higher payments to veterans.

President Roosevelt held another conference tonight with the senate and house conferees who earlier in the evening had failed to agree on the veterans' payments.

Refuses Further Concessions.

At the conclusion of the White House conference, it was announced that the President had refused to make any further concessions to the veterans' lobby, that he had turned down proposals made by the veterans' advocates in the senate. Those proposals were contained in the Steiwer-Cutting amendment that would add $150,000,000 to the figures first allowed by the President. That would cost anywhere from 50 to 100 million dollars above what has been agreed to between the President and the house. The house compromise added about $80,000,000 to the President's figures.

Director Douglas of the budget who attended the White House parley asserted that the substitute being offered by the senate would cost an additional $100,000,000 over the house compromise.

Asked if this would require new taxation in order to balance the budget, he replied:

"I should think it would."

Mr. Douglas when asked earlier if he had agreed to the Cutting-Steiwer proposals, exclaimed, "Hell, no!"

Must Disclose Views.

At least those senators who have sat silent during the heat of the debate on veterans' payments will be forced to disclose on what side they will stand or fall. Senator J. S. Byrnes [Dem., S. C.] seemed of the opinion that the senate will not accept the house-Roosevelt agreement.

Attending the conference at the White House tonight were in addition to Senator Byrnes, Senator Richard Russell [Dem., Ga.], Representative James P. Buchanan [Dem., Tex.], Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [Dem., Va.], chairman of the house conferees on the independent offices bill, in which the veterans' payments are included, and Representative W. W. Hastings [Dem., Okla.]. All are members of the conference committees.

The Connally amendment, rejected by the house, would have limited the President in any reductions to veterans, whether their disabilities were service connected or not, to 25 per cent and would have added 170 millions to the Roosevelt schedule of payments.

Woodrum Expects Compromise.

Only one of the conferees at the White House, Representative Woodrum, showed an indication of a further compromise. He said he thought "some middle ground" would be found upon which a settlement could be reached.

During the conference of the house and senate committees this evening the house conferees refused to budge from the agreement they had approved after its acceptance by the President. This plan is estimated to add $80,000,000 to the original economy regulations.

The senate conferees had been enjoined by their colleagues from making any agreement on the house proposals without first seeking instructions from the senate and it is this action which will be sought tomorrow bringing the question at last to a definite vote.

Question Up Again Today.

Senator Byrnes when leaving the White House tonight said he will submit the deadlocked question tomorrow to a vote of the senators.

He would not predict the outcome. He said anything might happen, and some opinions were that the battle will wax warm and long, probably delaying the much hoped for adjournment of congress for days.

Vote on Works Bill Today.

During a long day in the senate the members fairly broiled under vehement and caustic debate over the veterans' provisions. But at the close the administration leaders gained a victory by proposing, at a psychological moment, an agreement to have a vote at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on the conference report on the industry control-public works bill.

The senate took no action today on either the industry control measure or the deficiency appropriation bill, holding up those important measures while

MASSACHUSETTS TO CAST VOTE TODAY ON REPEAL OF DRY LAW

Boston, Mass., June 12.—(AP)—The battle for retention or repeal of the 18th amendment swings into Massachusetts tomorrow when the Bay state will choose delegates to a constitutional convention for action on the repeal amendment.

Massachusetts will be the 11th state to vote on the amendment. In the other ten states the verdict has been for repeal and leaders of the anti-prohibition forces here were confident tonight that Massachusetts would join them by an overwhelming majority.

The states which have voted, all for repeal, are: Wyoming, Illinois, Indiana, New York, New Jersey, Michigan, Rhode Island, Delaware, Wisconsin and Nevada.

Forty-five delegates to the convention will be chosen, three from each of the 15 congressional districts. All candidates are pledged for or against repeal. Many communities will vote on the issuance of licenses for sale of beer.

Among the repeal candidates is James Roosevelt, son of the president.

PAIR TRAILING JEWELER FALL INTO POLICE TRAP

Two men were seized by police last evening after they had followed Harry Levinson from his loan bank and jewelry store at 739 North Clark street to his apartment at 4300 Lake Shore drive. In their car, which they later denied owning, police found two revolvers, rope, two pairs of smoked glasses, and an extra set of automobile license plates. Police said this is the type of equipment used in kidnapings.

The prisoners are Patrick Frayne, 32 years old, 9525 Commercial avenue, and Chester Eckert, 28, of 3304 Parnell avenue. They described themselves as labor organizers. They were captured by Detectives Philip O'Neill and Cornelius Monahan of the Chicago avenue station.

Last Saturday four men tried to force Levinson's automobile to the curb at Dearborn and Oak streets. He got away, but fearful for his safety, vacated his apartment at 40 East Oak street yesterday and moved to the Lake Shore drive address. He requested police protection on his way home last evening.

Detectives Monahan and O'Neill followed him. Another car containing Frayne and Eckert appeared and trailed Levinson's automobile. Levinson drove to 4300 Lake Shore drive. The policemen parked near by. Soon Frayne and Eckert appeared, parked their car, and peered into Levinson's machine. Then the policemen arrested them.

Justice Park Speed Racket Is Demolished

The speed trap of the village of Justice Park was smashed early this morning in the state's attorney's office at the Criminal courts building. Under fire of Assistant Prosecutor Wilbert F. Crowley, Albert Webster, village constable, and John C. Richards, clerk for Justice of the Peace Si Lindeman, quit their jobs. Justice Lindeman promised to mend his ways. In addition to his court duties the justice operates a saloon in the village.

The resignations and the promise came after Crowley had questioned village officials for six hours about the arrest of a Chicago motorist and his son. Charged with disorderly conduct by Webster after they protested their arrest on a charge of speeding, father and son were held from midnight Saturday until noon on Sunday in the single sun baked cell of the village jail until the father collapsed.

The investigation was ordered yesterday by State's Attorney Courtney when the prisoners, James Cropp, 50 years old, 4536 South Turner avenue, and his son, Stanley, 26 years old, a graduate student at Northwestern university, told him their story.

Admits Going to Party.

Justice Lindeman, who twice refused to free the Cropps on bond, confessed to Mr. Crowley during the questioning that he and Webster abandoned the prisoners in the jail to attend a party given by Village Marshal Robert McCall. Drinks were served at the party, Lindeman admitted. He left the party at 5 o'clock Sunday morning.

Webster said he left the party a half hour before the justice and went to a hotel "to sleep it off." He did not return to the village until late yesterday afternoon, when he was seized with Lindeman by Sergt. Richard Cotter of the state's attorney's office.

He said he was surprised to find on his return that the lock of the jail had been broken and his prisoners had departed. Later he learned that at noon on Sunday Village President Sam Audersch had forced the lock with a hammer and cold chisel to permit a physician to treat the elder Cropp for heat prostration.

Joe Huszar's Fate Recalled.

"You're a second 'Indian Joe' Huszar," Prosecutor Crowley told Webster. "You ought to profit by his example. He was sent to prison for running a speed trap and died there. How does that strike you?"

"I quit, I quit," Webster cried. "I'll go back to my old job as a night watchman. I'm through now."

Clerk Richards also blurted out his resignation. He was seized for questioning at the suggestion of Attorney Joseph Braun and James Bulger of the Chicago Motor club, representing the Cropps. They charged that Richards, a law student, sat beside Justice Lindeman in court and dictated his judgments. Both Richards and Lindeman denied this.

In addition to Lindeman, Webster, and Richards, Village Trustees Fred Krueger and Frank Jonek and Walter Clawson, caretaker of the Justice Park jail, also were questioned. Village Attorney Harold Jackson, who lives in Chicago at 6800 Sheridan road, accompanied the Justice Park officials to the state's attorney's office.

Justice Lindeman told Mr. Crowley that Webster was hired as constable a month ago at the suggestion of Attorney Jackson. The attorney also suggested Richards, formerly his law clerk, for the post of the justice's clerk, Lindeman said. Neither Richards nor Webster live in Justice Park. Their homes are in Chicago, Webster's at 6230 Kenwood avenue and Richards' at 2749 Haddon avenue.

"Village Needs the Money."

"The village needed money," Lindeman said. "I was there to see that the constable made $125 a month, the clerk $60, and that I got paid and some money went to the village."

Webster was one of the last to be questioned. He stammered when asked why he arrested the Cropps and finally admitted he had to average four arrests a day to make his salary.

Later Richards announced that he, too, was quitting. Justice Lindeman then hastily remarked that without a clerk and constable there would be no speeding cases and he would "be good."

The Cropps are scheduled to appear before Lindeman on the disorderly conduct and speeding charges this afternoon. The justice eagerly assured them that they will be discharged. The elder Cropp had previously indicated he would file civil suits against Lindeman and Webster.

$2,000,000 Endows Free Dental Clinic

A trust fund of more than $2,000,000 to establish and maintain a free dental dispensary for the needy is created by the will of the late W. G. Zoller, former vice president and treasurer of the Bell & Zoller Coal company. This was learned yesterday when the provisions of his will were made public.

Mr. Zoller, who was a bachelor, also left substantial trusts and direct bequests for an aunt and several nieces, nephews, grandnieces, and grandnephews. Charitable bequests aside from the main trust amounted to $67,500. The will also bequeathed $65,000 to business employés, and $66,000 to household servants.

The will, which has been placed in the hands of the law firm of Ryan, Condon & Livingston, discloses that Mr. Zoller's estate consists of approximately $2,500,000 in personal property and $100,000 in real estate. The six flat apartment building at 5120 Hyde Park boulevard, where Mr. Zoller lived and where he died on June 6, is the largest item of real estate.

U. of C. to Get Fund.

The $2,000,000 trust fund according to the terms of the will shall be turned over to the University of Chicago by the trustee of the estate, the First Union Trust and Savings bank. The fund shall be known as the Walter G. Zoller Memorial fund. The university shall use the income of the fund "for the purpose of equipping and maintaining dispensaries and laboratories and to supply competent and skillful dental service, including diagnostic aids to the needy and poor, free of charge, in such manner that the greatest number of people may secure skillful treatment to enable them to be relieved, and to prevent the numerous ills which result from neglect of the teeth."

Mr. Zoller explained in the will that the fund was created because "it has become quite generally recognized that a vast portion of ills of people is traceable to infections and diseases of the teeth and gums."

The trustee of the estate is directed to create a $40,000 trust fund for Mr. Zoller's aunt, Mrs. Sarah H. Franks, of Dayton, O., and four others of $150,000 each for Knight G. Zoller of Beverly Hills, Cal.; Mrs. Elsie Ogle of Pasadena, Cal.; Mrs. Beryle Knight of Akron, O., and Mrs. Rita Ford of Chicago. The four $150,000 trust funds will each be distributed in $10,000 installments to the beneficiaries on each anniversary of Mr. Zoller's death. The four beneficiaries are Mrs. Zoller's nieces and nephews.

Friends Are Remembered.

The will directs that $25,000 shall be paid to Edwin Scott Ford, husband of Mrs. Ford. It also bequeaths $15,000 to James H. Harper, "an old personal friend," and directs that G. Donald Cowin, Ora M. Gordon, and Paul Weir, friends who were associated for years with Mr. Zoller's coal interests, shall be given the opportunity to buy his stock in the coal company out of the earnings of the company of which the men are the principal executives.

Funds of $10,000 each also are to be put aside for Robert W. Ogle, George A. Ogle, and William C. Ogle, Mrs. Rita Comstock, and Suzanne B. Ford, Mary Edrita Ford, grandnieces and grandnephews. These bequests will be paid to them up their 21st birthdays.

Gifts of $10,000 each are made to the Chicago Foundlings' home, the Chicago Home for the Friendless, the Old People's Home of Chicago, the Central Free Dispensary of West Chicago, the Home for Destitute and Crippled Children, and the Little Sisters of the Poor. The Chicago Home for Incurables is given $5,000, and the Florence Crittenton Anchorage is given $2,500.

Bequests to Employés.

Gifts to "employés who rendered me faithful service" were: $1,000 each to G. Donald Cowin, Mrs. John W. Hunter, Ora M. Gordon, Stanley E. Decker. Louis H. Heinberg was given $5,000, and $1,000 each given to Edwin LeRoy Berger, Frank Howell, C. E. Olsen, William P. Forsythe, E. F. Dorband, C. W. Peterson, H. A. Kopp, George T. Uldrych, Chester Lewandowski, Frank J. Collins, Chester R. Smith.

The dental dispensary endowment consists of the residue of the estate after the other specific bequests are paid. The university already has a large group of endowed clinics and medical institutions, such as Billings Memorial hospital and the Lying-In hospital.

The will provided that all state and federal inheritance taxes shall be paid out of the general estate before bequests are made, thus assuring the beneficiaries the full amount of the bequests.

Attorney Thomas J. Condon said last evening that Mr. Zoller's estate was composed largely of government and municipal bonds. He said that the estate was extremely liquid and in exceptionally sound condition.

Mr. Zoller was 65 years old when he died. He had been prominent in the Illinois coal industry for more than 40 years.

LONDON, June 13 [Tuesday].—Prime Minister MacDonald's bold injection of the war debt issue into the proceedings of the world economic conference, which opened here yesterday, was followed by several sensational developments which resulted in a midnight session of the British cabinet.

The cabinet met to decide what policy to pursue—pay or default—when the $75,950,000 war debt installment to the United States falls due on Thursday. The best information early this morning is that it has not yet made up its mind.

What is looked on by the British as a critical situation was precipitated when the government was notified by Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to Washington, that President Roosevelt had rejected a British proposal to pay 10 per cent of the debt installment as a "token" in lieu of the full payment. President Roosevelt informed Sir Ronald that he would accept a part payment if no strings or conditions were tied to it, but he objects to the form which the British offer takes. He does not like the word "token."

Wants a Frank Statement.

The President's attitude is that if the British cannot pay any more than 10 per cent they ought to say so and not try to say they want to make a part payment because they want a revision of the debt.

The President, it was learned, will make public acknowledgment of whatever is paid if it is tendered as England's fullest ability to pay without being predicated upon a future revision of the debts. In his public acknowledgment Mr. Roosevelt will say that the payment—whatever sum is tendered—shows evidence of England's acceptance of the debt, and of her desire to avoid the stigma of default, but he will reiterate that until some change is allowed in the debt structure the United States considers that the full amounts in the contracts are due.

He will restate his policy that a creditor nation should always give a debtor nation a chance to be heard on its ability to pay, and that the way is always open for England to begin a plea for revision.

MacDonald Raises Issue.

The war debt issue was hurled into the economic conference by Premier MacDonald in his speech of welcome to the delegates. The premier spoke immediately following a short address of welcome to the delegates by King George. After outlining the ills of the world and the aims of the conference, the premier said that an immediate settlement of the debt question is necessary before obstacles to general recovery can be removed. That part of his speech in which he dealt with the debt issue follows:

"Behind the subjects I have just mentioned is another in the front rank of importance. It cannot be dealt with here because obviously this conference is not constituted in such a way as to enable it to consider and settle the matter. I refer to the question of the war debts, which must be dealt with before every obstacle to general recovery has been removed, and it must be taken up without delay by the nations concerned. Lausanne has to be completed and this vexed question settled once for all in the light of present world conditions."

(At the Lausanne conference German reparations were virtually eliminated by the former allies, who there- upon made a "gentlemen's agreement" that their action would not be effective unless the United States correspondingly scaled down the war debts.)

The members of the American delegation made little effort to conceal their displeasure with what they called the prime minister's "poor taste" in mentioning the debts after it had been agreed that they would not be included in the agenda of the conference.

The Americans regarded the speech as tantamount to serving notice on President Roosevelt that the war debtors will refuse to make economic peace unless the United States cancels the debts.

Although it had been understood that the British and other war debtors were going to pursue this policy in concurrent economic negotiations in London and debt reduction negotiations in Washington, the American delegates were not prepared for MacDonald's thrusting of the issue into the foreground of the conference.

A Last Minute Maneuver.

It was learned that the prime minister inserted the debt reference into his speech at the last moment, after the Americans had been given every reason to understand that it would not be mentioned.

"I have no comment to make," Secretary of State Cordell Hull, chairman of the American delegation, said when asked his reaction to the speech. "As for me, I am sticking by the agenda." Mr. Hull is scheduled to speak to the conference today.

"I thought it exceedingly inappropriate to bring any mention of debts into a speech of general welcome, inasmuch as it is a matter that is excluded from the agend of the conference," said Congressman Sam D. McReynolds, another member of the delegation.

Ralph W. Morrison of Texas significantly remarked that "except in a few spots it was a good speech."

Cabinet in Urgent Session.

The midnight cabinet meeting was a sudden development in the situation, in which the ministers hurried from a stiffly formal government banquet given in honor of the conference delegates to the foreign ministry.

The cabinet war debt committee had debated the problem repeatedly during the day. After a final adjournment of the committee Prime Minister MacDonald and a number of his colleagues hurried off to get into their soup and fish for the banquet. Apparently everything had been wound up for the day when a message was delivered to MacDonald in the banquet hall from Sir Ronald at Washington.

The communication was so weighty that word was passed along to the other cabinet members present. As soon as the last course was eaten all dashed off in automobiles for Downing street. There the full cabinet sat for more than a half hour.

Default Sentiment Grows.

Although reliable sources maintain that no final decision was taken, London was shaken by an avalanche of rumors.

One rumor was that the default faction, headed by Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, is increasing. Chamberlain's followers so far have included Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, and Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, secretary for colonies. Lord Hailsham, minister for war, was listed among the new recruits to the ranks of the defaulters.

A statement on what the government proposes to do is scheduled to be made in the house of commons today [Tuesday] by Chamberlain.

Hull Issues Statement.

Following the opening session of the conference yesterday, Mr. Hull hastened to the American headquarters and issued a public statement in which he ignored MacDonald's reference to the debts. The statement stressed those parts of King George's and the prime minister's addresses which, in Hull's opinion, made "it very evident that the British government shares the faith of the American government in the capacity of this conference to aid materially in the processes of economic restoration."

His thus recorded his view that the British government has been committed by the king and prime minister to a solution of the world economic problems in a conference from which the debt issue is officially excluded.

"Not only do I deem failure to be impossible," said Mr. Hull, "but I have definite and renewed confidence that action by this conference will point the way to a steady and not too distant improvement in the world's economic condition."

British Balk at Stabilization.

The defiant British attitude on the debt question cropped out earlier in the day at a conference of British, American and French financial experts at the British treasury. They discussed the problem of temporary stabilization of currencies.

The British representatives flatly asserted that Britain could not afford to stabilize the pound until the debt question was settled and the extent of American inflation is more fully comprehended.

Also, not the least important events of the day were developments indicating the eclipse at no distant date of Mr. Hull's ambitious plans for curing the economic ills of the world by generous doses of tariff reduction.

Seek to Head Money Committee.

Because of the failure of President Roosevelt to obtain tariff negotiation powers from congress, the American delegation has reached a tentative decision to ask for the chairmanship of the monetary commission of the conference instead of the chairmanship of the tariff commission. Both the French and the British are fighting this move.

According to members of the American delegation, the United States could not appropriately take the leadership of the tariff reduction work of the conference because, for want of definite powers to negotiate, the United States cannot go very far in this direction.

With Mr. Hull's ambitious tariff reduction program virtually on the rocks, it begins to look as if a tariff truce merely forbidding any further increases in import restrictions will be the maximum accomplishment of the conference on this head. Mr. Hull will press for an immediate extension of the present tariff truce to include all nations.

M'DONALD TELLS AIM OF PARLEY IN OPENING SPEECH

Warns Nations They Dare Not Fail to Agree.

LONDON, June 12.—(AP)—Following is the text of Prime Minister MacDonald's speech today as chairman of the world economic conference:

"On behalf of his majesty's government in the United Kingdom I offer you all a most hearty welcome to London. I hope your stay here will be pleasant, above everything else profitable in results, and that when you leave you will have carved the name of the London economic conference amongst those great international gatherings which have brought blessings to mankind.

"The purpose of our meeting is of the gravest importance. His majesty himself has opened the conference in a gracious speech which showed his keen appreciation of our work and his deep concern for our success, and I propose to offer him in your name an expression of our gratitude for the honor done to us and the interest he has taken in our objects.

Outlines Ills of World.

"Sixty-seven governments have been invited, ten which are not members of the league of nations, and the importance attached to our purpose is recognized by the fact that practically every government invited has accepted the invitation.

"There is greater authority gathered in this hall today than has perhaps ever been brought under one roof in the world's history.

"The economic life of the world has for years been suffering from a decline which has closed factories, limited employment, reduced standards of living, brought some states to the verge of bankruptcy, and inflicted upon others recurring budgets that cannot be balanced. The machinery of international commerce, upon which the vigor of the human life of the world and the prosperity of the nations depend, has been steadily slowed up.

Machinery Slowing Down.

"The markets are there. The labor to supply them is there. But the labor is not employed and the markets are not filled. When we had less efficient equipment for the making of wealth our national incomes were greater. All the machinery of prosperity is there but it is slowing down. It is not working.

"The briefest reference to the astounding facts will show the magnitude of the problems before us and at the same time direct our thoughts to the points of attack.

"Since 1929 prices have fallen and have kept well below the levels at which production can be remunerative. They have fallen irregularly, moreover, and have distorted the normal relationships upon which economic activity is pivoted. The fall in prices has added oppressively to the burden of the world's indebtedness. In 1932, compared with 1929, production of raw materials had fallen 30 per cent and exchange between town and country had been tragically limited.

30,000,000 Out of Jobs.

"National income has fallen seriously everywhere—in some countries by 40 and 50 per cent. The general crisis, accentuated by restrictions, by tariffs, quotas and exchange control, has reduced international trade between 1929 and 1932 to less than three-quarters in volume, exchanging at about half price.

"The gold standard has had to be deserted more generally than has been the case in time of peace since it was erected into the international measure of exchange and inevitably, irrespective of fiscal policies and of forms of governments, unemployment has mounted up until the world figure, issued by the international labor office, has reached 30,000,000.

Warns Against Revolution.

"This cannot go on. The world is being driven upon a state of things which may well bring it face to face once again—for it has happened on scales of varying extent before now—with a time in which life revolts against hardship, and the gains of the past are swept away by the forces of despair.

"In this drama of deterioration governments and state policy have played an important part.

"Behind the subjects I have just mentioned is another in the front rank of importance. It canot be dealt with here because obviously this conference is not constituted in such a way as to enable it to consider and settle the matter. I refer to the question of the war debts, which must be dealt with before every obstacle to general recovery has been removed, and it must be taken up without delay by the nations concerned. Lausanne has to be completed and this vexed question settled once for all in the light of present world conditions.

"If the world is left to right itself without international effort and international agreement, how long is the process of recovery to be? How dark are the depths of misery and the unsettlements which have still to be gone through?

Coöperation Way to Recovery.

"No one who has surveyed the facts and watched their progress can doubt for a moment that the experiences of the last few years have proved that a purely national economic policy in this modern world is one which, by impoverishing other nations, impoverishes those who pursue it. No nation can permanently enrich itself at the expense of others. Mutual enrichment is a condition of individual enrichment.

"Nationalism in the sphere of politics may be essential to human freedom. Self-sufficient nationalism in economics is the death knell of advancing prosperity.

"The nearer we can make the world an economic unit the better will it be for each nation. In any event, international coöperation is our best way to national recovery, and the nation which looks after itself in an international frame of mind will not only lead the world in enlightenment but in well-being.

"We are here, therefore, to pursue the better course of international agreement.

"The council of the league, on the advice of the Lausanne conference, appointed a very able and most representative body of experts to report upon an agenda for our business, and it is before you and will be made the basis for your deliberations.

"The heartiest thanks of this conference are due to those experts for the work and the ability they have embodied in this report.

"The agenda deals only with government policy in relation to recovery, and no one must think of it as being a complete program. We do not profess to touch upon internal machinery and the transaction of business; for instance, hours of labor and rates of wages in relation to production, the destructive effect of speculation and gambling on recovering national credit, or the part played by the middleman in his different activities upon the lowering of wholesale prices.

Expresses Thanks to League.

"We are concentrating on what primarily belongs to the responsibilities of governments as to common action. When we have done our part the various governments must face their own problems of internal industrial policy in coöperation, where that is possible or necessary, with the international labor office.

"My thanks are due to the league of nations for the honor they have done me by inviting me to preside over the conference. I have accepted the invitation knowing full well how formidable is the work, but relying on the trust and coöperation of the whole body of delegates and upon the invaluable experience and help of Joseph Avenol, head of the league secretariat, and his staff from Geneva.

"Mr. Avenol we greet for the first time since his appointment as secretary general of the league. He will shortly be taking up his duties and we wish him many years of high endeavor successfully accomplished.

"I am sure that we are all aware of the heavy responsibilities which are upon us and that we have met determined to make the conference a success. The fate of generations may well depend upon the courage, sincerity and width of view which we are to show during the next few weeks.

Warns of Piecemeal Measures.

"As the experts have reminded us: 'It will not in our judgment be possible to make substantial progress by piecemeal measures; a policy of nibbling will not solve this crisis.'

"Have we come to deliberate and to decide as though our respective nations were isolated units in the world? Then we shall fail and the world which looks upon us today with expectations will have to drain a bitter cup of disappointment.

"Have we come knowing that the permanent good of each is dependent upon the permanent good of all, and determined to coöperate in coming to agreements which will make a renewal of prosperity possible? Then we shall succeed, and expectations of the world will be justified.

"We must not fail. The men who succeed must face their work in the spirit of conquerors. We give to the world as the note of our first meeting that we are determined to succeed.

"Nor can we delay. Rapidity of agreement is essential to success. Let the world know that we can show decision and give leadership.

"Our program is intricate and raises subjects upon which we hold views hitherto unreconciled. And yet the needs of the day are so pressing, the experiences of these years have been so illuminating and so tragic, that surely we must approach our work with fresh and flexible minds.

"The facts of our time have answered many of the stiffest theories and dogmas of the past. Statesmanship today will be judged by what it devises to dispel the stern realities of the present and to anticipate the requirements of the future.

Asks Concrete Proposals.

"I think that I express the wishes of the great body of delegates when I say that we have not come to discuss mere economic theories and generalities but to make practical proposals to meet urgent necessities. I should therefore invite each delegation to submit its proposals in terms that are definite, so that we may enter without loss of time into an examination of what can be translated into action and begin deliberations on what each of us can do in coöperation with the others either for the emergency or for more permanent purposes.

"Let this London conference put new heart and new confidence into the world and let it mark the end of the years of uncertainties and of policies which have brought this distress upon us all.

"Let us see to it that before we disperse we shall have revived hope and energy and opportunity. For those the world waits, and it is in our power to provide them."

Text of King's Speech to Parley

CONFERENCE HALL, LONDON, June 12.—(AP)—Following is the full text of the speech of King George today opening the world economic conference:

"Gentlemen, at this time of widespread economic stress it is with a feeling of deep responsibility that I welcome you to this country.

"I believe this to be the first time in history that any sovereign has presided at the opening of a conference of all the nations of the world. I wish to express my satisfaction that such a gathering has been possible and my confidence that this common endeavor will lead to beneficial results.

"I welcome the representatives of the states, members of the league of nations. I have always followed the work of the league with keenest appreciation and interest. The league has convened this conference and has prepared the way for it through the valuable services of the expert committee.

"Without the league and without the ideals of the league I doubt whether this great meeting could ever have taken place.

"I welcome no less cordially the representatives of those state which are not members of the league. I recognize the spirit of helpful coöperation which has brought them to join in these discussions. I further wish to add a special welcome to the representatives of my dominions and of my Indian empire."

At this point the king addressed the delegates in French. A translation of his words follows:

"It is with very profound emotion that I see around me this august assembly, which seems so vast but which represents an infinitely vaster conception, the hope and wishes of the entire world. The world is in an unquiet state, and for you gentlemen who from today begin the work of restoration, the task is heavy. It will not be achieved except through good will and sincere coöperation.

"Messieurs les delegues, I extend my hand to you and with all my heart I wish that your efforts will be brought to a happy result, which the peoples of the world await with impatience."

The king then returned to English.

"I fully recognize the magnitude of the tasks of this conference, but there is evidence of a real desire to reach agreement which gives me hope. All nations are suffering from a common ill. This is shown only too clearly by the rise in the figures of unemployment. The meaning of these figures in terms of human suffering has been my constant concern in recent years, as it has been the concern of every one of you here today upon whom the responsibility of government has rested.

"In the face of a crisis which all realize and acknowledge, I appeal to you all to coöperate for the sake of the ultimate good of the whole world. It cannot be beyond the powers of man so to use the vast resources of the world as to insure the material progress of civilization. No diminution in those resources has taken place.

"On the contrary, discovery, invention and organization have multiplied their possibilities to such an extent that abundance of production has itself created new problems. And, together with this amazing material progress, there has come a new recognition of the interdependence of nations and of the value of collaboration between them. Now is the opportunity to harness this new consciousness of common interest to the service of mankind.

"In the firm belief that mutual consultation is the first step towards right action, I inaugurate this conference. I shall follow your deliberations with the closest interest and attention and I pray that the results of your labors will set the world once more on the path of prosperity and ordered progress."

[Copyright; 1933: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, June 12.—The prospects for a world agreement to restrict wheat production do not look bright on this first day of the world economic conference. European grain countries have declared in advance their willingness to reduce their output and they believe the first step in this direction should be taken by overseas producers. Members of the Canadian and Australian delegation today showed no enthusiasm for taking the first step.

AMERICANS LOCK HURT FEELINGS IN STIFF SHIRTS

Roar 'The King!' in Toast at Huge Banquet.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 12.—The social life of the world economic conference got under way tonight when delegates of the 66 countries represented, after a day spent in contemplating bilateral and general mayhem, locked their wounded feelings in starched shirts and for the time being became loyal subjects of King George.

It was a banquet at Grosvenor house offered by his majesty's government to permit the delegates to relax and get acquainted with the local aristocracy.

During the day there had been a certain amount of ill feeling among the delegates. Cordell Hull, American secretary of state, was peeved at Prime Minister MacDonald's reference to war debts in his opening speech. The British were furious over the continued decline of the dollar. The French now are certain they have fallen into a nest of bandits and have been practicing sticking out their chins all day under the direction of Premier Daladier.

An Ominous Opening.

Delegates of the small nations are blue in the face because the British don't appreciate their eloquence. Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the German Reichsbank, endeared himself to everybody by remarking to newspaper men:

In general it was agreed that no world conference ever had a more ominous opening.

But this didn't spoil the dinner party and when MacDonald, who presided, raised his glass with the ritual, "My lords, ladies and gentlemen, I give you the loyal toast to his majesty the king," all delegates raised their glasses and thundered, "The king!" Even Comrade Maxim Litvinov, Russian foreign minister, who was sitting at the table of honor, beamed and responded with the rest, "De kink!"

600 at Banquet Table.

The banquet was what you might call an intimate affair—a mere 600 were invited. The ladies wore their costliest jewels and diplomats and nobles were ablaze with decorations. A delegate with only one star pinned over his diaphragm hardly rated.

Only the Americans—and Comrade Litvinov—upheld democratic tradition by appearing with unadorned shirt fronts.

The dinner included such delicacies as iced melon, Indian turtle cooked in sherry, timbale de sole Americaine, saddle of lamb in aspic, "chartreuse de primeurs," green asparagus tips, delice de Surrey potatoes, olivette salad, iced strawberries and raspberries and Javanese parfait. This was washed down with Amontillado Chateau Gruaud Larose, 1920; Roederer, 1920; Graham, 1912, and Otard Dupuy, 1865, liqueurs.

Program of Toasts.

The assembled colonials and repentant ex-colonials were hushed into appropriate solemnity by a professional toastmaster, basking in a brilliant uniform at a table behind the chairman, with an ivory gavel. After running through the list of graces, excellencies, lords and other titles, according to precedence, he uttered the ritual formula, "Pray silence for grace." Impressed by the unfamiliar splendor of the ceremonial which Americans have not been able to enjoy since 1776, Hull and other guests responded loyally.

Secretary Hull Talks.

Secretary Hull, in a speech, paid tribute to the "appropriate, sound and effective" statement of the purposes of the economic conference in the king's speech, saying "I was thrilled this afternoon by the trenchant address of his majesty, the king." He was contented with expressing admiration for the "firmness" with which MacDonald presided.

When the banquet was over everybody was in good humor and agreed that the little unpleasantnesses which had arisen over the clashes of national interest were all in fun and that the British hosts clearly showed they bore no grudge against the American guests for their unseemly reaction to the prime minister's speech.

Whatever this conference accomplishes or fails to accomplish in the way of relieving unemployment, bankruptcy, and economic misery, it is a social success and the silk hat trade already has shown the beneficial effect of it.

MILLINER ROBBED OF $50.

A gunman obtained $50 yesterday in a robbery of a Barnett millinery store at 103 West Jackson street, after forcing Miss Bessie Hall, 4875 Magnolia avenue, the manager, to lie on the floor.

Russia Ridicules World Parley

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

MOSCOW, June 12.—The newspapers Izvestia and Pravda both devote their leading editorials today to the London economic conference. The Pravda asserts that world capitalism is trying simultaneously to raise prices by inflationary methods and to achieve currency stabilization. These goals are held to be contradictory, or, as the Pravda puts it, an "attempt to square the circle."

The Izvestia publishes tabulations showing that industrial production in the capitalist world—taking 1928 as 100—fell to 67 in 1932, whereas in the soviet union such production reached 218.5. Moreover, it asserts that the soviet union has now reached first place in the world production of agricultural machines, tractors, and peat and second place in the output of pig iron, in general machine construction, and in oil and all industrial production. In all these fields the soviet union is first for Europe, Izvestia asserted.

The Izvestia holds that the measures of control being introduced in the United States cannot remedy the "fatal disorder" from which capitalism suffers.

LABOR PARLEY SPLIT ON 40 HOUR WEEK PROPOSAL

GENEVA, June 12.—(AP)—The international labor conference was divided today on the practicability of the forty hour week.

The governments of France, Italy, Belgium, Spain, Sweden, and Portugal favored its adoption, but postponement of the question was advocated by Great Britain, Japan, Germany, and Norway.

All the workers' delegates were for the proposal. Employers' representatives were generally against it on the ground that it would mean an increase in the cost of production without a compensating decrease in wages. A. R. Goldie of Canada said the forty hour week would not diminish unemployment in his country.

France Acts to Boost Fruit Import Duties Still Higher

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, June 12.—A bill has been introduced in the chamber of deputies to place fruit imports under a so-called padlock law permitting the government to increase duties by decrees pending approval by parliament, it was learned today. Like the two measures introduced Saturday this also is a step toward still higher protectionism. If passed it will seriously affect American exports of pears and apples to France.

MUSSOLINI HOLDS DEBTS SESSION; DELAYS REPORT

ROME, June 13 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Premier Mussolini discussed the question of paying the debt instalment due the United States Thursday at a midnight session of the grand council of Fascism. But their decision was not made public. A communique issued early today after the adjournment said the decision had been reached and "will be made public at an opportune moment."

The last government pronouncement on the financial obligation to the United States was made in Finance Minister Guido Jung's report to the senate in May on the budget. Italy's inability to pay was asserted at that time and it was declared that economic conditions make necessary an 80 per cent reduction to the allied countries indebted to the United States.

The remainder of the midnight meeting was occupied with a general discussion of national and international affairs. The duce was congratulated on the acceptance of his four-power peace pact by the other participating nations, Great Britain, France and Germany.

SOUTHERN CHINA REJECTS TRUCE WITH JAPANESE

HONGKONG, China, June 12.—(AP)—In a statement addressed to the league of nations, the soviet government, and the signatories of the nine power pact the Southwest Political council today condemned China's truce with Japan as a pact of surrender which the Nanking régime can implement only by precipitating a civil war.

The council said it will not recognize the armistice by which Japanese forces recently withdrew from the Peiping area on condition that Chinese military activities cease in the north.

The statement said the council would be compelled to take steps to safeguard the honor and vital interests of China as a nation determined not to be conquered.

LONDON, June 12.—The Polish view of the world economic situation, as presented privately today by Poland's delegates to the conference, is that the most urgent task is stabilization of the pound and dollar, even if only on a provisional basis. Poland is one of the few countries remaining on the gold standard. Polish delegates are economic and financial experts, politicians being excluded.

WORLD PARLEY IS OPENED BY KING GEORGE

MacDonald Addresses 168 Delegates.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 12.—In the presence of 168 delegates representing 66 sovereign nations and including 11 premiers and more than 65 ministers, King George V., by the grace of God seven kings in one, today opened the greatest international gathering ever assembled. It has been labeled the world economic conference.

The inaugural ceremony took place in the beautiful white, green, and gold hall of the new Kensington Geological museum. Only last night the museum contained a heap of lime and rubbish and laborers were working desperately to get it ready in time.

To the credit of the board of works, the government department which had the job of preparing for the conference under the direction of the league of nations, everything was in shipshape and not a speck of dust was seen anywhere as the delegates sat down.

The odor of fresh paint was predominant. There was some confusion as the delegates and a few other hundred invited guests hunted their places. Delegates able to find seats were crowded together in straight chairs behind green desks. Many were forced to stand.

Only half a dozen of the American delegates and experts were able to sit down. The Americans were grouped in the sixth row. A few sat in arm chairs at a long benchlike desk, reminiscent of school days.

Sit Next to Ethiopians.

Under the seating order, according to the French alphabet, the United States-Etats Unis—was between Estonia and Ethiopia. Just behind Sam D. McReynolds of Tennessee sat dark-skinned little S. E. Bajirond Tekla Hawariet of Ethiopia.

White men, black men, and yellow men, Christians, Moslems, and Buddhists were gathered together. Delegates of the western nations, including the Americans, came clad in black morning attire. Their somber dress was in striking contrast to such costumes as the golden robes and gold, black and white hairdresses of the delegates from Hedjaz.

Only a few women were in the audience. Mrs. Cordell Hull, wife of the secretary of state, was the only American woman honored by admission.

Smokes Big Black Cigar.

Each desk contained a sign, "Do not smoke!"—both in French and English. Ralph W. Morrison, American delegate and retired Texas banker, apparently did not see the signs. He sat smoking a big cigar. Two American delegates were absent—Senator Key Pittman, who was ill, and Senator James Couzens, who had not arrived.

Outside of the museum, thousands of spectators stood an hour before the opening to watch the celebrities as they entered. Police kept the entrance clear. Flowers, programs, and paper streamers were hawked by street vendors.

MacDonald Follows King.

He was closely followed by Prime Minister MacDonald, son of humble Scottish fisher folk, who has risen to the highest post in the land. He looked like some Old Testament prophet with his rugged features and his snow white hair. Then came Joseph Avenol, appearing for the first time as secretary general of the league of nations, and Sir Clive Wigram, equerry to the king.

It is no disparagement of the king to say that the speech was not distinguished. By the nature of things all king's speeches must be so. He welcomed the delegates, spoke of the gravity of the international situation, expressed firm belief in the success of the conference and invoked the blessing of God on its labors. The only innovation was that in the middle of his speech he broke into French and spoke a few sentences in what passed for that language.

Doubtless it was understood by French speakers at least as well as his English. French and English, it should be said, are twin official languages of the league and therefore of the conference. Every speech made in one must be translated into the other, and if any one wants to speak in any other language he must provide his own translator to one of the official tongues.

When the king's speech had been translated MacDonald and Avenol escorted the ruler from the premises. Then MacDonald made his speech of welcome, which, while carefully guarded, contained some significant passages.

The prime minister discussed the parlous economic situation in the world. He pointed out that production of raw materials has fallen 30 per cent in 1932 as compared with 1929, while in some countries the national income has dropped 40 to 50 per cent and world unemployment has reached 30,000,000 persons.

Warns of Danger.

"This can't go on," he said in solemn tones. "The world is being driven on to a state of things which may well bring it face to face with a time in which life revolts against hardship and the gains of the past are swept away by the forces of despair."

Perhaps the most important of all his utterances, however, was when he raised the specter of war debts. The prime minister's words—"they must be settled once and for all"—drew a murmur of applause from the delegates who had listened to the king in silence. Another point at which there was a murmur of approval was when MacDonald attacked economic nationalism and declared that the nation adopting a purely national economic policy would impoverish itself as well as the rest of the world.

He wound up with a plea for speed, emphasizing that the situation in the world is critical and brooked no delay.

Delegates Hunt Bar.

At the end of his speech there was a long delay while it was translated into French. During the translation most of the delegates went in search of the new bar in which drinks of every nation are served by barmaids who speak every known language.

When they came back MacDonald announced the membership of the committee on credentials. This took only a minute. The conference then adjourned while this committee did its job. This occupied nearly three-quarters of an hour. Then it was discovered that all the delegates had valid credentials signed by somebody from kings down through presidents, chiefs of state, foreign ministers and even ambassadors, but the powers granted varied widely.

Some had plenary powers to conclude treaties or to do anything which might seem of advantage to the world and particularly to the nations they represented. Still others were not very clear as to what they could do.

MacDonald requested the latter to cable home and have their powers defined.

When that was settled, MacDonald announced the composition of the bureau or the permanent committee of the conference. This steering committee consists of one delegate each from Argentina, China, Czechoslovakia, France, Germany, Britain, Hungary, Italy, Japan, Mexico, the Netherlands, Spain, Sweden, the United States, Russia and Canada.

The bureau was called to meet at once and the conference adjourned until tomorrow morning, when the struggle will begin to keep the speeches within bounds.

The bureau decided to limit speeches to 15 minutes and to start the daily sessions at 10:30 in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, with lunch recess at 12:45 p. m. and dinner recess at 6 o'clock.

The little nations, however, argue they have things to say which will take hours and they are determined to assert their inalienable right to talk in meeting.

ROOSEVELT TO CROSS CANADIAN BORDER ON HIS VACATION TRIP

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt will be about a quarter mile over the Canadian border for a day and a night when he stops at his mother's home at Camp Bello island at the end of his Atlantic cruise, but he will be setting no precedent in this.

President Harding stopped in Canada to speak at Vancouver during his Alaskan trip. President Wilson went to Europe for the world war peace conference.

In both instances the Presidents retained their full power of office.

AIRSHIP MACON BUCKS WIND ON WAY TO CHICAGO

Akron, O., June 12.—(AP)—The giant dirigible Macon bucked against gusty winds from the north tonight shortly after ascending from her airdock here on an intended 48 hour test flight.

With 90 persons aboard the big ship sped onward into the night despite the erratic winds, following a course generally westward. Capt. Alger H. Dresel planned to spend much of the night and part of tomorrow in the vicinity of the lower great lakes and to sail over A Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago tomorrow afternoon.

The exact route of the Macon's course was left indefinite at the time of departure and was dependent largely upon weather developments. The ship first approached Cleveland, later was seen over Lorain, O., along the Lake Erie shore.

Among those aboard the Macon besides Capt. Dresel were Commander S. L. Kraus and Lieut. W. E. Zimmerman of the naval board of inspection, both riding as passengers. Several engineers of the Goodyear-Zeppelin corporation, the builders, also were in the ship.

The Macon was making her flight as part of a series of test cruises to determine whether she will be accepted by the navy.

Macon over Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., June 12.—(AP)—The dirigible Macon was sighted from the Wayne county airport tonight at 10:50 o'clock. The ship was traveling west and slightly south, in the general direction of Chicago.

The theft of two stars from her automobile was reported to police yesterday by Miss Betty Offield, granddaughter of the late William Wrigley Jr. and daughter of Attorney James R. The other, a gold diamond studded emblem, was a present from the Los Angeles motorcycle police corps of Los Angeles county, California.

PARIS THREATENS TO BOLT PARLEY; FIGHTS U.S. PLANS

Insists on Stabilization of Dollar and Pound.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 12.—Dismayed by the further depreciation of the dollar today, the French delegation to the world economic conference is determined to block the hopes of the United States to the chairmanship of the vital monetary committee of the conference. The French, it was authoritatively said, intend to try to win this key position for themselves.

It was reported in French circles tonight that the British have agreed to support the French candidacy. It is the French sentiment that the United States' monetary policy disqualifies her from assuming a leading position in the monetary activities of the conference.

British Also Fight U. S.

The British are also bitterly opposed to seeing an American elected chairman of one of the conference's two chief committees, and since the United States will not support the British candidate they are said to have decided to support the French thesis in the hope of exerting combined pressure on the United States to stabilize the dollar.

In three-way financial conversations going on at the Bank of England between representatives of the Federal Reserve bank, the Bank of England and the Bank of France, the French are trying to assume the rôle of arbiter between the two Anglo-Saxon countries. Naturally, however, they are joining with the British in exerting pressure on the American representatives to agree on immediate stabilization.

In French eyes, the success or failure of the conference hinges on the result of these conversations. France's spokesmen have already made it clear that the conference can expect no cooperation from them unless a de facto stabilization agreement is reached.

French Spurn Tariff Truce.

The French premier, Edouard Daladier, also said tonight that France will refuse to accept the tariff truce proposed by the United States until America and Great Britain stabilize their currencies.

"We must have a yardstick to measure with," he said. "It is useless to go on here until the British and the Americans take the first step."

The new decline of the dollar, which fluctuated widely throughout the day, is considered in French quarters to have precipitated a crisis that has been brewing for a long time and in that sense may have aided in the final solution. Unless this solution comes in the next few days, the French say they will consider the conference finished and will cease to take any interest in it thereafter.

Beer Price Quiz Resumed; Accountant Still Figuring

The legislative committee which is investigating the price of beer resumed its hearings yesterday in the city hall and received a report from its accountant, Joseph B. Costello, that he hopes to have determined the cost of production of a barrel of beer within a few days. Costello reported that he had been hampered in his investigation by the fact that books of a number of breweries which he visited were not up to date.

BOY JUMPS FROM TRESTLE AS TRAIN NEARS; DROWNED

Two small boys were drowned in Chicago yesterday and a youth lost his life from the same cause on Sunday.

Robert Matuskiewicz, 7 years old, 3048 West 26th street, leaped from a railroad trestle into the drainage canal near Kedzie avenue last evening. The water closed over him and he failed to rise. With his father, Casimir, and his brother Charles, the boy had gone to the canal to gather driftwood. The boys climbed onto the trestle while the father was working. The approach of an Illinois Central train compelled them to jump. Charles landed on the bank, but Robert misjudged his distance and struck the water.

Charles Chlum, 6 years old, 1934 South Union avenue, was drowned when he fell into the south branch of the Chicago river near Halsted street. He was playing with a companion when he slipped down a steep bank into the water.

Tthe third drowning was that of Frank Kospecki, 19 years old, 2713 South Troy street. He was in a canoe which overturned Sunday afternoon in Maple lake, in the forest preserve near 95th street and Archer avenue. He attempted to swim ashore, but was apparently seized by cramps and sank. Mrs. Helen Vrvanek, 2742 South Troy street, and Edward Sweatlowski, 2809 South Troy street, were also in the canoe. They saved themselves by swimming to shore.

THEFTS MENACE AUTO INDUSTRY, JOHNSON SAYS

Former United States Attorney George E. Q. Johnson was the principal speaker last night at the 28th annual meeting and banquet of the Chicago Automobile Trade association in the grand ballroom of the Drake hotel.

Mr. Johnson declared that the great menace to the automobile industry today is the automobile and accessory thief. The activities of these criminals are causing insurance rates to rise so high that the automobile business is being injured, he said.

The older gangsters are now training boys in the theft of automobiles and their accessories, Mr. Johnson declared, because the courts are inclined to be merciful towards young offenders who are arrested. The eradication of "fences" who buy automobile accessories is necessary if the widespread thievery of such ornaments is to be stopped, he asserted.

CHICAGO 11 TO 1 FOR DRY REPEAL, COUNT REVEALS

Chicago and the suburbs under the jurisdiction of the board of election commissioners voted more than 11 to 1 in favor of prohibition repeal, it was disclosed yesterday when the election commissioners certified the returns in the June 5 election to County Clerk Sweitzer.

P. A. Nash, first on the slate of convention delegates pledged to repeal, received 632,284 votes, while Henry W. Austin, high man among the dry candidates, got 54,606. Judge Daniel P. Trude was high man in the city vote on the slate of twenty victorious candidates for the Circuit court. He got 494,702 votes.

Complete returns for Cook county will not be available until late this week, when Clerk Sweitzer finishes the canvass in the country town precincts under his jurisdiction. He has only one team at work on the canvass, which so far has covered only 40 precincts.

WITNESSES TELL SWIFT TRAGEDY OF PLANE CRASH

Two of Nine Victims Are Still Unidentified.

How the big Sikorsky amphibion carrying World's Fair sightseers began to crack to pieces in midair Sunday and crashed in a field to burst into flames and incinerate its seven passengers and its crew of two was vividly told at an inquest which was opened yesterday in the Glenview village hall.

A policeman, a tree surgeon, a housewife, and a couple of small boys were the lay witnesses selected from the hundreds who saw the worst heavier than air disaster in Chicago's history to tell a coroner's jury what they saw. The jury consisted of five transport pilots and an automobile salesman, with Capt. Homer Berry, war airman and commercial flyer, as foreman.

Jury Reaches an Opinion.

Following the testimony of the lay witnesses and of an official of the concern operating the plane, the consensus among the jury was that the pilot had made a natural but terrible error when, after the plane had been damaged in an attempted landing on the choppy lake waters at the 31st street ramp of the Fair grounds, he chose to take off for an airport near Glenview instead of settling his crippled ship on the water.

The evidence indicated that the shock of the attempted landing on the lake had weakened, and perhaps broken, the vital framework of the plane. The pilot was Carl V. Vickery, 36 years old, 7658 Marquette avenue, a war flyer with 6,000 flying hours to his credit.

While the inquest was adjourned last night and no formal verdict will be given until after further testimony has been heard Thursday, Capt. Berry and his fellow experts on the jury indicated that the cause of the crash was already clear to them.

Tragic Error, Berry Says.

"Vickery was a marvelous pilot," Capt. Berry said, "but it is evident that he made a tragic error. It seems clear that, having settled on the lake at the ramp, he should have remained there, regardless of the choppy waves. It is easy to have hind sight, though. Perhaps any one might have made the same mistake."

Before the opening of the inquest at 1:30 p. m. Capt. Berry and the other jurors viewed the nine seared and broken bodies in Haupt's undertaking rooms in Glenview. With Berry on the jury were Walter Daiber, William Pinney, C. R. K. Johnston, and J. E. Roth, all commercial pilots, and Roy D. Danielson, Glenview automobile salesman.

Two Bodies Unidentified.

Two of the bodies taken from the wreckage of the plane after it crashed and burned in Glenview remained unidentified last night. One was that of a man about 45 years old, 5 feet 1 inch tall, weighing about 170 pounds, who carried $32 cash and the return stub of a Greyhound bus ticket issued at Buffalo, N. Y. The other body was that of a youth between 18 and 21 years old, about 4 feet 11 inches tall, weighing 110 pounds, and with no personal effects to aid identification.

The six victims positively identified, besides Vickery, were:

HARRINGTON JACOBS, 32 years old, of Wheeling, an airplane mechanic who was co-pilot on the flight.

EDWARD G. SCHALLER, 22 years old, a student at the University of Chicago. He was a son of George J. Schaller of Storm Lake, Ia., who is a director of the Federal Reserve bank in Chicago.

JOSEPH G. ROBINSON, 21 years old, a student at Washington and Lee university. He was a son of Herman Robinson, an insurance official in New York City, and was a classmate of young Schaller at Culver Military academy.

MRS. IDA GOODWIN, 45 years old, dietitian in a private school on Long Island, N. Y.

Crowd Jams Inquest Room.

Spectators who jammed the auditorium of the Glenview village hall shuddered as the witnesses told their stories of the plane breaking to pieces overhead, of its tail spinning crash, and of the screams of the trapped passengers as its fuel tanks burst and shrouded them in flames.

The first witness sworn was George Kilroy, Glenview motorcycle policeman. The oath was administered by Deputy Coroner S. F. Vyzard, "flying deputy" of the coroner's staff, who, with Chief Deputy Stephen Kolanowski and Maj. Herman Woetjen of the coroner's staff, jointly conducted the inquest.

"I was cruising along Waukegan road on the Glenview outskirts when I saw the plane overhead," Policeman Kilroy testified. "I don't know anything about flying and all I can say is it looked like she was going down fast. I saw a glitter like a piece of something falling away from the plane. It might have been a pontoon. I started towards the spot on my bike, then saw a burst of flames. I stopped to call the fire department."

The Wing Flapping Loose.

Capt. Berry interrupted to ask whether the witness saw the wing break off and whether the motors were still running as the ship fell. The witness pondered for a moment.

"I couldn't say the wing was entirely detached," he said. "It just seemed to be flapping loose. I heard a terrible noise in the air, but couldn't tell whether it was the motors or the loose parts thrumming in the wind."

Bery Clavery, Glenview tree surgeon, was called next. Clavery, a tanned young man with a sharp pair of eyes, seemed to have a clear recollection of all he had seen.

"The ship seemed to be about 800 feet up when I glanced at her," he recalled. "I said to myself: 'Gee, she's flying swell'. Just as I said it, the ship nosed up and the pilot seemed to set it on its tail. I said to my father: 'What's he trying to do, stunt the ship?'

Plane Begins to Spin.

"Then the top of the right wing dipped down and the ship began to spin. The pilot gunned the motor and that brought her up. He held the ship up swell and I thought he was going to land her safely until he was about 25 feet off the ground. She hit ground on a slant and the wing caught in the earth, nosing her over. Then came the flames and I ran across the field to find myself looking at the overturned cabin, with the shoulder of a man pinned under.

"There was a big pop and the flames spread from wing to wing. I could hear screaming, but couldn't do anything."

Mrs. Rose L. Honold, Glenview housewife, on whose land the plane fell, remembered hearing "a terrible noise" and seeing "a wildly spinning plane."

"All I could see was that it was coming down fast," she testified. "When it hit, I ran towards it. I was thinking of the people in the cabin. When I got halfway, I could hear the screaming. There was no fire then, but soon the flames burst and I could still hear the screaming. Then there was silence, and I decided not to go any further."

Boy's Story of Wreck.

Jerome Slonsen, 13 years old, 804 Nora avenue, Highland Park, and Billy White, 15 years old, 804 Waukegan road, Glenview, saw the disaster from the same point, about 500 feet from the spot where the plane struck. Young White, who seemed familiar with aeronautical terms, told the story of the flapping wing and broken pontoon.

"When I first noticed the ship, the engines were roaring like in a power dive," he said. "I looked up and saw the plane slanting down. She was gliding pretty fast. Then the pontoon fell. After the crash I ran over to the fire and saw the pontoon lying about 15 feet away from the rest of the wreck. There were two holes punched in the upper side, where it tore away from the fitting. The toe of the pontoon was also caved in, but the spot was clean, as if it had caved when hitting the water, instead of the earth."

Duncan Hodges, general manager of Pal-waukee airport and treasurer of the sight-seeing air service, related the incident of the lake front landing which the jury believes caused the fatal weakness of the ship.

Hodges explained that his company has leased the plane, known as the Northern Light, from the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, and had her overhauled at the Sikorsky plant at Bridgeport, Conn., on April 28, three days before her last inspection by the federal department of commerce.

"On Sunday Vickery had been taking up a load every half hour since noon," Hodges said. "He and another pilot were alternating on the trips. On the trip before Vickery's last, I noticed the water getting choppy and asked him if he thought it would interfere. He was a pilot of vastly more experience than I, and I deferred to his judgment. He said he would try once more and see how the ship acted."

Describes Accident on Lake.

On the fatal flight, Hodges explained, the plane took off into a brisk northerly breeze. While the plane was aloft, the breeze died, leaving the air in a dead calm, a fact which Hodges said he had verified by observing the limp sails of a yacht off shore. Meanwhile, however, the lake continued choppy.

"Coming down on the last flight, Vickery could not have known the breeze had died, for the water was still rough," Hodges said. "As the ship hit the water, she porpoised once, that is, she bounded. It was not a bad porpoise, though, only about two feet. Vickery gunned the motor to nose the ship in. She porpoised once more.

"He had almost completed the landing when he hooked the right ponton into the water, burying it deep. The ship began to turn east. Vickery gunned her again, to correct the turn, I thought. Instead, he took to the air. I thought I noticed the right pontoon askew as he disappeared, but could not be sure."

250 Gallons of Fuel.

On the trip before the last one, Hodges recalled, the ship had been fueled with 250 gallons of gasoline. In a Sikorsky, the fuel is carried in tanks set in the wings, between and to either side of the motors.

From Hodges' testimony and that of others, the jury judged that the burying of the pontoon in the water at the lake front weakened and perhaps broke the metal spar supporting the main upper wing, which gave way. In the crash at Glenview the jurors conjectured that the gasoline tanks split open, drenching the wings and cabin with the fuel which destroyed the ship and the passengers' lives.

Relatives of the dead took the stand to identify the bodies. Herman Robinson, New York insurance broker and an official of the Travelers' Life Insurance company, held a handkerchief to his eyes as he identified his son, Joseph, and the son's chum, young Schaller. John Ogorek, a moulder of 5229 Hutchinson street, wept also as he identified his daughter, Stephanie.

PROBATE COURT ACTS ON ESTATES OF THREE PLANE CRASH VICTIMS

Letters of administration for the estates of two men and a woman killed in the crash of the World's Fair sightseeing plane at Glenview on Sunday were issued in the Probate court yesterday to Halbert O. Crews, the public administrator.

The estates are those of Edward G. Schaller, 22 years old, of Storm Lake, Ia., a University of Chicago student living in the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house at 5737 Woodlawn avenue; Joseph G. Robinson, 21 years old, of New York City, a student at Washington and Lee university, and Mrs. Ida Goodwin, 47 years old, a dietitian in a private school on Long Island.

The public administrator explained that the letters were sought to enable him to bring damage suits against the owners of the airplane. He is a party to such suits when the dead persons have unknown heirs or had their permanent residences outside the state.

GEN. BALBO TAKES ACTIVE COMMAND OF AIR ARMADA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ORBETELLO, Italy, June 12.—After formally assuming command of the 24 planes of Italy's air armada which will make a flight to Chicago, Gen. Italo Balbo, minister of air, tonight returned to Rome by automobile to attend a grand council meeting. He announced before he left that the flight could not be started for at least four more days because of ice conditions around Labrador.

At the same time, however, several seaplanes were being tuned up and all were fueled. Orders were issued that all planes should be on the water tomorrow.

Gen. Aldo Pellegrini, commandant of the high seas navigation school, turned the air admada's command over to Gen. Balbo.

"Here are 115 men of flesh with steel hearts and 24 planes of iron all ready to write a new page in the history of aviation for il duce, for country and for God," Gen. Pellegrini said.

"I assume command of this armada with the firm intention of bringing it to victory over the north Atlantic," Gen. Balbo replied.

Gen. Balbo gave the blackshirt salute and the troops and officers shouted, "A noi!" ["To us!"] Father Carlo Ferauffi, parish priest of Orbetello and chaplain of the airport, then blessed the planes.

MATTERN HOPS FOR ALASKA ON WORLD FLIGHT

Takes Off from City in East Siberia.

MOSCOW, June 13 (Tuesday).—(AP)—Jimmie Mattern took off from Khabarovsk, Siberia, early today toward Nome, Alaska, on one of the most dangerous legs of his lone air journey around the world.

He started toward American soil at 8:15 p. m. Moscow time Monday night [12:15 p. m. Chicago daylight saving time Monday]. This was nine days, six hours, and 54 minutes after his departure from New York on the first solo attempt to circle the globe.

The Texas aviator intended, if possible, to hop across two great water stretches—across the Sea of Okhotsk and the Bering sea—without halting. But if he finds the going rough at first he may change his mind and stop at Petropaviovsk in the Kamchatka peninsula. If Mattern makes a nonstop flight he should reach Alaska about 9 a. m. tomorrow [Chicago time].

Latest reports said heavy water and headwinds threatened along his chosen route. Sharp northern winds blew yesterday over the Sea of Okhotsk as far as Petropaviovsk and rain pelted the area.

Mattern landed at Khabarovsk at 3:20 a. m. Sunday [7:30 p. m. Saturday, Chicago daylight savings time], after becoming lost en route from Byelaya.

Forced Down in Haiti.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, June 12.—(AP)—Capt. J. Errol Boyd and two companions, bound from New York to Port au Prince, made a forced landing near St. Marc, Haiti, tonight.

Word was telephoned from St. Marc that the plane was forced down in mud flats. It was reported undamaged, but the flyers were unable to get it out of the mud alone. A marine corps plane will fly to their aid and Capt. Boyd and his companions are expected to be able to fly here tomorrow forenoon for an official reception.

Capt. Boyd took off from New York yesterday on a goodwill flight to this island accompanied by his co-pilot Robert G. Lyon and H. P. Davis, writer-observer.

They expected to set down their ship, the Columbia, veteran trans-Atlantic craft, at Port Au Prince after about 24 hours flying over the 2,471 mile route, rest two days, and fly back to New York.

U. S. Flyers Reach Colombia.

BOGOTA, Colombia, June 12.—(AP)—J. Scott Bermuth and Ernesto Samper landed their two planes at Techo airfield here tonight to complete their flight from St. Louis, Mo. Bermuth, an American, and Samper, a Colombian, negotiated the fourth and last leg of their trip from Cartagena to Bogota in four hours through heavy rainfall. Hundreds were at the airfield to greet the flyers.

Havana Greets Ocean Flyers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, June 12.—Capt. Mariano Barberan and Lieut. Joaquin Collar landed at Camp Columbia air field in Havana today at 5:13 p. m. [Chicago time] from Camaguey City, completing their Seville, Spain, to Havana flight. The flyers, whose 4,533 mile flight set a new North Atlantic record yesterday, were greeted by a wildly enthusiastic crowd.

Their plane, the Cuatro Vientos [Four Winds] was escorted on the 300 mile flight from Camaguey to Havana by a squadron of Cuban army planes.

Twenty-five thousand people crowded around the airport. Soldiers with fixed bayonets kept the crowds off the field.

President Gerardo Machado awarded the flyers the Great Cross of Military Valor, the highest Cuban army decoration. The aviators will remain here at least five days awaiting instructions from the Spanish army staff regarding further destinations.

The Spaniards are planning to fly from here to Mexico City. Whether they will continue to the Chicago World's Fair was undecided.

MAYOR INVITES FLYERS.

Mayor Kelly yesterday extended an invitation to Capt. Mariano Barberan and Lieut. Joaquin Collar, Spanish army flyers who made a record transoceanic flight from Spain to Cuba, to visit Chicago and the World's Fair. He extended the invitation after learning that the two flyers had informed a TRIBUNE correspondent at Havana of their wish to make a nonstop flight from Cuba to Chicago, and that they had wired their government for permission to do so.

Stamford, Conn., June 12.—(AP)—A burglar suspect was partly identified today by Mrs. Benjamin P. Collings of Stamford as one of two men who in 1931 boarded the Collings yacht in Long island sound and beat her husband to death.

The the time of the assault Mrs. Collings said two men boarded the ship, bound and killed her husband, tossed his body overboard and then abducted her, leaving behind on the drifting yacht their 5 year old daughter, Barbara. Mrs. Collings later was placed ashore and notified the police.

"I've looked at many men arrested in various parts of the country since 1931," said Mrs. Collings today as she confronted Frank Dreger, 61 years old, "and this is the only one who resembled in the least the old man who came on our boat."

The suspect, Dreger, who gave New York as his address, was moved to the Bridgeport jail late today after a bench warrant charging burglary was issued in Fairfield county Superior court that named him and Joseph Guarino, 20, of New York, arrested with him in Darien Sunday.

Meanwhile District Attorney Barron Hill of Suffolk county, Long island, who two years ago worked on the Collings case, conferred with the Connecticut authorities on Mrs. Collings' statement that Dreger's profile looked "just like that of the old man who boarded our yacht."

While Guarino also was paraded before her in Stamford's police station, Mrs. Collings said he was too stout to fit the description of the young man who figured in the Long island crime.

The two men were arrested early Sunday morning as they trudged along a Darien street, bags of silverware over their shoulders. The silverware, police say, was stolen from the home of John Nickerson Jr., wealthy New York broker, who lives in Noroton.

Objects to Use of Head as Ashtray in Divorce Bill

Mrs. Helen Puls, 1733 Catalpa avenue, filed suit for divorce in the Superior court yesterday against Rudolph Puls, an iceman. Her bill, prepared by Attorney Harry X. Cole, charged that Puls, though he praised her blonde hair before their marriage, used to toss cigaret ashes into it after they were wedded. She asked custody of Rudolph Jr., 6 years old.

POLICE TO STAND TRIAL JUNE 21 FOR JAILING OF GIRL

Four policemen and a police matron will be tried June 21 by the civil service commission on charges growing out of the arrest and imprisonment of Miss Lilyan Zagel, 18 years old, 1357 North Rockwell street, who was held for 20 hours without being allowed to provide bail. The charges were filed yesterday by Police Commissioner Allman against the four policemen who are said to have violated eleven ordinances, statutes and constitutional provisions in their treatment of the girl.

These four defendants are Sergt. Joseph J. Purcell and Policemen Walter H. Green, Patrick Griffin, Eugene Piggott. The matron who faces trial is Mary Jones.

Miss Zagel was arrested May 19 after her automobile had struck and slightly injured a 4 year old boy a half block from her home. During her imprisonment the girl spent a night in the same cell with a demented woman.

Sergt. Purcell is charged with conduct unbecoming a policeman in that he ordered the girl locked up in the women's quarters of the Racine avenue station without knowing the facts in the case.

Commissioner Allman charged Policeman Green with making a false official report. Green said in his report that a witness to the accident, Abe Lirtzman, told him that other witnesses pursued and captured the girl before she would consent to go to the boy's home. Subsequent investigation, according to Allman's charge, showed that Lirtzman had told Green that he did not see the accident.

Griffin and Piggott, members of the squad that arrested Miss Zagel at her home, were charged with conduct unbecoming policemen. They are accused of having arrested Miss Zagel without a warrant, having held her without charging her with a crime, and then of having booked her for reckless driving without evidence.

The full charge against Matron Jones has not been filed, but it is understood that she will be charged with neglect of duty.

Hyman Muslin, 4 years old, 2621 Evergreen avenue, is the boy who was injured in the accident for which Miss Zagel was arrested. Investigation showed that Miss Zagel helped the boy's mother carry him into the Muslin home.

EJECT REFORMER FROM HEARING ON CITY BUDGET

Elmer J. Davis, professional reformer, caught a Tartar yesterday in the person of Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the city council finance committee.

Davis appeared at a public hearing in the city hall on the city's 1933 budget. He had a statement on the budget which he attempted to read. Ald. Clark had him ejected from the meeting after bringing out that the reformer, while eager to give advice on how the city should spend its revenue, had paid no taxes for three years.

During the hearing Davis engaged in a brush with Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th], in which he defended his brother reformer, Daniel Gilday. Gilday has disappeared and deputy sheriffs are seeking to jail him for nonpayment of a judgment granted a boy whom he shot while intoxicated. It was Davis' remarks to Ald. Arvey on this subject, which Ald. Clark deemed insulting, that caused him to be ejected.

Statement Self-Prepared.

Davis is superintendent of the Better Government association, and his activities, so far as they have come within the public's view, have been in support of prohibition. He admitted that the statement which he presented at yesterday's hearing had been dictated by himself on Friday, and that it had not been approved by the membership of the association or by its directors.

Davis quoted freely from the report on consolidation of city bureaus made a year ago by J. L. Jacobs, then city efficiency expert and now county assessor. He asserted that the report had recommended elimination of various departments.

"Name one," said Ald. Clark.

"The board of local improvements," said Davis.

Clashes with Ald. Arvey.

When Ald. Arvey asked another question, Davis said he would not answer until he had read all of his statement.

"It's different here from when you're in your office issuing poison pen statements," Ald. Arvey told him. "You'll either submit to questions or you won't read your report. I move that the committee refuse to hear this statement. Davis doesn't know anything about his subject."

But it was agreed that Davis could continue and answer questions later. He then asserted that Mayor Cermak's advisory committee had recommended elimination of fifteen city departments.

"That's wrong," said Ald. Clark. "They recommended consolidation of five bureaus into one department."

After Davis sidestepped a question as to his personal knowledge of the subject of his statement, saying that he had confidence in Jacobs' report, Ald. Clark said:

"You're in error in all your statements. By the way, did you pay your 1928 taxes?"

"Yes," said Davis.

"The record showed that you hadn't paid them last week," said Ald. Clark. "Did you pay your 1929 taxes?"

"No," admitted Davis.

"Did you pay your 1930 taxes?"

"No."

"Did you pay your 1931 taxes?"

"No."

"And in addition to that," commented Ald. Clark, "he hasn't paid any personal property taxes."

Tilt Over Reformer Gilday.

"But you posted a bond for Gilday after he shot a boy when he was drunk, didn't you?" asked Ald. Arvey.

"You had better be careful about calling him a drunk," said Davis. "You're not fit to wipe his shoes."

"He was convicted by a jury of your peers," said the alderman.

"You're not a good citizen," Ald. Clark then told the reformer. "You haven't paid your taxes. Besides, you have supported rackets and racketeers and have insulted a member of the council. Sergeant-at-arms, take him out."

In the absence of a sergeant-at-arms Ald. William V. Pacelli [20th] seized Davis by the arm and hustled him out of the room.

ROB SOFT DRINK PARLOR.

Three gunmen took $72 in a robbery of the soft drink parlor of Samuel Gunderson, 1860 Elston avenue, after forcing the owner and two customers into a back room early yesterday.

Judge in New Job

Municipal Judge John F. O'Connell took his oath of office yesterday as judge of the Probate court, to which he was elected June 5. He will fill out the term of Gov. Henry Horner in the court, which expires a year from this fall. Judge Harold J. Taylor of Effingham has been filling the post by appointment since Judge Horner's inauguration as governor.

Judge O'Connell is Cook county's fifth probate judge, and the court over which he presides is the largest in the world, in point of business handled, ruled by a single judge. His oath was administered by County Clerk Sweitzer.

Among the speakers at the ceremony were Justice Frederic R. De Young of the state Supreme court, Judge Kickham Scanlan of the Appellate court, Judge William J. Lindsay of the Superior court, County Judge Jarecki, and John D. Black, president of the Chicago Bar association. Judge O'Connell's mother, Mrs. Patricia Connell; his wife, Mrs. Adeline O'Connell, and their three older children, Miriam, 15 years old; Quentin, 11, and Patricia, 9, were present. Judge and Mrs. O'Connell have a fourth child, Adelyn, 2½ years old.

EUGENE MEYER NEW OWNER OF WASHINGTON POST

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—Eugene Meyer of New York, former governor of the Federal Reserve board, was disclosed tonight as the new owner and publisher of the Washington Post.

It was he, the Post was informed, who purchased the paper on June 1 for $825,000 at a public auction ordered by the District of Columbia Supreme court.

The purchase was made through the law firm of Hamilton & Hamilton and Mr. Meyer's identity as the actual buyer was kept a strict secret until tonight. Not even employés of the paper knew the name of its new owner until the announcement was made.

The transaction marked the end of the McLean ownership of the paper, which began when the late John R. McLean bought it in 1906.

Admitting that her effort to retain possession of the Post for her children was over, Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean tonight said she soon would start publication in Washington of another morning paper, to be known as The Enquirer, the same as the McLean paper in Cincinnati. The new paper, of which Mrs. McLean is to be both editor and publisher, is to be an 8 page paper and is to cost one cent an issue, the only penny paper in the city.

THEATRICAL MAN ELECTED MAYOR OF MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Minn., June 12.—[Special.]—A newcomer in Minneapolis politics, A. G. Bainbridge, theater man, was elected mayor today. He will enter office July 1.

Bainbridge, a Republican, was elected over Mayor William A. Anderson, Farmer-Laborite, by a majority that probably will exceed 10,000 on the final tabulation of votes. Results from 251 of the city's 354 precincts gave: Bainbridge, 51,358; Anderson, 44,291.

For Bainbridge it marked the first entrance into the political field, although he has been widely known in civic and lodge activities of the city for years. As a theatrical press agent and later theatrical producer, most of his life has been devoted to the theater.

UTILITIES RATE SLASH TO TAKE EFFECT JULY 1

Expect Amount to Be Set at Meeting This Week.

Reduced rates on gas and electricity in Chicago and suburbs will become effective July 1, Benjamin F. Lindheimer, chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, announced yesterday after a conference with James Simpson and George A. Ranney, chairman and vice chairman of the Commonwealth Edison company, the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, and the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

The amount of the reduction was not given, Mr. Lindheimer explained, because the utilities offered a reduction of approximately $4,000,000 a year, based on 1932 business, and the commerce commission asked for a much greater reduction. Another conference is scheduled for Thursday, at which time, Mr. Lindheimer said, he expects an agreement will be reached.

Differ on Rate Cut.

"We prepared a suggested reduction of rates, to be distributed in a certain manner," Chairman Lindheimer said. "The companies also prepared a statement showing the maximum reduction they were ready to make, and their ideas of distribution. There was some considerable difference between the two suggested rates."

The point involved, it was explained by Mr. Lindheimer and Attorney Irvin Rooks, counsel for the commerce commission, is how much of the saving is to be given to residential users and how much to business concerns. The commerce commission representatives said they favored giving as much of the benefit of the reduction as is possible to the householder.

Mr. Lindheimer said he mentioned a number of phases of utility operation which Mr. Simpson and Mr. Ranney agreed to discuss with engineers of their companies. These included the charges made for depreciation reserve, the price paid by the utilities for coal, losses in merchandising, rentals, executive salaries, and tax accruals.

Call Depreciation Fund Too Large

It was the commerce commission's viewpoint that the companies set aside too large an amount for depreciation, and this consequently reduces the amount of income available for dividends. The rate to be charged usually hinges on a fair return to the investor.

On the question of losses caused by the companies going into the retail business to sell appliances used in the consumption of gas or electricity the loss of the Commonwealth Edison company was put at $718,000 in 1932. Mr. Lindheimer and Attorney Rooks said they believed this loss would now be reduced to a minimum due to a general improvement in all businesses.

The commerce commission suggested that executive salaries be reduced from $379,000 a year to $279,000 by the Commonwealth Edison company and comparatively by the other utilities. It was said that James Simpson's salary had been $40,000 year from each of the three utilities, but at present it is believed to be less than $100,000 a year from the three companies.

Regarding tax accruals, the commission's spokesmen said the utilities are protesting large increases in their personal property assessments for 1930 and 1931. Otherwise it was believed their general taxes were paid.

Ask Time for Study.

"This was the first opportunity of the utility companies to get an analysis of what the commission thought proper and our reasons therefor," Chairman Lindheimer said. "Mr. Simpson and Mr. Ranney asked to be given until Thursday or Friday to study our suggestions and see how much farther they can go without a formal rate hearing. The companies' figures indicate operation at a considerable loss as compared with figures for last year. Our position is that rates should be based on future business and improved conditions and we hope that from this point on there will be a substantial increase of business.

"The utility executives showed an attitude of willingness to meet with our ideas, which are based on the business they did in 1932. This is despite the fact that there has been a falling off of 9 per cent so far this year. However, in the month of May this loss was not as large as in previous months and that's a good sign. After a careful study of our proposals I am inclined to the belief that they will go along with us.

Want Benefits for Homes.

"As business increases the consumer is entitled to some of the benefits. We are trying to give the greatest amount of the benefit to the homes, but in order to stimulate business the commercial user should get a reduction also. We are taking the position that a reduction in commercial rates will entail no loss at all, and that whatever cash concession the utilities are willing to make should provide more benefit for the householder.

"We discussed space heating and gas competing with oil, and it is probable that the largest reduction the company will make will be for space heating."

Both Mr. Lindheimer and Attorney Rooks agreed that the voluntary reduction proposed by the utilities was "somewhere in the neighborhood of 2.8 per cent, as was forecast last week."

Those at the conference did not discuss pending legislation at Springfield, Mr. Lindheimer stated. The reduction in no way hinges upon the defeat or adoption of the bill now in committee of the lower house, he said, and there was no element of bargaining in the conference of yesterday.

Mr. Lindheimer is to appear today before the committee, of which Representative Frank Ryan is chairman, and ask a favorable report on the bill, which would give the commerce commission greater power. Mr. Simpson last week visited Gov. Horner and expressed his opposition to the bill.

GIRL WANTS COURT TO BAR MOTHER FROM WEDDING AT CHURCH

Boston, Mass., June 12.—(AP)—An attempt of Charles B. Swain of Winchester and his daughter, Hester, to invoke court action to prevent the girl's mother, the socially prominent Mrs. Amelia H. Swain, from attending her wedding next Friday, was taken under advisement today by Superior Court Judge Stanley Qua.

Miss Swain, who is to marry Hancock Door, Beacon street clubman, at the fashionable Church of the Advent, last week jointly with her father filed a petition asking the court to enjoin her mother from entering the edifice.

The girl alleged she had reason to believe her mother might make a scene at the church. The bride-to-be set forth that when her engagement was announced by her father and stepmother, Mrs. Swain visited newspaper offices to insist that she alone had the right to make the announcement. Swain remarried in 1920, shortly after being divorced from Hester's mother.

Judge Qua questioned Charles Barton, counsel for the Swains, regarding precedence for such an injunction and was told they believed they had grounds for action based on anticipated trespass.

Restaurant Chain Marks Its 42d Anniversary

Mrs. Carter H. Harrison, official hostess of A Century of Progress, was the chief guest yesterday at a luncheon in the Thompson restaurant at 27 West Randolph street in celebration of the 42d anniversary of the opening of the first Thompson restaurant in Chicago. John R. Thompson Jr. said that 1,500,000,000 meals have been served in the time that the restaurant system has grown from the one restaurant in Chicago to 116 restaurants in 36 cities. He estimated that the entire group of restaurants serves about 60,000,000 meals annually.

MILLION MARK PASSED AT FAIR ON ITS 17TH DAY

Total for Day Establishes Another Record.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Lured by faultless summer weather the crowds at A Century of Progress yesterday—the 17th day of the Fair—sent the total attendance figure for the Fair up to date well above one million and set a week-day record as well, which promised early in the evening to compete with Saturday and Sunday attendance.

Well before noon the turnstile at the 12th street entrance clicked one million in admitting Miss Eleanor Frost of Syracuse, N. Y., who, not suspecting that she was making Fair history, was overwhelmed when she was welcomed inside the gate by Maj. L. R. Lohr, general manager, who presented her an official medal in commemoration of the event.

By 6 p. m. the old record of 51,655 for regular week day attendance, reached last Wednesday, had been passed. Yesterday's figure up to 6 p. m. was 58,947. The final figure of 77,815 recorded at 11:30 o'clock last night surpassed even the count of 68,602 paid admissions registered last Friway, the special children's day.

Proof that balmy weather alone is sufficient to pack the Fair grounds was given by the fact that yesterday's program, while including a number of special events, had no headliner—no nationalistic celebration nor star attraction which would draw an unusual number to the Exposition.

Main Entrance Leads.

How patrons are using the various entrances to the Fair was disclosed yesterday in a tabulation. The main, or 12th street, entrance was the most popular, clocking 40.8 per cent of the first million visitors. Next came 23d street, drawing 27 per cent. Eighteenth street was third, with 18.8 per cent, and the remainder was divided between 14th, 31st, 35th, and 39th street gates.

The tabulation also showed that to date 988,000 persons have ridden the buses which tour the grounds. Boats taking people to the grounds from docks along the river carried about 5,000 persons, according to the figures.

Tomorrow a new traffic plan will be put into effect which will permit taxicabs and private automobiles to discharge passengers closer to the main entrance than has been permitted heretofore. Motor coaches will also be permitted to go closer to the ticket booths.

Graduate of Syracuse University.

Miss Frost, the millionth visitor, is 22 years old, and was graduated at Syracuse university last week. She is visiting her classmate, Miss Margaret Holton, 4315 North Kildare avenue. Her name will be engraved upon the medal presented by Maj. Lohr.

Two other visitors reached the Fair yesterday after an auto tour over half the world. They were Mrs. Erna Dorner and her mechanic, H. Blenck, both of Cologne, Germany, who left Germany last October to drive their low powered English car to A Century of Progress. They drove through Europe and Asia by way of India and China and took a ship from Japan to Hawaii and thence to San Francisco.

From the west coast, they toured into Mexico, then drove here. After visiting the Fair, they will drive into Canada and down to New York from where they will ship their car back to Germany.

CICERO MAN DENIED NEW TRIAL.

Pekin, Ill., June 12.—(AP)—Frank Faifer, 31, of Cicero, today was denied a new trial on bank robbery and kidnaping charges, and was sentenced by Circuit Judge Dailey to serve one year to life in prison.

Girl Asleep 17 Months Undergoes an Operation

Miss Patricia Maguire, 523 Clarence avenue, Oak Park, who has been asleep for more than seventeen months, yesterday underwent an operation at the West Suburban hospital. She is the victim of a rare type of sleeping sickness and the operation was made necessary when a needle used in giving her a serum to combat the disease broke off near her spine. Following the removal of the needle she was taken to her home.

MISSOURI GIVES FAIR EXHIBIT A SYLVAN SETTING

Brook Runs for 120 Feet Through Display.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Ohio may have its benches of offer tired World's Fair visitors; New York its drinking fountain, designed after one in Rockefeller Center; Wisconsin its soothing scent of pine woods, and Michigan its giant waterfalls to lull ears weary from the blatant ballyhoo of the Midway. But Missouri, Colorado and Mississippi all claim to be second to none in the matter of restfulness.

Missouri's chief offering to visitors who have been overpowered with startling architecture and exhibits demanding active brain work, is a brook which ambles along for a winding 120 feet across the rear of the state's 9,440 feet of exhibit space. This is said to be the largest space occupied by any state in the U-shaped Court of States adjoining the Federal building.

51 Missouri Trees Shown.

On entering the Missouri exhibit the visitor walks down "Missouriana avenue," lined with solid trunks of trees which feature the exhibit throughout. Fifty-one varieties of Missouri trees are shown. They extend to the ceiling, which is painted to resemble foliage.

On either side of the "avenue" are booths revealing the products that Missouri takes most pride in. To Mark Twain, whose boyhood home was in Hannibal, and to Eugene Field's poetry, two booths are devoted.

Here, also, Missouri does a little bragging about its pretty girls in a tribute to "Ozark queens." Murals on the walls depict southern and northern Missouri, with Kansas City's Union station and other building over one door, and sights of St. Louis over the other.

Map from 1904 Exposition.

In an adjoining room are a revolving agricultural map, a relief and geological map made for the Louisiana Purchase exposition, which was held in St. Louis in 1904, a large pictorial map in colors, and dioramas showing historic spots and the Lake of the Ozarks, an artificial larke 125 miles long.

Floyd W. Sayers, of Jefferson City, a maintenance engineer in the Missouri highway department, arranged the exhibit as a whole. One gnarled pine more than 100 years old grows in the rocks near the stream. Nearby is an ancient pioneer's cabin brought from the Missouri hills and furnished with pioneer furniture lent by the School of the Ozarks, at Hollister, Mo.

Mississippi Shows Industries.

Mississippi points to the floor of her exhibit at the Fair, a by-product of the long leaf pine lumber industry, and its resilience, so comforting to aching feet. Real southern pine trees appear in the exhibit, showing how they are tapped for turpentine and resin, which, with cotton, dairying, fishing and clay products from Mississippi's chief industries.

Colorado's unique offering is a series of motion picture shows, given continuously throughout the day and evening, in which the beauties of this state's mountains, lakes, and parks are shown as well as the remains of the cliff dwellers' homes in the southwest part of the state. One film depicts a rodeo. During the making of the picture three men were fatally injured.

SLAYER, MORON, GETS LIFE.

Linneus, Mo., June 12.—(AP)—Noble Brown, 20, wife slayer, was sentenced to life imprisonment late today by Judge Paul Van Osdall after three alienists reported the prisoner had the mentality of only a 14 year old boy.

OPEN PEDESTRIAN BRIDGE LEADING TO WORLD'S FAIR

A pedestrian viaduct leading into A Century of Progress over the Illinois Central tracks at 35th street was dedicated last night. The bridge was built by the south park board at a cost of approximately $18,000.

The principal speakers at the dedication were A. P. Dippold, president of the Oakland Business Men's association; Dr. Allen D. Albert, representing A Century of Progress; George T. Donoghue, superintendent of the south parks, and Mrs. H. T. Martin, president of the Central Shore Voters' league. Mrs. Martin's daughter, Helen, 7 years old, and Mr. Donoghue cut the ribbon to open the viaduct. Several hundred people then passed over the bridge and into the Fair grounds.

LOSE LAST DITCH BATTLE ON TAX RECEIVERSHIPS

Attorneys Hear Jarecki Enforce the Law.

TAX COLLECTIONS.

| | 1928 | 1929 |
|---|---|---|
| June 12 ..... | $ 74,983 | $ 48,344 |
| Uncollected .. | 19,431,348 | 51,291,225 |
| | 1930 | 1931 |
| June 12 ..... | $ 147,379 | $ 170,677 |
| Uncollected .. | 82,815,741 | 114,113,395 |

Personal property taxes collected for 1931 totaled $14,111.

The "tax attorneys" of Chicago, lawyers who represent most of the big delinquent tax properties in the city, staged what might be termed a desperate last stand yesterday in County Judge Jarecki's court against the enforcement of the Kerner-Skarda act.

The lawyers crowded around the bench as the case involving the Pontiac building, 542 South Dearborn street, upon which delinquent taxes totaling $41,800 are due, was called. Mark Levy, former president of the Real Estate board, was the property owner who objected to the appointment of the county treasurer as receiver under the Kerner-Skarda act to collect income until back taxes are paid in full.

Orders Receiver Appointed.

In the argument and discussion which followed, both sides of the tax situation were presented. Judge Jarecki finally entered an order appointing a tax receiver. The lawyers representing other tax delinquent properties expressed disappointment.

Levy's attorney protested that the Pontiac building was a losing money proposition. He stated that the gross income from rents this year should be $36,684, but that on the basis of rent collections already made not more than $28,800 might be expected from this source. The estimated operating income of the building is exactly this amount, $28,800, he declared, and thus not a penny of profit will be left for the owner.

"I have heard similar statements from lawyers in other cases like this," the judge commented, dryly. "And much to my astonishment, after a receiver has been appointed, checks for large amounts of money have been discovered somehow and the taxes paid."

Asks Owner's Intentions.

"I would like to know," interjected Assistant State's Attorney William T. Crilly, "if Mr. Levy, because of this situation, ever intends to pay any taxes? He hasn't paid for several years. Is he intending to let the situation continue and the taxes pile up without paying a penny?"

"The appointment of a receiver here would work much harm," responded Levy's lawyer. "Leases may be broken and tenants lost."

"I don't understand why such a protest is made here against a receivership for the building if it earns no money for the property owner," said the judge. "If the county treasurer finds conditions as you relate, he will so report immediately to the court.

"When there is a disposition to cooperate with this court in the payment of taxes, I am willing to grant short delays. But when no effort to pay anything on large delinquencies is made, a receiver will be appointed and a receiver is appointed for this property. I have no sympathy with stalling tactics. The collection of delinquent taxes must be speeded up if government is to continue to function in this county."

Case to Be Appealed.

The lawyer announced that an appeal would be taken from the court's ruling. The full amount of the delinquent taxes, $41,800, must be deposited as a bond with the county treasurer if an appeal is taken.

Attorney Robert M. Adams obtained a continuance of the receivership petition for the Insurance Exchange building, 175 West Jackson boulevard, by paying approximately $100,000 on the delinquent tax bill on the property, making a total of 95 per cent of back taxes paid.

A payment of $18,971 was made on the Reliance building, State and Washington streets, and $5,000 was applied on the delinquent tax bill of the Auditorium hotel, resulting in a temporary postponement of the appointment of tax receivers. Eleven receivers were appointed for properties at yesterday's court session when the owners refused to pay any part of back taxes or asserted they were unable to do so.

JUDGE WOODWARD.

QUIZ TO IMPEACH JUDGE WOODWARD VOTED BY HOUSE

His Chicago Receivership Selections Under Fire.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—An immediate investigation of charges against Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward of Chicago, involving his appointment of receivers and attorneys in bankruptcy cases, is expected to be undertaken by the house judiciary committee under the authority of the Celler resolution passed today authorizing an inquiry into all such appointments in the federal courts.

Sabath Will Aid Inquiry.

Representative Adoph J. Sabath [Dem., Ill.] who has withheld personal impeachment action against Judge Woodward pending house passage of the Celler resolution, said that a judiciary subcommittee will be appointed to sit in Chicago during the recess of congress to make the Woodward investigation. Although not a member of the judiciary committee, Mr. Sabath stated that he will aid in the inquiry.

At the same time, Mr. Sabath declared, two other Chicago judges may be investigated by the committee under authority of the resolution. He declined to reveal their names, stating that the evidence available to him at this time is not sufficient to warrant their publication.

Under the terms of the Celler resolution the house committee is authorized to conduct investigations where they appear warranted into the appointment of receivers, referees, attorneys and other officials in bankruptcy cases in the federal courts.

Charges Against Judge.

Considerable criticism of the federal judiciary for alleged favoritism in the appointment of friends and political supporters to these lucrative positions has developed, it was stated. Representative Sabath estimated that at least 25 specific cases throughout the country have been brought to the attention of the judiciary committee at this session of congress.

The charges against Judge Woodward which he will present to the committee as a basis for its investigation, said Mr. Sabath, are the same as those brought against the judge by the Chicago Bar association. The report, Mr. Sabath said, alleged that Judge Woodward made a practice of appointing the law firm with which his son was associated to lucrative receiverships and attorneyships in bankruptcy cases under his jurisdiction.

In six months, Representative Sabath stated, the fees from the appointments totaled $240,000. Judge Woodward's son, he said, was given a substantial portion of this money by the firm.

ASK 1 PER CENT LIMIT ON REAL ESTATE TAXES

William F. Steltzer and other members of the Cook county civic council appeared yesterday before the legislative committee on taxation in support of the plan to limit real estate taxes to 1 per cent of the actual cash value of the property. The committee meeting was called by Senator Harold G. Ward, chairman, to consider tax legislation for Cook county.

Representatives of neighborhood improvement and business associations declared that $16,000,000 worth of personal property is escaping taxation in the county and that the city of Chicago tax rate has increased too rapidly.

"It is time," said Mr. Steltzer, "to equalize, distribute and raise the necessary revenue to take the place of a large part of the revenue assessed against the owners of Cook county real estate, which the real estate owners are no longer able to pay."

Bomb Explosion Damages South State Street Saloon

A bomb was exploded this morning at the front of Mamert Piotrowski's saloon at 6000 South State street, severely jarring him and members of his family who were asleep upstairs. The blast was heard over a large section of the south side. Two plate glass windows in the front of the barroom were broken, as were windows in nearby houses and buildings. Piotrowski could not explain the bombing, although recollecting that he had been approached recently by an organizer for a bartenders' union.

Trenton, N. J., June 12.—[Special.]—By unanimous vote the assembly tonight concurred in the senate resolution ratifying the pending child labor amendment to the federal constitution.

COUNTY BOARD REJECTS MOTION TO HALT TAX CUT

The county board yesterday voted down, 8 to 2, a motion by Commissioner Amelia Sears calling upon the board of tax appeals to expunge its order for a 15 per cent reduction on building assessments on homes and small flat buildings. Miss Sears and Commissioner Marie Plumb cast the only affirmative votes.

"The history of Cook county has never experienced a worse situation than that brought about by this order," said Miss Sears, "It has ruined our credit, we find it impossible to pay our employés, it delays completion of the assessment and so keeps our governments from getting the money they need. I move that the county board ask the board of appeals to expunge its order as a move to restore public credit."

"The ruling of the Supreme court merely upheld the right of the board to issue such an order," replied Miss Sears. "There was nothing mandatory about it. The board can withdraw it if it wishes."

The commissioners met for the purpose of finding funds to make the changes in the assessment rolls and tax bills made necessary by the order, but adjourned without making any progress.

PERIL OF SALARY SLASH SEEN IN TEACHERS' FIGHT

Balk at School Closing for Economy.

Members of the school board indicated yesterday that the teachers' fight against the early closing of schools might act as a boomerang next year by forcing a reduction of salaries for all school employés then. Several thousand teacners reported at their schools yesterday to furnish the basis of a breach of contract action, although the system was closed Friday, two weeks earlier than the scheduled time, to save $2,000,000 in salaries and other expenditures.

"If the teachers are successful in obtaining money for these two weeks in hich they are not teaching it will mean a corresponding cut in their salaries in the 1934 budget to make up the deficit," said one school trustee.

School Board Fights Action.

School attorneys prepared to fight the teachers' action. Ralph Condee, assistant attorney for the school board, declared that the teachers didn't "have a leg to stand on."

The position of the teachers, it was explained, is similar to that held by civil service employés. The salaries set up for their positions in the 1933 budget give no guarantee that the school board will not shorten the term if it reaches the end of its resources.

The Chicago teachers were hired by contract, as is the present practice in downstate school districts, until 1917, when they obtained tenure, or "right of employment." After establishing his or her tenure of office, a Chicago teacher, under the law, cannot be removed without a trial by the school board. Some lawyers contend that the tenure sets up reciprocal obligations between teachers and the school board so that salaries may be cut or the school term abbreviated in times of financial stress.

The school board was faced with a $10,000,000 deficit when it voted unanimously to close the schools early. An additional $2,000,000 will be saved by delaying the opening of schools next fall, according to the plans of the board. Further measures must be taken this summer if the school system is to be pulled out of its financial mire.

Hints Further Expense Cut.

James B. McCahey, president of the board, hinted that some action toward reduction of expenditures would be taken at the school board meeting tomorrow.

"My idea is that an aggressive committee should be appointed," said Mr. McCahey, "to get to work immediately on an economy program. We haven't the money to spend and unless steps are taken there is grave danger that the Chicago schools will not open in the fall. That would be a civic calamity."

At a meeting earlier in the day in Corporation Counsel Sexton's office Mr. McCahey and other school board officials discussed the proposed school bond issue of $40,000,000 pending before the legislature. The receipts from the bonds would defray expenses and pay the salaries of school employés up to Jan. 1. Mr. Condee and Mr. Sexton left for Springfield last night, armed with data to prove to the lawmakers that the bond issue must be adopted if the Chicago schools are to survive.

Fred W. Sargent Receives Medal for His Civic Service

Chicago is leading the way among American cities in the reëstablishment of a stable credit structure, Fred W. Sargent said yesterday at the Standard club, on the occasion of the presentation to him of the Benjamin J. Rosenthal Foundation medal "for outstanding civic service" during the last year.

Mr. Sargent's work on the governor's tax commission and on the committee on public expenditures was praised by George W. Rossetter, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, who presented the medal after receiving it from Mrs. Rosenthal. Gov. Horner, who received this medal in 1930, sent a telegram saying that no one in Chicago had earned this distinction more truly than Mr. Sargent. Mayor Kelly praised him and said that nothing now would stop Chicago from going ahead. D. F. Kelly, who received the medal last year, also spoke of Mr. Sargent's hard work and sacrifices.

Lauds Citizens and Officials.

"I feel that this is not a compliment to myself personally," said Mr. Sargent in reply. "It is more an award to that spirit of coöperation that exists in this community. Our citizens deserve a building here on safe and permanent foundations. They deserve the best institutions, but it must be on a credit structure which the taxpayers can afford to maintain.

"We have had the support of our public officers in this work. "We had it in Cermak and we have it in a redoubled way in Mayor Kelly.

"I am sure it is going to continue. We hear a great deal of criticism of public officers. This is often justified, often unjustified. Universal indictments never should be tolerated by thinking people. A great many of our officials are honest and sincere.

Sees Chicago as Leader.

"We must reëstablish the credit of every municipality in Cook county. The world ought to know that we pay our debts, whether honestly or dishonestly obligated. That was the policy of Alexander Hamilton. This work has only begun. With continued cooperation and continued enthusiasm I am satisfied that we will lead all the great American cities back into a stable credit structure. Without credit a city is lost. We want the best schools, parks, the finest and cleanest of city administrations, but in a time of great economic depression our only hope is to have these in the future if every one is willing to make a sacrifice now, looking to ability to pay, keeping expenses within revenue. That is the object and aim of the committee."

Dr. Suominen, Sun Bather, Goes on a Week's Fast

Dr. Arne Laurie Suominen, head of the sun bathers' association, which is seeking a permit to erect a nudist stockade in Lincoln park, is on a 7 days' fast, but it has nothing to do with the sun bath movement, he said yesterday. "Fasting develops will power," he said. Dr. Suominen explained that he was not a communist, but a Democrat. He was arrested in 1930 during a demonstration of unemployed in a hall at Halsted and Adams street, where he had gone as a spectator. A policeman started to search him and he resisted, he said. As a result a disorderly conduct charge was made against him, but the charge was dismissed, according to the doctor.

Episcopal Church Club Official Is Guest Here

Oscar W. Ehrhorn, New York attorney, who was recently elected vice president of the National Federation of Episcopal Church Clubs, was the guest of honor yesterday at a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman given by John D. Allen. The latter is president of the federation. Mr. Ehrhorn is president of the National Republican club.

Knocks Down Woman and Takes Her Purse with $588

Mrs. Frances Rametta, owner of a fruit store at 1844 Milwaukee avenue, was robbed of $588 yesterday by two men at Newland and Grand avenues. She was waiting for a street car when the pair drove up in an automobile. One of them leaped out, knocked her down with his fist and seized her purse, which contained the money. Mrs. Rametta told the police the men also obtained $450 in checks.

| | |
|---|---|
| Investigations | $ 7,551.27 |
| Legislative matters: [a] Hotel expense, [b] traveling expense, [c] entertainment and conference expense | 4,748.73 |
| Conventions [hotel and traveling expense] | 2,506.00 |
| Confidential matters | 5,194.00 |
| Total | $20,000.00 |

Following is an excerpt from the letter of Jan. 22, 1932:

| | |
|---|---|
| Investigations | $ 3,715.92 |
| Legislative expense [hotels, conferences, and traveling] | 8,950.00 |
| Conventions [hotel and traveling expense] | 1,550.00 |
| Confidential matters | 5,784.08 |
| Total | $20,000.00 |

"There are no available cancelled checks drawn against this fund nor any receipted vouchers covering expenditures from it, so that no audit of disbursements can be made except from the information given in the letters," says the report to Gov. Horner.

Members of the park board under former President James say he never gave them an accounting and that he ruled the board with a high hand as the close friend of former Gov. Emmerson. They attribute to him the fact there were twice as many names on the pay roll as the Joseph board decided were needed.

SISTER-IN-LAW KILLS CRAZED WAR VETERAN

Frank Booty, 47 years old, a shell shocked world war veteran, was shot and killed yesterday by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Chester, at her farm home near Ainsworth, Ind., southeast of Gary. Mrs. Chester fired in self-defense.

Booty, who had been regarded as slightly demented but harmless, suddenly went mad and attacked Mrs. Chester and her mother, Mrs. Madeline Mack, with an iron pipe. One of his blows broke the left arm of Mrs. Mack and another stunned her. Booty ran after Mrs. Chester with the pipe, but she eluded him and he went into the yard for an ax.

Returning with this weapon, he was met at the kitchen door by Mrs. Chester, who had meantime seized her husband's shotgun. She fired once at close range and Booty fell.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Carroll Holley, who investigated the killing, said that Mrs. Chester would not be arrested and that he was confident she would be declared blameless at the inquest. George Chester, husband of the woman who killed, was absent from home when the tragedy occurred. He was a full brother to Booty, but took the name Chester in childhood when his mother married a second time.

BURN WOMAN'S FEET IN SEARCH FOR HER MONEY

Coldwater, Mich., June 12.—[Special.]—Two men burned blisters on the soles of the feet of Mrs. Sarah Strong, 65, housekeeper for William Corey of Girard, near here, in an effort to learn the hiding place of the woman's savings.

The woman's employer was blindfolded and secured to a chair.

She refused to reveal the hiding place of the money. Finally the men started to tear the housekeeper's clothing from her back. They found several bags sewed to her dress which contained her life savings, $1,640.

Have you ever happened to wonder why "Toasting" is so important to Lucky Strikes? It's really on account of you. For "Toasting" plays a bigger part than you might think in making Luckies so mild and fragrant and pure. Remember, your cigarette comes in rather close personal contact with you, and if it weren't for "Toasting's" purifying heat, even Lucky Strike's choice tobaccos could scarcely be as mild, so pure. So you see what a big part "Toasting" has in making "Luckies Please!"

There's one real way to judge good beer

THERE'S ONE WAY to judge beer. And that's by its flavor. If it has the right aroma—the right body and taste—then it has everything else you want!

Good taste in beer comes only from good brewing. It can be had in no other way. And better brewing is the simple secret of Atlas popularity. Its matchless flavor—its zest and snap and creamy foam—are the admiration of beer lovers everywhere.

In making Atlas Beer, only the finest barley malt is used—the choicest domestic and imported Bohemian hops. These are blended according to a formula perfected through 42 years of continuous brewing. At every step in brewing, the utmost care is exerted. Even the water is specially treated. After brewing, the beer is cooled—through filtered air—in a spotless glazed-tile room, and allowed to age properly until that mellow Atlas flavor—the Atlas tang and aroma—are fully developed.

So wholesome is this superb beer, that a famous laboratory certifies to its purity. For your guests, as well as your family, have a case of Atlas Beer always on hand. Its beneficial properties aid the digestion and soothe the nerves. You'll sleep better if you drink some each night at bedtime.

ARREST GERMAN WOMEN'S LEADER AS NAZI TRAITOR

Points to Break Between Nationalists, Hitlerites.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 12.—Because it was strongly suspected she had spoken and written disparagingly of members of the German cabinet and leaders of the National Socialist movement, Fräulein Irmgard Wrede, one of the most noted women politicians in Germany, was arrested today by Breslau police.

Fräulein Wrede, a prominent Nationalist party member, is a leader of the Pan-German Union in Upper and Lower Silesia, a leader of the state women's committee for central Silesia, and a member of the reich women's committee of the Nationalist party.

Shows Up Cabinet Clash.

Her arrest throws the spotlight on the tensing of relations between Chancellor Hitler's Nazis and their cabinet colleagues, the Nationalists Der Angriff, Nazi organ, seized the opportunity today to attack the Nationalist party for failing to "comprehend the spirit of the new times."

Nazi relations with the Catholic Centrists, which had improved in recent weeks, are also strained again as a result of attacks upon the Catholic journeymen's congress in Munich yesterday. Vice chancellor Franz von Papen tried to speak for the Catholics but was quickly silenced by authorities who are steadily driving toward absolute rule by the Hitler party. An investigation was started today into disorders which led to the cancellation of the convention.

Protests Stirred.

These moves to push around the Centrists and Nationalists are stirring up a storm of protest and anti-Nazi elements are hoping that President Paul von Hindenburg, when he returns to Berlin, will increase the Nationalist influence in the cabinet.

The president was due back from Neudeck, East Prussia, this week, when he postponed his return for a week, a rumor immediately spread that he is sick. It is learned that the old field marshall recently had a slight cold, but otherwise is in normal health. He looked extremely well at recent public appearances.

2 KILLED, 3 HURT IN VIENNA BOMB BLAST; NAZI SLAIN

VIENNA, June 12.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and three others were injured today when a bomb exploded in a Vienna jewelry shop as the climax of a week-end wave of violence in Austria. One of those killed was the jeweler. The Socialist newspaper Allgemeine Zeitung said he was a Jew and blamed Nazi demands for martial law for his death. Police immediately confiscated the edition.

Communists stabbed and killed a Nazi near Graz. Police raided and closed the main and district Nazi headquarters here. Meanwhile mounted police dispersed Nazi students who participated in a demonstration in the famous Ringstrasse. Another student mob smashed windows of a newspaper office in the inner city. Bombs were exploded near parliament without damage.

Nazi headquarters at Innsbruck were occupied by the Fascist heimwehr, assisted by federal troops. Twenty-one persons were arrested.

4 ON CHARITY ROLLS IN COURT; TWO OWN AUTOS

One a Drunken Driver, Police Testify.

Four clients of the Illinois emergency relief, two of them automobile owners, faced charges yesterday in two Municipal courts. William White, 55 years old, 9353 Vernon avenue, who is on the relief rolls, was arraigned before Judge Alfred O. Erickson on a charge of reckless driving. Police testified that White was intoxicated when his automobile crashed into the parked car of William Veledhouse, 9019 Cottage Grove avenue.

Judge Erickson placed White on probation for six months and announced that he would have the defendant's name removed from the relief rolls.

Seized as Window Smasher.

Fred Von Thens, 30 years old, 3345 North Western avenue, also admitted that he was receiving relief when he was arraigned before Judge Erickson on a charge of disorderly conduct. Von Thens was arrested after he had smashed 14 windows, mirrors, and furniture in the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Alice Brennan, 2445 East 73d street.

Mrs. Von Thens, who separated from her husband last week, told the court that she did not want to return to her husband because "he drank too much." Von Thens also admitted he is seeking citizenship and has obtained his first papers.

"I'm going to investigate this case," Judge Erickson said, "and meanwhile continue it until June 23. I'm going to see if the government can't prevent such a person as you from becoming a citizen."

Auto Ownership Involved.

Both the defendant and plaintiff in a replevin suit to recover an automobile were charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses because they had obtained aid from the emergency relief by misrepresentation. Samuel Gardeakos, 43 years old, 6606 South Michigan avenue, had seized the automobile of William Trantafilos, 39 years old, 101 South Throop street, as security for a board and lodging bill. Trantafilos appeared before Judge Francis Borrelli to recover the car.

Judge Borrelli awarded the car to Gardeakos and then forced him to turn it over to the relief commission until he pays for aid which he received. Hearing on the charges of obtaining goods under false pretenses was set for June 29.

Hill of El Paso, Tex., who will receive a bachelor's degree as the first to qualify for it under the university's new plan; Miss Molly Mason, daughter of Max Mason, former Midway president, who gets a bachelor's degree also, and Jules and Leon Comroe, twins, who receive bachelor of science degrees. Michael Lampos, 6612 South Peoria street, will receive a master of arts degree as the first to qualify for it under the new rules allowing students to take a master's examination without possessing a bachelor's degree.

FIND LOW T. B. RATE IN HIGH SCHOOLS HERE

High school pupils in Chicago are comparatively free from tuberculosis, according to a report made to Supt. William J. Bogan by the Tuberculosis Institute yesterday. The institute's physicians conducted special examinations in Lake View and Tilden Technical High schools this spring.

Dr. Julius B. Novak, medical director of the institute, reported that tuberculin skin tests were made of 1,242 girls and 3,741 boys. Of this group 33 per cent reacted positively to the tuberculin test, indicating that at some time they had been exposed to the disease. Postive reactions to this test are common, it was explained.

The doctors also took X-ray pictures of the chests of 1,549 students. The reading of the pictures is not yet completed, but so far discloses, following physical examinations, five cases of the adult type of tuberculosis and 80 cases of childhood tuberculosis. None of the adult cases were of active form and the childhood types are reported as healed or healing.

FIRED SPANISH CABINET RIDES BACK INTO POWER

President Gives Sour O. K. to Ministry.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Spain, June 12.—Premier Manuel Azana and a determined bloc of left wing Republicans and Socialists rode back into power tonight, closing the parenthesis opened Thursday by President Niceto Alcala Zamora in the hope of moderating the March revolution in Spain.

It was a triumphant Azana who, pastier looking than ever after four days and nights of political poker, called this evening at the national palace. With cold politeness he showed Zamora the ministry that he had been given free hand to form after the unhappy president had called and bluffed all along the line.

Almost Identical Cabinet.

Except for the addition of the obscure Federalist party and 12 precious votes, the new Azana ministry is almost identical with the one Zamora vetoed in the belief, it is said, that the country was against it and the republic in danger because of its continuance in power.

The president sourly approved the cabinet.

The key radical Socialist party receives a third portfolio, that of public instruction. The cabinet gets another school teacher in the person of Francisco Barnes. He inherits it from the Socialist, Prof. Fernando de los Rios, who replaces the colorless and partyless Luis de Zulueta at foreign affairs. Barnes also inherits the formidable chore of preparing schools for from 300,000 to 600,000 children because the closing of religious schools in October will throw them on the state.

The Catalans allowed their favorite son, Luis Companys, lawyer of the syndicalists, to be shunted into the navy, while the mere economist Augustin Zinuales, though not a deputy, but reputed to be a wizard, succeeds the rich Catalan banker, Jaime Carner in the ministry of finances.

Federal Party Rewarded.

In return for the votes of their 12 flamboyant rebels, the Federal party drew the new ministry of industry and commerce.

If Alejandro Lerroux's radicals and the rest of the opposition decide to fall on the new Azana government with obstructionists weapons as before, these 12 votes will come in handy.

Zamora plaintively today, after abandoning hope of bringing Lerroux into power, requested Azana to beg the radical chieftan for assurances that there will be no more obstructions. Azana merely asked Lerroux what his intentions might be and expects a reply tomorrow. The fate of the parliamentary régime in Spain may depend on that reply. A new filibuster is bound to provoke the closing of parliament, which would mean a long delay in calling elections.

LEADERSHIP BY CHURCH NEEDED, SYNOD IS TOLD

The Illinois synod of the United Lutheran church opened a five day annual session yesterday at St. Peter's church, Spaulding and Le Moyne avenues. In his convention sermon last night the Rev. Dr. Roy G. Catlin, president of the synod, emphasized the need of leadership by the churches in the present time of economic and social confusion.

Dr. Catlin pointed to the efforts of Buchmanism in England and America and to the youth movements of Germany to gain leadership which, he asserted, really belongs to the churches. He remarked that variations in languages used in American churches, as well as overlapping organizations in the churches, hamper religious leadership.

The convention of the United synod is the first of three conventions of several related Lutheran groups here this week. On Saturday all groups will unite in Lutheran day at A Century of Progress. The Illinois district of American Lutheran church will begin its sessions at Grace Lutheran church, 61st street and Marshfield avenue, today. The Augustana synod will open its national convention at Bethel church, 6200 South Peoria street, tomorrow.

SZYMCZAK GOES TO CAPITAL TO MEET PRESIDENT

City Controller Szymczak, whose appointment as a member of the federal reserve board was confirmed by the United States senate last Saturday, left for Washington to confer with President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Treasury Woodin. The controller said he would be back within a few days, and would continue to act in Mayor Kelly's cabinet until his successor is appointed. The mayor said that he has not decided yet upon a new appointee.

FAIR VISITOR JOSTLED; PURSE GONE.

Philip Cohen of Los Angeles, a visitor to A Century of Progress exposition, reported yesterday to police that he missed his pocketbook containing a railroad ticket worth $150 after he had been jostled by two women in front of the Field museum.

Lake County Recorder, 73, Marries His Chief Deputy

Lewis O. Brockway, 79 years old, for 33 years recorder of Lake county, and Miss Anna Botsford, his chief deputy during those years, were married at Lake Geneva, Wis., last Saturday. They had hoped to keep their marriage a secret, but word got out somehow, and yesterday when the newlyweds returned to their respective offices in Waukegan, they found flowers on their desks. Mr. Brockway's first wife died four years ago. His home is at 930 Hickory street, Waukegan. His bride formerly lived at 319 Grand avenue, Waukegan.

PRESIDENT SAYS VETERAN FUND MUST NOT GROW

But the motion for a vote tomorrow on the industry control bill carried with striking ease.

The swiftness of the capitulation—even though they knew it might be deceptively temporary — caused the Democratic managers to hope with more confidence for an adjournment by tomorrow night or by Wednesday.

But they were making no predictions, nor were they attempting to take the reins and try to drive their legislative program through. Their policy, they said, was to give the recalcitrant members their heads and force them to take the responsibility for delaying the special session's close.

Charges Publicity Efforts.

In the senate Democratic Leader Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas openly asserted that in the case of one or two members at least the plan to keep congress in session was part of a personal publicity campaign. He declined to name whom he meant, though it was reported that one of the senators was Senator Arthur Robinson [Rep., Ind.], who must run for reëlection next year.

Reports were brought to him, the Democratic leader explained, of certain senators who had said that they wished congress might stay in session all summer so that they might have a forum, a national audience, and the privilege of sending their speeches free through the mails.

Other senators, Senator Robinson said, were anxious to continue the session through the week or at least until Thursday, when the war debt payments are due, so that they might have a chance to express themselves concerning the events of the London economic conference and concerning the debts.

Debate Over Veterans.

There was no mistaking the sentiment of the senate when the veterans' provisions of the independent offices bill came before it. No sooner had the bill been taken up than Senators Bronson Cutting [Rad., N. M.] and Frederick Steiwer [Rep., Ore.] began an attack that wound up with a motion to send it to conference with instructions to the conferees to insist on it.

The amendment proposed by the senators from New Mexico and Oregon cut the heart out of the compromise agreed to by the President and the house by placing the burden of proof on the government. Thus in such cases the government must prove the contrary or ailments are regarded as arising from service.

Deadlock Is Predicted.

One of the President's congressional spokesmen argued that to instruct the conferees to insist on the amendment would tie their hands. Democratic Leader Robinson predicted a deadlock if the motion were carried. Their voices were drowned out by the speeches of the veterans' friends.

At last, in order to avoid an immediate vote, they promised that the conferees would return to the senate for instructions before agreeing to any amendment.

Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.], perhaps out of past experiences in managing conferences himself, suggested that there might be ways for the conferees to evade the promise. His words brought Senator Robinson to his feet, red with anger.

"Let's vote now, then," he shouted. "I don't want any one making charges later on about breaking gentlemen's agreements. Either let's vote on the motion to instruct and perhaps get into a deadlock or else treat the agents with decent respect."

Senator Robinson was finally soothed and the bill sent to conference. There the house conferees refused to accept the senators' proposal and tonight the White House parley followed.

Industry Control Bill Up.

The agreement to vote tomorrow on the industry control-public works bill was a real victory as it forestalled a long and perhaps disastrous fight over the three major amendments. Those are the La Follette amendment proposing publicity for income tax returns, the Clark amendment to tax securities now tax exempt and the Borah amendment providing that trade codes might not encourage price fixing or restraint of trade. The La Follette amendment was amended in conference committee, leaving the degree of publicity up to the President; the Clark amendment was eliminated entirely; the Borah amendment was softened by a change of language. Those in charge of the bill were fearful that one or all of them might provoke long debate or even a filibuster.

Want Plans Modified.

Three joint resolutions providing for modification of the President's reorganization program were presented during the day and these must be debated and voted on, but Senator Robinson hoped that the consideration of them would be brief.

The Glass banking bill, the Democratic leader said, is not to be allowed to stand in the way of adjournment.

The appearance of signs of long argument will be the signal to abandon that bill for this session.

With the essential legislation out of the way, Senator Robinson pointed out, he will come into control of the situation, since a motion to adjourn is privileged and may be made at any time that the floor can be secured.

Three Major Bills Pending.

Before the senate, as the day's session began, were the three major bills which were passed by the house last week, but which were halted when the senate revolted.

The first of these was the independent offices appropriation bill, carrying the compromise amendment by which the drastic provisions of the economy act were to be liberalized and the 460 millions of savings in veterans' benefits decreased to some 360 millions.

The bill awaited senate action to send it to a conference committee.

Second was the conference committee report on industry control-public works bill. The house agreed to the report last Saturday. Tomorrow's senate vote will decide whether it shall be passed in its present form or whether the upper house will insist on changes and more delay.

Third, was the deficiency bill carrying 3 billion 300 million dollars for the public works program and 169 million dollars for other measures. This, too, was passed by the house last Saturday. The conference report on the Glass banking bill was sent to the senate.

House Waits for Senate.

In the house it was a day of waiting upon the senate. Having given its final approval to the industry control-public works bill, having asked the senate for a conference on the independent offices' bill, and having passed the 3 billion 459 million dollar fourth deficiency bill, the lower house can do nothing more to further the administration measures until the senate acts. Representative William P. Connery was unable to bring up his 30 hour a week bill, though he has hoped to force a vote at this session.

As far as adjournment was concerned, house leaders were of the opinion that the session can be concluded tomorrow night unless still further delays are encountered in the senate, though that might not come until Wednesday or Thursday.

Bank Reform Bill Comes Up Today; May Pass This Session

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—A tide of congressional sentiment in favor of federal insurance of bank deposits today swept the Glass-Steagall banking reform bill into a definite place on the program of major bills which administration leaders are striving to pass before adjournment of the special session.

Reported out in compromise form today by the house-senate conference committee, the measure is to be taken up in the lower branch tomorrow, with passage regarded as certain. Approval by the senate is considered likely, although more opposition to the measure's provisions is reported to exist there than in the house.

The bill represents the outcome of two years of effort on the part of Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.] and other congressional banking experts to revise the national banking structure. It provides for broad changes in the present set-up and aims indirectly at an eventual unification of state and national banking systems in the federal reserve system.

Amendment Altered.

The so-called Vandenberg amendment, under which deposits up to $2,500 in all banks would have been insured immediately upon enactment of the measure, was retained in essence by the conferees, but was altered to provide that it shall not become effective until Jan. 1, 1934. Six months later the more comprehensive insurance plan devised originally by Senator Carter Glass, co-author of the bill, is to go into operation.

Under this permanent plan deposits up to $10,000 are to be insured 100 per cent; deposits between $10,000 and $50,000 insured 75 per cent; and those above $50,000 insured 50 per cent.

The Vandenberg amendment was designed to bridge the gap between the date of enactment and July 1, 1934, when the Glass guarantee plan was to become effective. But it was felt that it would be impossible to admit non-member state banks to the guarantee fund immediately without examination. By delaying the start of the Vandenberg plan until Jan. 1, 1934, opportunity is provided for an investigation of the non-member state banks which apply for participation in the guarantee fund.

Fund of Half a Billion.

The fund, under the terms of the bill, is to total approximately half a billion dollars. Of this the federal reserve banks are to contribute one-half of their surplus on Jan. 1, 1933, in an estimated aggregate of 175 million dollars. A similar sum is to be obtained through member banks' subscription of one-half of 1 per cent of their total deposit liabilities, while 150 million dollars would be subscribed by the government. A "federal bank deposit insurance corporation," with power to issue one billion dollars in notes and debentures, would be created.

Under the compromise bill, state banks are admitted to the guarantee fund upon certification by state banking authorities and the payment of the same charges levied on the member banks. If they have not made application for membership in the federal reserve system by July 1, 1936, they are to be dropped.

The Glass-Steagall bill provides for the divorcement of security affiliates from commercial banking houses within one year. This provision would likewise apply to private banking houses.

Branch banking by national banks would be permitted, under the bill as reported today, in states where state laws permit branch banking by state institutions.

CONGRESS DELAYS ACTION FOR 12% NATURAL WINE

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(AP)—Legislation to legalize the manufacture and sale of 11 to 12 per cent wine was put over today until the next session of congress.

The ways and means committee voted 11 to 9 to postpone consideration of the Lea bill until the January regular session.

Chairman Doughton said the reason for the vote was that "we had not heard both sides of the question and thought that we couldn't get the bill through this session anyhow."

The bill, indorsed by Maj. A. V. Dalrymple, federal prohibition administrator, as something that would increase respect for the eighteenth amendment, would have permitted public sale of naturally fermented wines, which now may be manufactured in homes, and taxed the new beverage 20 cents a gallon.

The measure, however, would have forbidden the addition of sugar to increase the alcoholic content. Since eastern grapes were said to contain less sugar than those produced in California and western states, differences over that provision were described by committee members as having influenced decision to delay action.

TREASURY ASKS FOR BIDS ON TEN BUILDING JOBS

Projects Will Cost More than Million Dollars.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.] — The treasury department already has started its share of President Roosevelt's 3 billion, 300 million dollar public works program without waiting for the authorization or the appropriation to be approved by congress.

L. W. Roberts Jr., assistant secretary in charge of public buildings, has thrown 10 construction projects, involving about a million and a half dollars, on the market during the last five days.

Bogs Down in Congress.

Meanwhile, the public works bill authorizing the expenditure still is bogged down in the congressional tangle, and the actual appropriation is likewise tied up in the fourth deficiency bill, the largest appropriation measure of peace time.

Since President Roosevelt commandeered all public construction funds to finance his forest camps, the treasury has been without funds to push new buildings. Bids are being advertised for with the assurance that the President's program will pass and more money become available. If the program hits a snag, the contracts will not be awarded.

The ten projects with which Assistant Secretary Roberts has launched the program are scattered from Maine to California and involve a total cost of $1,455,000. None, however, is in Chicagoland. About 480 projects costing about 108 million dollars are being prepared for the market. They either are being drafted into final shape by architects, are ready for bids, or are awaiting purchase of sites.

16 Illinois Towns on List.

The treasury is proceeding with projects already listed on the regular government program or in the emergency program passed last year. Sixteen Illinois towns are on these two lists. They are Peoria, Jacksonville, Decatur, Elmhurst, Galesburg, Moline, Quincy, St. Charles, Urbana, Villa Park, Wilmette, Monticello, West Frankfort, Champaign, Fairfield, and Libertyville.

Thus far projects have been advertised for bids at the average rate of two a day for the last five days. Today, however, the rate was stepped up to three, and later it will be increased again as drawings are completed until millions are offered to contractors for bidding each day.

TO MAKE PUBLIC POLITICIANS WHO BACK GANGSTERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—Plans to expose politicians who seek protection or pardons for gangsters were taken under advisement today by Attorney General Cummings.

Acting on the suggestion of newspapermen, Cummings said he would consider making public the statements of politicians who try to obtain leniency or release for hoodlums caught by federal agents.

Cummings admitted that politicians are among the most active defenders of gangsters, seeking to free them because of the political influence they may have. He indicated that he had been greatly bothered by such requests.

TREASURY ACTS, AVERTS BLOW TO BIG NOTE ISSUE

Washington, D. C., June 12.—[Special.]—How the government's 900 million dollar financing was jeopardized by a senate amendment to the national industry recovery act proposing to tax securities now tax exempt and how the treasury secured elimination of that amendment was disclosed today.

Friday night the senate adopted an amendment by Senator Clark providing that income from all governmental securities should be taxable. At that time the treasury had just received subscriptions more than five times in excess of the 900 million dollars asked for its June 15 financing. It was taken for granted that the tax exemption clause in the offering had much to do with the enthusiastic reception of the offering.

However, the securities were not deliverable until June 15. According to treasury officials subscribers could not be compelled to accept them if the tax exemption clause were abrogated.

High officials got busy on the telephone and long but emphatic discussions with house and senate leaders ensued. The result was elimination of this amendment by the conference committee late Saturday. It was understood that responsible leaders had intended to exert considerable pressure for elimination of the taxing clause, being fully aware of the difficulties it would cause. They entertained grave doubts as to its constitutionality. The treasury activity, however, served as an added stimulus.

The 500 million dollars in five year 2¾ per cent notes and 400 million dollars in nine months ¾ per cent certificates were offered with the following provision:

"The treasury notes and treasury certificates of indebtedness will be exempt both as to principal and interest from all taxation [except estate or inheritance taxes] now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any state, or any of the possessions of the United States, or any local taxation authority."

Former Secretary Mellon and former Secretary Mills had consistently fought for a constitutional amendment to eliminate tax exempt securities. However, pending the adoption of such an amendment, the treasury sought authority from congress to issue tax exempt federal securities, since it was difficult to compete with the tax free state and county bonds. As a result, the issuance of federal tax exempts was authorized.

The amendment would have added about 675 million dollars to the taxable income of individuals and corporations making tax returns next year.

HORNER ASKS O.K. OF ASSEMBLY FOR SEWAGE BONDS

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—[Special.]—Passage of the bill to authorize the Chicago sanitary district to issue without referendum whatever amount of bonds is necessary to comply with the recent decision of the United States Supreme court was predicted today when Gov. Horner declared himself strongly in favor of the measure.

It is known that he intends to send a special message on this subject to the general assembly when it reconvenes tomorrow, and his interview was accepted as a forecast of the argument he will present more formally to the legislators. The bill is ready for final passage by the house of representatives, which last week beat off an attack—largely Republican in character—which was intended to kill the bill.

Passage by the house tomorrow or Wednesday is predicted; and it is believed the senate will follow suit rapidly.

Burden on Sanitary District.

"The state of Illinois should do what it can to comply with the court's requirements that it act to assist the sanitary district to comply with the decree of the United States Supreme court," Gov. Horner said. "It is only proper that this burden should be carried entirely by the sanitary district of Chicago. The trustees have indicated their willingness to do so if put in the position where they can obtain funds for this purpose.

"In 1931 the general assembly authorized the issuance, without referendum, of bonds by the sanitary district of Chicago to the extent of 36 million dollars to enable it to complete its plants for the purpose of decreasing the diversion of water from Lake Michigan, as required by the decree of the Supreme court of the United States. The economic depression, however, has prevented the sale of those bonds.

"Due to the delay in the collection of taxes in Cook county, the sanitary district has not received sufficient taxes to prevent its other bonds from going into default. As a result of its inability to dispose of the bonds authorized by the general assembly, it has been unable to continue its construction program.

Construction of Sewage Plants.

"In view of the fact that the Supreme court of the United States has declared the necessity for this expenditure in an amount exceeding the existing authorization, I recommend that further authorization by appropriate act of the general assembly be given the sanitary district of Chicago to issue its bonds without referendum in the amount required to cary out and complete its program for the construction of sewage treatment works and appurtenances thereto.

"Although these bonds may not be immediately salable on the open market, it is believed and hoped that they may be available as collateral for loans to the sanitary district of Chicago from federal agencies now in existence or expected to be authorized as a result of legislation now adopted and also under consideration in the congress.

"The United States Supreme court decree requires a report from this state by Oct. 2, 1933. In view of the nature of the order entered by the court, I earnestly hope this matter will receive the immediate and serious consideration of the members of the general assembly.

Ask Referendum on Decree.

"The public and general assembly may rest assured that the rights of the people of the state of Illinois will be vigorously pressed and asserted before the Supreme court of the United States. I am advised by the attorney general that a petition will be promptly filed for a rehearing in the Supreme court on its decision and asking referendum of the said decree.

"In the meantime, however, it is necessary to take immediate steps to enable the sanitary district of Chicago to discharge on its own account the obligations placed upon it by the decree of the United States Supreme court. The court's decision very definitely requires the immediate commencement of work by the sanitary district of Chicago in order that the full construction may be completed by the end of 1938."

Miss Viola Miller, 20 years old, shot and killed herself yesterday morning in her home at 648 Lincoln avenue, Dolton. Miss Miller was a graduate of the Thornton High school.

No More Piles

How to End Terrible Agony Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

HEM-ROID tablets have an almost unbelievable record of success. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Walgreen's invites every sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case?

Protest Halts Plan for 30 Million.

New York, June 12.—[Special.]—Tammany Hall's plan to impose a special auto tax and river bridge tolls to increase city revenue by $30,000,000 failed because of a floodtide of protest.

The board of estimate, presided over by Mayor John P. O'Brien, was holding a formal public hearing and the high moguls of Tammany were conferring uptown and they did not even wait until all the speakers at the all-day hearing had had their say, but decided not to press the plan.

Before the Tammany decision became known speakers at the hearing denounced the additional tax plan and demanded that the city pay roll and expenditures in general be reduced before levying any further imposts. The city administration had been planning the auto and bridge taxes to satisfy the demand of the bankers for building up the city's revenue before they would extend $210,000,000 of the city's short term notes. The bankers still insist that the city get at least $30,000,000 more into its treasury. Tammany and O'Brien must find some means of doing that lest the bankers run out and leave the city bankrupt, with an election only a few months off.

Some of the speakers at the board of estimate hearing advocated a tax of 2 cents on the nickel subway fares, others favored a tax of $5 on small autos, $10 on large ones, still others a sales tax.

Deputy Controller Frank J. Prial defended the city against Harold Riegelman, counsel to the citizens' budget commission.

Riegelman said the city could effect further economies, and until that was done his commission was opposed to any new taxation.

"Didn't Peter Grimm, the head of the citizens' budget commission, in a letter to this board dated May 20, go on record that a toll charge be made on the bridges over the East river?" Prial demanded.

Riegelman replied that the commission had since changed its stand. Prial reminded Riegelman of having appeared before the board of estimates, strongly advocating a tax on taxicab rides and bridge tolls.

This dispute rapidly developed into a shouting contest.

Awarded Medal

Clara Dutton Noyes, national director of the American Red Cross Nursing Service, Washington, D. C., was awarded the Saunders medal for "distinguished service in the cause of nursing" at the 39th annual convention of the National League of Nursing Education last night. The league met in the Drake hotel, where its sessions will continue through Friday.

Mrs. Lester E. Frankenthal, wife of Dr. Frankenthal, noted gynecologist on the staff of Michael Reese hospital, told the delegates how she helped to found the American Society of Superintendents of Training Schools for Nurses in 1893, when the Columbian Exposition was in progress here. The society later became the National League of Nursing Education. Mrs. Frankenthal was then superintendent of nurses at Michael Reese hospital.

GO EASY ON OUR PAY CUT, 5 JUDGES TELL ALDERMEN

But Plea Is Turned Down; 78 Day Dock Stands.

Five judges of the Municipal court, speaking for Chief Justice Sonsteby, who was out of the city, appeared before the city council finance committee yesterday to insist that they and the political employés of the court should be docked only 48 days pay this year instead of 78 days. Most of the city service employés are docked 78 days.

After the judges had presented their case, Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th] moved that the court appropriations be set up on the 48 day pay cut schedule. He pointed out that the court has the authority to fix its own appropriation; and if the council docks the court employés 78 days the court may mandamus the council for the thirty days' difference, thus causing a deficit in the city budget. The committee, however, defeated the motion, returning the 78 day pay cut for the judges and court employés.

"A Good Excuse."

"You aldermen," said Judge Howard Hayes, "have a good excuse for cutting only 48 days' pay from our salaries. Our salaries are fixed by statute and you have no responsibility in this matter.

"The aldermanic salaries are fixed by statute also," replied Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the finance committee, "yet we have taken the same cut as other city employés."

"The court was nearly unanimous for only a 48 days' pay reduction," Judge Frank M. Padden stated.

"And you should remember," chimed in Judge Robert Jerome Dunn, "that we have volunteered to take the 48 days' reduction. No one had to threaten to fire us. On election to the bench we must forego the practice of law. City employés can get another job if they don't like the cut."

Makes Plea for Laboratory.

Judge Joseph Graber limited his time before the committee to an appeal for an appropriation of $23,800 to establish a psychiatric laboratory for the court. The laboratory was operated last year under the city board of health, and the aldermen agreed to shift it to the court, but with an appropriation less than was requested.

Chief Justice Sonsteby came in for criticism when the aldermen learned that he had added two probation officers to his staff without authority from the council. Because service has been rendered by the two employés the committee authorized the payment of the salaries for the first six months of this year.

A number of minor amendments to the budget, chiefly technical, that did not affect the total were concurred in by the aldermen. Other amendments are expected tomorrow when the budget is voted upon by the council.

Burglar's Tactical Barrier Enables Him to Get Away

A burglar, surprised as he was looting the second floor apartment of Walter Reynolds at 1344 Lunt avenue yesterday, leaped out a window into a court and escaped. Reynolds reported to the police that when he arrived at home he found the burglar had piled a chair and a cot against the front door to delay entrance and give him time to get away. Neighbors said he ran into an alley and leaped on a passing truck.

Eight Killed, 100 Injured in Mexican Election Riot

MEXICO CITY, June 12.—(AP)—Eight persons were killed and about 100 injured in a provincial election day riot yesterday at Zitacuaro, state of Michoacan, said dispatches reaching here today. Twenty of the injured were reported wounded by gunfire. The trouble was said to have started with fist fights between rival political groups gathered in a theater to hold a plebiscite.

ASK HIGH COURT TO LIBERATE BOY JAILED FOR DEBT

Attorneys for William Weber, 15 year old high school boy, who is in the county jail because of his inability to pay a judgment obtained by a woman who was injured by his automobile, filed a petition yesterday for a writ of habeas corpus for his release in the state Supreme court.

The boy was sent to jail on June 8 for the second time when Superior Judge Joseph B. David dismissed a petition for habeas corpus, ruling that there were no legal grounds for Webers' release. The petition in the Supreme court contends that imprisonment for debt is prohibited by the constitution. The Supreme court has ruled against similar contentions for 80 years.

The judgment for $2,500 against the boy was obtained by Mrs. Lucille Saliba of Berwyn.

BLOW-OUT NEARLY TAKES TWO LIVES

Another serious week-end accident occurred yesterday afternoon on the crowded Interstate Highway. young child in front and the car was going about "sixty" when a blow-out who was at the wheel said she lost complete control of the car.

Don't Let This Happen to YOU

- - - blow-out protection is free!

COULD you ever forgive yourself if a blow-out brought death or injury to your loved ones? It could. Every year thousands are killed—or injured—when blow-outs throw cars out of control.

And remember, blow-outs are a greater hazard today than ever before. Banked highways and high speed engines place a terrific strain on tires. You simply can't afford to take chances.

What causes blow-outs

When the speedometer reads 40, 50, 60 and 70—mile after mile—the heat inside the tire carcass becomes intense. Rubber and fabric begin to separate. A blister forms . . . and GROWS. Then suddenly it happens . . . a blow-out! The rim hits the road . . . And a terrible drag sets in . . . Like some unseen monster pulling your car off the highway.

But now Goodrich has developed the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This new invention—an exclusive feature of the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown—resists heat . . . prevents rubber and fabric from separating. Thus blisters don't form inside the tire . . . the cause of blow-outs is eliminated.

Three times safer at high speeds

At gruelling speeds on the world's fastest track, the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown Tire with the Life-Saver Golden Ply lasted three times as long as first quality tires that did not have this feature. Proved itself three times safer from blow-outs. Other tires blew out at one-third the distance the New Silvertowns were run. The New Silvertowns NEVER blew . . . They wore right down to the fabric. But the Golden Ply refused to give.

Safest anti-skid tread

The tread, too, is safer from skidding. Even on wet, slippery pavements its squeegee drying action gives your car extra road grip and reduces danger of skidding to a minimum.

Remember—this wonderful Golden Ply protection is free! Goodrich Safety Silvertowns cost not a penny more than standard tires. So don't gamble any longer. Put a set of Goodrich Silvertowns on your car and have real protection between you and the highway.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR CHICAGO

2. Pay the defaulted bonds.
3. Overcome crime.
4. Speed up railroad passenger service.
5. Make Chicago the first city in the world.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

VICARIOUS PATRIOTISM.

A resolution passed by the senate requests the secretary of the treasury to call upon holders of the government bonds issued to finance the war to turn in their bonds in exchange for a new issue at a lower rate of interest.

The resolution invites attention to the voluntary conversion of British bonds paying 5 per cent interest for bonds bearing 3 per cent, and a similar sacrifice accepted by the French. The assumption is that American bondholders will not fall behind the British and French in the spirit of patriotic sacrifice which the fiscal exigencies of our government at this time ought to evoke.

We have as much faith in American patriotism as the senate, but we would suggest that the proposal would come with better grace from the senate and inspire a more enthusiastic response from the bondholders if senatorial proponents had shown more respect for the situation they are asking the bondholders to relieve at their own particular expense. Upon the day on which the resolution was passed almost unanimously the senate had revolted against every major measure of economy before it, at the President's authority to reduce unjustifiable expenditures in payments to veterans and at the reorganization orders which would save twenty-five million dollars by the abolition or consolidation of commissions, bureaus and other spending agencies which are cherished only by job holders and politicians.

The senate's appeal for sacrifice from citizens has little logic and less moral weight while the senate fights every substantial measure to relieve the necessity of the government and the taxpayers of the nation. Why should a government bondholder be asked to accept less than his due in order to allow the senate to maintain unjustifiable largess to organized exploiters and unnecessary expenditures upon an overblown bureaucracy? Until parasitic politics relaxes its grip upon expenditure it has no excuse for asking citizens to carry a load it will not lighten. The fixed charges of government must be reduced, but the first and essential step is the reduction of government spending.

OUR FASCIST REVOLUTION.

The industry control bill gives to the President supervision over the quantity of goods to be produced in factories and mines; the prices at which these goods may be sold; the markets into which they may move; the wages that may be paid. Every manufacturer may be required to have a government license to engage in interstate commerce. If he operates without a license he can be fined $500 and sent to jail for six months for every day he operates without one. Licenses may be revoked.

To call this measure revolutionary is merely to state the obvious. The question arises whether it is revolutionary in the Fascist or the communist sense. The Fascist and the communist share a profound disbelief in the capacity of the individual to serve the common good without direction from the government. They both put the government in the front office of every enterprise and every trade union, but whereas the communist throws every one else out and puts commissars in control, the Fascist is content to work, for the most part, through the existing executives, leaving them some range of independence and preserving the idea of private profits. The control contemplated in this country may be expected to start at least in the Fascist pattern, but what will follow its failure is any one's guess. Perhaps we shall have the good sense to revert to the economic system which created the wealth of this country and perhaps we shall take the final step in the direction of the tyranny and universal poverty which goes by the name of communism.

The "industrial recovery" measure is intended to meet the emergency created by the depression. It is intended to raise wages in sweated industries to the subsistence level and by doing away with what is called cutthroat competition to restore profits all around. No one will deny that these objectives are desirable; the only question is whether they are attainable by government action, and, if attainable, whether they will not of themselves create other and greater evils than we now are suffering from.

Two effects will be observed. The first will be an increase in the costs of many enterprises, the result of increases in the pay rolls and the costs of raw materials, and the second will be a general increase in the prices at which most manufactures are sold.

The framers of the bill naïvely think that the raising of wages must result in an increase in mass purchasing power sufficient to sustain the higher prices to be obtained for the things manufacturers will sell. They overlook the probable effect of a wage increase in stimulating the use of automatic machinery. As wages are forced upward wage earners will be replaced with machines. Likewise, as prices of goods mount the ability of consumers to buy will diminish. Perhaps the effect of higher prices may be masked for a time by the government's public works program, but there is a limit to the amount of money the government can spend for public works, a limit set by the ability of the taxpayers to raise the money needed for the annual service of the loans. We are today not far from that point.

What the manufacturers of this country need today more than anything else is volume of sales Given adequate volume, most of them can make profits at present prices. With volume, too, they will have to place more men on their pay rolls. Unless all the experience of the past is meaningless, the way to get volume is not to raise prices, as this bill will do. Higher prices produced by law mean less, not more, business, and less, not more, employment.

OFFICIAL HIGHWAY RAIDERS.

Traffic jurisdictions make one of the most irritating problems in the state. In theory it is quite reasonable that a community, big or little, should have the right to protect its thoroughfares from misuse and abuses by inconsiderate or reckless drivers. That theory has to face the fact that the abuse often comes from the officials of the community. This is particularly true in the villages about Chicago.

As soon as travel increases in the spring incidents of outrage are reported. The latest one is from Justice Park, a village that gets a good deal of north and south travel. There a father and son were kept twelve hours in a jail of one cell till the father was prostrated by the heat. The mother and a friend of the son tried all this time to obtain the release of the prisoners on bonds which the justice of the peace would not accept. He refused the offerings and the intolerable experience of the family followed.

Release was finally permitted when the village president knocked the lock off the jail and allowed a physician to enter. The son is a Northwestern graduate student and his friend a University of Illinois medical student. The responsibility of the family was easily ascertainable, and the charge of excessive speed at the time of night the arrest was made is denied by the family, and even if it could be established it would have to be overstretched to justify one-half of the experiences to which the arrested persons were subjected.

Every year bad spots in the Chicago environs appear. The fee snatching system is an incentive for constables and justices of the peace to raid the highways, seeking victims on any pretext they can use. Frequently it is nothing but a systematic official banditry against which victims have little immediate remedy. If the state and county cannot guarantee the public immunity against such abuse of law there will have to be a change in jurisdiction, depriving localities of the right to regulate traffic on thoroughfares within their territory. Not all of the local jurisdictions are inconsiderate, but a few bandits can bring a reproach to the whole system. Vigorous prosecution may stop the outrages, but if it cannot the control should be taken away.

State's Attorneys Crowe and Swanson made good records sending official bandits to the penitentiary. We believe State's Attorney Courtney will do as well.

THE INQUISITOR RELENTS.

The senate committee investigating the purchase of kits for the conservation workers finds there was nothing culpable in the proceedings, but remarks that there are dangers inherent in unchecked purchases not based on competitive bidding and recommends that the controller general pass upon the reasonableness of prices. It finds that the price in question is not excessive and that the contract is to stand, a conclusion marked by a complaisancy not prominent in senatorial inquests when politicians are not involved. The finding leaves the public funds touched for $1.40 per kit, although the army purchasing department testified that a comparable kit could be obtained for from 75 to 85 cents. That is a spread which would rouse great indignation in the senatorial bosom and bring forth much oratory if mere citizens were involved.

The incident, at any rate, and the senate report likewise, will leave no doubt that there not only are "dangers inherent in the situation" of this particular case, but in the whole course of lavish spending of public money under cover of emergency. The harvest of political favoritism is going to be rich and politics will not blight it.

A JAIL ESCAPE.

The people of Chicago are not likely to share Sheriff Meyering's complaisancy over the escape of John Holland. Chief Justice Prystalski thinks there was a prearranged scheme, but Mr. Meyering feels that it is just "making a mountain out of a mole hill." A remand slip for Holland's return to jail upon the withdrawal of sureties on his bond was only 24 hours late in getting from the court to the jail, so Mr. Holland walked away.

Whether there was corrupt intent in this proceeding or not, Sheriff Meyering is, we are confident, alone in thinking it worth noting only as an exception which proves the rule of his efficiency. The spirit shown by the sheriff in this case is not associated with efficiency.

DOOM OF THE IRON HORSE.

[New York Times.]

We find engineers both here and abroad turning to the streamlined train, the economical Diesel engine and cars of aluminum alloys. With Dr. Kruckenberg making nearly 150 miles an hour in a Zeppelin car and the "Flying Hamburger" at 90 miles reducing the German highway bus to the status of the tortoise, it was inevitable that a major American road would seek the aid of science in recovering its lost passenger traffic. The Union Pacific has decided to make a bold experiment which may indicate how the railway can again become the high-speed, inexpensive mass carrier. It announces that it will order a light three car, streamlined, air conditioned train to be driven at 110 miles an hour by internal combustion engines of only 600 horse power. With headlights, tail lights, whistles and bells neatly tucked away so that they offer no resistance, the train may compete even with the heavier and slower type of airplane.

The Iron Horse is doomed. His hissing, panting and puffing belong to a slower day. He will wind up in the museum. There he will be followed even by the streamlined locomotiveless train. The future belongs to the electrified road, impossible on a large scale in this economic crisis because of the heavy investment in new machinery, but inevitable in view of the demands of the shippers of heavy freight. Like the sailing ship of another day, the Iron Horse created a saga. But is there not poetry in a train driven by Niagara falls or Muscle Shoals?

THE CURE FOR SLEEP.

"Wiley Post, Aviator, Practices Going Without Sleep."—Headline. If Wiley will only come up and spend a few days in Chicago close to the loop he can practice going without sleep with no effort on his part whatsoever. The night passes something like this: "HONK! HONK! HONK!" (That would be an auto with one of those ten mile audible horns.) "Whoopee! Whoopee! Whoopee! Hey, Gert! Come on along. What's the matter with you, slow poke!" (That would be a party of merry young people coming out of the movies.) "Shweet Adderline, For yuh Ah pine, Yuh the flower OF MY HEART (hold it, Louie, hold it), Shweet Adderline." (That would be some of the boys en route from one speakeasy to another.) "Hey! Yuh can't park here! I sed yuh couldn't park here, I sed! What's that? Say, another crack like that and it's you to the station." ("Tis the voice of John Law, the traffic cop. Quite positive and extremely loud.)

And so on and so on all through the long night. Ah, yes, Mister Post, come up and train in Chicago on how to go without sleep. You won't have to sit with one foot off the floor or pinch yourself black and blue or keep dousing your head in cold water to keep from going to sleep. Oh, no, you'll stay awake all night without the slightest effort. BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! (That would be either an auto backfiring or somebody shooting at a bandit or a bandit shooting at somebody.)

Yes, indeed, Mr. Post, you come right up here and after a few nights you'll be so accustomed to going without sleep that you can stay awake for two months and never bat an eye.

APOLOGY FOR THE FLESH.

Not what I am: skin, bones, and flesh and blood
Rather unhappily mixed if judged by style;
Weak in my will, innocuous in my guile;
No shady memoirs nor a sinful past,
No niche carved out as yet, no work well done;
Never a laureled first, yet never last;
A tired runner and a burning sun.

Not that consider me. Rather, I say,
Look on me richly from the eyes of love
(Through which all things unkindly seem more pure)
Then judge this heart which sought the fairer day
And strove to move that which it could not move

KEITH BORDEN CAMPBELL.

OUR MOTOR STALLED just as we shoved in the clutch to make a getaway as the green light came on at the corner of Madison and Clark streets. Motors honked, truck drivers said horrible things, pedestrians gave us the razzberry. The crossing policeman came running over and we got ready for him to yell: "Hey, what's the matter? Why don't yuh get a hoss?" Instead of that he smiled kindly and said: "Don't get excited, that's liable to happen to anybody. Just take it easy and you'll be all right." We fainted dead away.

IT SEEMS TO BE a race these days between degrees and decrees. The decrees will win out in the long run, for graduation days will end with June, but the divorce mills will keep right on grinding.

"NEW YORKER Lost Thirty Hours in Chicago."—W-G-N. Pooh! The police aren't smart; we could find any New Yorker lost in Chicago in ten minutes. We would go right down to the lake front and look for a man about to pay twenty-seven dollars and fifty cents to a couple of strangers for a quitclaim deed to the Art Institute. If he wasn't there we would go up and grab him in Lincoln park, which he had just bought for six dollars and a quarter.

MILLENNIUM.

When brothers can live, without quarreling, together;
When neighbors can dwell in a semblance of peace,
Then nations can plan to disarm, without fearing,
For then, and then only, will war ever cease!

MARJORIE F. W.

"THE POLICE asked for no other explanation," said the story in The Trib. yesterday concerning the arrest of a man for smashing windows and breaking up the glassware in a woman's house. The man said the lady was his mother-in-law." Then it was "that the police asked no further questions." Which has all the earmarks of a dirty dig.

THE CHICAGO TEACHERS claim the school board had no right to lop off two weeks from the school term and although the schools have been closed, are reporting daily in their class rooms and declare they expect to be paid. Which seems a good deal like the zenith of optimism.

DIE STADT IST ZERSTORT.

Our town well shot to hell is,
Chicago's ruined now;
Come wrack, come wreck, come ruin . . .
Come, Mrs. O'Leary's cow;
Come, old and new disasters:
Thou canst not daunt us, thou.
To one's untold amazement,
The local polezei
Let billowing maids and matrons
Assault the sated eye.
Where once pajama'd shapes went
To draw the streetly glance
Now flock the femmes in rubber (sic)
Sans jacket, eke sans pants.

JOHN L'E. REYNOLDS' ASSISTANT.

AND YOU'VE GOT to admit this much good about the nudist movement. Birthday clothes are a lot cheaper than the kind the tailor makes. And they fit so well, too.

IS YOUR CHILD HEADED THAT WAY?

Of all the children born, 5 per cent, or one in twenty, have some form of mental disease in their life program. Before one year of age the fond parents of most of these twentieth children are generally quite certain they are the brightest ever. The fact that they are future Presidents or geniuses of some sort must be plain to every one. And yet the record indicates that they are headed for mental trouble. Even if the child is below normal at that age, and this happens occasionally, his actions differ from that of the garden variety of baby and the fond parent may misinterpret this difference. However, in the great majority of cases where the child is headed for the rocks there is nothing to indicate it in the first year of life.

The rule is that the breaks do not occur until the responsibilities of life have been carried for a few years. Inherited personality traits and grossly harmful training do not result in major mental disorders until well beyond adolescence. If the child has not been trained out of selfishness, egocentricity, or day dreaming, or if he has been brought up a "softie," without character, decision, or firmness of fiber, he is very apt to have a sick personality, especially after the pubertal period. However, this mental and personality disorder stops short of major disturbances.

The conclusion that mental illness is in the life program of one-twentieth of the babies as they come into the world is that of Sydenstricker, who wrote the chapter on vitality in the report of the commission on social trends. Nothing found in the entire report is more foreboding than this statement.

Nor does the writer of this chapter think we have reasons for being complacent about health. The sickness rates are high for people of all periods except older children and adolescents. Fatal illness is on the decline in all of the younger age periods, and it is not increasing in any except the older groups. But we are interested in living more comfortably and efficiently, as well as in living longer. To live more comfortably and efficiently we must decrease the sickness rates. Fewer days per year must be lost from work, fewer persons per thousand should be found each day on the sick list, and the hospital population must be smaller. In many ways these ends can be worked out gradually and slowly, but certainly.

CALLUS.

S. H. writes: Can you tell me what is good for callus? I have been bothered for two years. They are very hard and painful. I walk mostly on my heel and toe and turned in so no pressure will touch the callus. Will you tell me what to do?

REPLY.

Callus can be trimmed off with a razor. Wearing shoes that fit just right often causes callus to disappear. The cause is pressure and friction. The use of ductless gland for rejuvenation has been known to cause this trouble to disappear and the skin of the soles and palms to become thin and pink.

SLEEPERS.

Mrs. J. F. G. writes: Would like your explanation of a physical condition that has puzzled me for years. My husband and his two brothers are men of unusual vitality and good health and are energetic workers and, in common, they have a peculiarity that must be part of their makeup. When they are not active, whether after physical exertion or not and whether they have been in the open or not, they fall asleep. They relax just like babies. Their mother showed the same peculiarity. She was a hard working woman, mother of a large family. These men are now in their forties and their wives feel like starting a lonesome club. They sure are not companionable. They are early risers and on the job. Work is their main interest. What is the answer?

REPLY.

Let the wives learn the art. The ability to quickly and thoroughly relax is a great asset.

HONEY.

J. S. writes: Will you please write something on the benefits derived from honey?

REPLY.

Honey is a very palatable and wholesome form of sugar. Its use as a food is very old. It was the savage's principal source of food sugar thousands of years ago. The Bible refers to milk and honey as the favored foods of the early days of Bible history. It has the virtues and disadvantages of other forms of food sugar. The claim that it can be used with entire safety by diabetics has not been established.

NO BIDS RECEIVED.

Chicago, June 8.—[Friend of the People.]—Please inform me when sewers are to be installed in the 3200 block on North Oconto avenue [one block west of Harlem avenue and one block north of Belmont avenue]. Will Chicago sewerage be put in? J. F. F.

The board of local improvements advertised for bids for an 18 inch sewer in Oconto avenue, from Belmont avenue to Wellington avenue, on April 6, 1933. No bids were received for this job. The contractors claim there is no market for special assessment paper. If property owners who petitioned for the sewer would get together and receive bids from private sewer builders they could get a private contract and would no doubt save considerable money, because this kind of sewer construction is lower now than at any time in recent years.

CLAIM AGAINST ESTATE.

Chicago, June 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In July, 1931, a woman died. I put in a claim which was allowed by the court. A second party put in a claim [1] that was not allowed. This party sued and was paid, his bill being much larger than mine. I have written to the administrator. 2. He does not answer my letter. Must I sue as the second party did? A. A.

1. It is difficult to reconcile this statement with your later statement that he sued and was paid. It seems probable that what you mean is that the executor refused to mark the claim allowed, but the court later decided in favor of the claimant.

2. You might try looking up the records in the office of the clerk of the court and asking him to bring pressure to bear upon the administrator to close the estate.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 13, 1917.

ATHENS.—The fall of Constantine I., king of the Hellenes, has come. In response to the demand of the protecting powers, France, Great Britain and Russia, the king abdicated yesterday in favor of his second cousin, Prince Alexander. This climax in the affairs of Greece was brought about through the agency of the French senator, M. Jonnart, who has held posts in several French cabinets and who arrived at Athens only a day or two ago on an official mission as the representative of France, Great Britain, and Russia. Both the former king and Prince George, it was announced by Premier Zaimis, intend to leave the country immediately.

PETROGRAD.—The Kronstadt revolt has reached a new critical stage owing to the formal repudiation of the secessionist council of deputies. The garrison also virtually unanimously passed a resolution demanding that the council obey all the commands which the provisional government issues in defense of the revolution or in defense of Russia against a foreign enemy. This resolution so frightened the secessionist council that its president, the student Lamanoff, has come to Petrograd again to offer concessions to the cabinet.

WAR SUMMARY.—The first drawing of names under the selective draft will be made July 1. Secretary of War Baker issued a call for 70,000 men not subject to draft to join the army. Government officials began a general roundup of slackers for failure to register. London reports advance of the British on a front of nearly two miles east and northeast of Messines and the capture of the village of Gaspard. Paris reports minor infantry operations, but says the artillery duel is violent. Berlin reports repulse of five French counter attacks west of Cerny. Paris reports the invasion of Thessaly, Greece, to protect the harvest. Repulse of enemy attacks in Macedonia was reported.

CHICAGO.—Chicago and the middle west leaped into the lead of all sections of the United States for the day's subscription to the Liberty loan when the Continental and Commercial National bank with a single subscription matched the $25,000,000 taken by the general populace. The grand total for the day in Chicago stands at approximately $50,000,000.

CHICAGO.—James A. Patten was elected president of the board of trustees of Northwestern university at the meeting in Swift Hall of Engineering. At the same time the resignation of Bishop William Frazier McDowell, whom Mr. Patten succeeds, was accepted.

WORLD'S FAIR QUESTION BOX

Requests for information concerning A Century of Progress will be answered in this column. It is urged that questions be stated briefly.

QUESTION—Can a person attend the World's Fair, taking children to the Enchanted island and leave them there until called for?

ANSWER—Yes.

QUESTION—Will you please give me some information on the bridge sessions in the Hall of Science?

ANSWER—The sessions have not yet officially been opened. Every evening several hands are played, but the official contest will not open until the large electric scoreboard is installed.

In answer to a recent question as to what countries were represented at the Fair Czechoslovakia was omitted. The country has a 220 foot pavilion on the Avenue of Flags, just north of the Hall of Science, and was one of the first foreign nations to participate in the Fair.

INTELLIGENCE AND EDUCATION.

Chicago, June 9.—I am fairly intelligent, but not a highly educated man. Those who are conversant with the subject know that intelligence and education are not one and the same thing. The great danger of education is that it may, in fact most always does in those highly educated, destroy their intelligence. Education is a tool. An intelligent workman can do excellent work with very few tools. An unintelligent workman may have a bag full of bright, new tools, up to date and the latest kind, and he will bungle the job. And after bungling the job he will ask and beg for newer kind of tools, and the more he has the greater he will bungle.

In Washington today we have a number of highly educated college professors running the government. An overproduction of hogs will not do much harm. But there is a batch of Draculas, the greatest the world has ever known, being hatched in Washington by these highly educated professors. A Dracula, as you know, is a human blood sucking bat, an alien importation. Some day the intelligent men and women of this country will become fully conscious of the fact that the Draculas, bred by highly educated college professors, have sucked them almost to the last drop of blood; that they are white, pale, anemic, wan, and exhausted from the loss of living blood. Then the intelligent people will, instead of calling in Prof. Mordecai Ezekiel et al. to talk about Dracula birth control, go to the woodshed and pick up the ax and destroy the Draculas and the breeders of Draculas. The congressmen and senators, now with "bats in their belfries," will wonder why they were insane enough to surrender the country to the highly educated college professors. Perhaps, who knows, in a year or so the ax will become the symbol of Americanism, of American liberty.

AN INSTRUCTIVE ANALYSIS.

Chicago, June 9.—May I express my appreciation for your recent analysis, "How Taxes Cut Into Wealth of the Nation"? The paper of your standing and magnitude should write more and more concrete facts on modern economics, and less about gangsters and abstract events. You should be the guide in shaping the progressive and constructive thought, so that the people would reeducate themselves and take into the consideration actual, material conditions that govern our daily existence and struggle for life. People must adopt the new culture and understanding about all factors controlling our development and progress. You are the guide. P. W. S.

BATHING SUITS IN THE BUSES.

Chicago, June 9.—I have been a rider of the Diversey buses since they have been going west on Diversey, and each summer we have to contend with the same thing. Each night during the summer people who have been at the beaches, both Oak street and Diversey, board the bus with dripping wet bathing suits, pushing and shoving. Last evening at least thirty-five bathers got on the bus, some carrying children, water dripping on each person who happened to be sitting on the aisle. Nobody enjoys getting their clothes wet because of other people being inconsiderate. If any of these bathers happen to get a seat no one can sit alongside them without getting all wet. I hope this meets the eyes of some of the offenders. Perhaps it would be a good idea to run a special bus for these bathers, as they could easily fill one.

(Miss) MARIE DONAHUE.

TRANSFERS AT NIGHT.

Chicago, June 9.—In your issue of June 7 E. J. T. asserts that night cars on the Chicago Surface lines "do not connect anywhere." We would be glad to show E. J. T. or any one else who is interested our night car schedules, which are especially designed for connections at points of heaviest transfer.

Manifestly in the operation of a grid-iron system such as the Chicago Surface lines it is impossible to arrange night car schedules so that a car on a long line will connect directly with all of the cross lines. Our schedules are based, therefore, on traffic surveys showing the heaviest points of transfer, and connections are made with the cars at these points.

Conductors are specifically instructed not to pull away from a connecting point until the passengers on the connecting car have an opportunity to transfer.

C. H. EVENSON,
Superintendent of Transportation, Chicago Surface Lines.

BUMS.

Chicago, June 9.—I wonder if it would do any good to ask your assistance in cleaning up around the Garfield flophouse, 14th place and Newberry? It is impossible for a girl or woman to pass without being insulted by the bums that hang around there. They lounge all over the streets and sidewalks, and sit on other people's property, and if you chase them they won't move, but curse you. They sit in the windows of the flophouse and whistle and pass insulting remarks to every girl or woman passing. It's not very nice for the young girls and women that have to pass them in order to get to work, let alone the women that live in the neighborhood. When you own property it's not easy to move when you want to. Taxes must be paid.

They hold a Red meeting every evening at 6:30 and no one bothers them. They sit around and eat. What they don't want they throw on the streets and sidewalks. The place is always littered with garbage. Instead of keeping it clean they see how dirty they can make it.

Why not close the flophouses now? Let the bums drift back where they came from. Why must Chicago be the dumping ground for all the scum in the United States? MAY HITZELBURGER.

WE PREFER CENTRAL STATES.

Ravinia, Ill., June 9.—Is not this a good time for THE TRIBUNE, which is always desirous of increasing the prestige of Chicago and the central Mississippi valley region, to popularize some name as a substitute for "midwest"?

The "east" was first as far as the settlement of this part of the country was concerned, and, when we use the title "midwest," do we not in a somewhat psychological sense imply subserviency to the cities of the Atlantic coast as being first in importance? They with their power and influence seem to be the pole by which we are measured.

"Midlands" and "Chicagoland" are much used, but would not the names Midvale or Middlevale or Midvalley be more accurate and descriptive, giving us greater individuality and independence?

ALICE M. DOW.

FROM A CUB FAN.

Chicago, June 7.—I am an ardent Cub fan and I should like to say that the Cubs' ball team is not in need of any sarcastic remarks from Edward Burns, sports reporter. No one is interested in his silly remarks concerning the mental ability of the Cubs or their skill in playing. His job is to relate the events of the game and no more.

A STRAIN ON THE FAMILY TIE

Reveals Ruth Snyder Tried to Poison Gray.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 12.—[Special.]—A veritable museum of modern crime, with several hundred illustrations of the latest methods of scientific crime detection, was presented here today before several thousand leading physicians and surgeons from this country and abroad at the opening of the exhibit of the 84th annual session of the American Medical association.

The exhibit, one of a large number of other exhibits, was prepared by Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner of New York City; Dr. Alexander O. Gettler, chief New York City toxicologist of Bellevue hospital, and Dr. Harrison S. Martland, chief medical examiner of Essex county, New Jersey.

It shows in a manner more thrilling than any crime fiction how medicine, toxicology, and chemistry are aiding the police in solving some of the most baffling crime mysteries in recent times.

Refer to Famous Cases.

Two of the items which drew large crowds of fascinated physicians all day relate, respectively, to the Judd Gray-Ruth Snyder murder case and the mysterious death by drowning in 1931 off the coast of Long island of Starr Faithful.

In the Snyder-Gray case the exhibit brings to light a hitherto unknown fact which adds a more sinister and dramatic aspect to that murder. A small vial shows a quantity of whisky given by Ruth Snyder to Judd Gray after the murder, which he was to drink on his way home from Queens Village to Syracuse.

The vial contained enough bichloride of mercury, Dr. Gettler said, to kill several persons, thus showing that Mrs. Snyder plotted to poison her lover after he had helped her to kill her husband.

It was only by mere chance, it was learned later, that Gray did not drink it.

Drug in Girl's Brain.

Gray, Dr. Gettler told the physicians, offered the liquor to the detectives who arrested him, but the detectives took it along as further evidence. This evidence never was presented at the trial, which resulted in the conviction of Mrs. Snyder and Gray and their death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison.

The Starr Faithful exhibit shows two vials containing luminal, a sleeping drug, recovered from the dead girl's brain and liver. A total amount of twelve grains was recovered, sufficient to produce a deep sleep.

The legend explaining the luminal vials reads:

In Sleep When Drowned.

"Further analysis revealed a large amount of luminal in all the organs. The total estimated amount of luminal in the entire body was about twelve grains. This amount of luminal indicated that the girl was in deep sleep when she reached the water.

"She could not have jumped into the water. She must have been thrown in."

Thus a definite scientific solution is offered for a mystery which baffled the police here and abroad and which still is regarded as a case of suicide, particularly in the light of letters written by the girl just before she died.

The two little vials reconstruct the story of her tragic death as though she had herself come back to tell it.

TELLS HOW X-RAY MAY BE USED TO DETECT RICKETS

How the use of X-ray pictures can determine the presence of rickets in children before the disease has reached advanced stages was discussed yesterday by Dr. E. Gorter, European child specialist. Dr. Gorter was the guest speaker at the opening session of the American Academy of Pediatrics, which will continue its third annual meeting this afternoon in the Edgewater Beach hotel. Two hundred child specialists from this country and Canada are in attendance.

Using an ivory wedge placed on an X-ray film, Dr. Gorter said, he was able to discover the amount of calcium in the bones of children. Although rickets is prevalent among children in Holland, Dr. Gorter's native land, the disease has been reduced decidedly, he said, by use of the ultra violet light and vitamin D. He catalogued the ricket age as between four months and two years.

Round table meetings were held during the afternoon in which children's diseases were discussed. This afternoon reports of special committees will be presented on medical education, hospitals and dispensaries, and the relation of the academy to other medical groups and philanthropic organizations.

17 YEAR OLD BOY ADMITS KILLING OF HIS MOTHER

Fails to Enter Plea When Arraigned.

Flint, Mich., June 12.—[Special.]—Arraigned before Justice Frank W. Cain on a charge of first degree murder this afternoon, Balfe MacDonald, 17, who, police said, confessed a short time earlier to the slaying of his mother, wealthy society woman, stood mute. His attorney asked a hearing, which was set for Friday morning.

None of the members of Balfe's family was in the courtroom when the arraignment took place.

Police gave out a twenty-two page statement they said Balfe had made in the presence of Prosecuting Attorney Andrew J. Transue and four officers, confessing the killing.

"I struck her after we had quarreled for about three hours about my associates and money matters," read the statement. "I was sitting beside her bed. I got mad and picked up a big book end that stood on a radiator cover. I hit her and she said, 'You can't do that to me.' I guess I hit her three or four times. She just rolled over and over in the bed and called 'Balfe.'

"I got scared and ran out of the room. Then I went to the basement and got Bill [William Terwilliger, 16, held as material witness]. We went up and looked for my mother's pocketbook."

Then the boy told how he and his chum went to Nashville, where they decided to write extortion letters which led to their capture.

STATE ASKS BIDS FOR ASPHALT ON 3 CHICAGO ROADS

City Will Pay Half Cost of Paving.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—[Special.]—The state highway department is advertising for bids on the first Chicago street paving to be financed jointly by city and state under the provisions of an act passed by the 1931 legislature. The projects are:

The pavement is to consist of asphalt surface on a cement concrete base except under railroad viaducts where granite blocks will be used. This type of pavement, according to State Highway Engineer Lieberman, was selected by the board of local improvements.

Halted by Protest.

A year ago the board of local improvements, then headed by Benjamin Lindheimer, sought to let contracts for joint city and state asphalt work, but the plan was dropped when THE TRIBUNE published charges that the asphalt would throw an excessive special assessment upon the owners of abutting property.

Mr. Lindheimer has resigned as chairman of the city board but no appointment has been made to fill his chair. He is now Gov. Horner's chairman of the Illinois Commerce commission and an adviser to the administration on highway affairs.

Under the present plans, on which bids will be opened on June 21 and 22, there will be no special assessments. The state's share of the cost will be paid from its revenue from the motor fuel tax and license fees. The city's portion will be financed from city wheel tax collections as authorized in an ordinance recently passed by the council.

Avoids Expense Statement.

"Will the cost of this asphalt be greater than the cost of a comparable pavement of cement concrete?" Mr. Lieberman was asked.

"We'll know better when the bids are opened," he replied.

"Will the state approve a more expensive type of pavement?"

"Our policy is that the local authorities may select their type of pavement," he answered. "After all, the city street work is a local improvement. Each city has only so much money allotted to it. If the city selects an expensive type, the results are merely that the city gets less miles of pavement."

"But it's the motoring public at large that is paying the bill, not the local property owners."

Warren Avenue Repairs.

The state will receive bids at the same time for resurfacing the torn and rutted Kentucky rock asphalt on Warren boulevard between Garfield and Union parks and for paving Foster avenue from Central Park avenue to Elston avenue.

The state will pay all of the cost of these two projects. For the Warren job the existing concrete base will be used. On the Foster job, bids will be received on four types of materials — cement concrete, brick, sheet asphalt, and bituminous concrete.

State May Drop Charges in Bogan Bombing Case

Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller intimated yesterday in the Criminal court of Judge Michael Feinberg that charges of conspiracy against Mrs. Gussie Kallis, vice chairman of the Associated Retailers of Chicago, and her husband, Herman, 42 years old, would be dropped for lack of evidence. The Kallises were indicted after the bombing of the home of Superintendent of Schools Bogan on Oct. 23, last year. The bombing followed a controversy between school authorities and store owners over the operation of the penny lunchrooms in the schools.

COUNCIL GROUP HEARS CAB RATE DISPUTE TODAY

Moves to Force Aldermen Into Open Reported.

Several aldermen reported yesterday that pressure was being brought to bear on members of the city council yesterday in an effort to make them take sides openly in the taxicab rate question, which will come up for a hearing this morning before a joint meeting of the transportation committee and the traffic and public safety committee. At present the council is divided into those who believe there should be a reduction of the rate now charged by the Yellow and Checker companies and those opposed to a reduction.

Ald. William A. Rowan [10th] is the leader of the aldermen who are demanding that the present rate of 20 cents for the first quarter mile and 10 cents a half mile thereafter be cut to 15 cents for the first one-third mile and 5 cents a third mile thereafter. Ald. Rowan also advocates the establishment by ordinance of a loop zone in which taxicabs would charge 25 cents.

Provides for Contract.

The ordinance under consideration contains a provision for a five year contract between the city and the cab companies, which, some aldermen say, amounts to a perpetual franchise for the Yellow and Checker Cab companies, to the exclusion of independent companies which offer to charge less.

Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], chairman of the transportation committee, said the aldermen would spend all of today listening to both sides in the rate reduction controversy. The question of safety to the public in the operation of the lower rate cabs will be given consideration, he said. The competitors of the Yellow and Checker companies offer to post substantial bonds to insure payment of judgments due to accidents.

Question of Drivers' Pay.

Another of the questions due for discussion is the pay of the taxi drivers.

Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th], who is vice president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, said yesterday that it was not possible under the law for the council to fix any minimum wage for taxicab drivers. However, he said, the council has power to fix rates to be charged by taxicabs and these rates should be based on costs of operation, a living wage for drivers, and a reasonable return on capital invested.

Testimony at previous meetings of the council has tended to show that cab drivers today do not average more than $12 a week.

HONOR PIONEER ENGINEERS AT WATER TOWER

Ceremonies in observance of a century of progress in Chicago's waterworks engineering were held yesterday noon at the old water tower at Chicago and Michigan avenues. The ceremonies were timed for the opening of the American Waterworks association convention at Hotel Sherman.

Three bronze plaques commemorating the work of the city's pioneer engineers, John Ericson, Dewitt C. Cregier, and Ellis S. Chesbrough, were placed in the tower. The achievements of each engineer were recounted by Col. Henry A. Allen, Edgar S. Nethercut, secretary of the Western Society of Engineers, and William Curran of the American Federation of Labor.

Commissioner of Public Works Oscar Hewitt made an address. A message from Mayor Kelly was read. Speakers traced the development of waterworks engineering from the days when water was delivered to doors at 10 cents a barrel to its present development with 70 miles of tunnels now in service. More than 200 engineers were present.

7 Trustees in Charge; "Policies Continue."

Philadelphia, Pa., June 12.—(AP)—Cyrus H. K. Curtis, noted publisher, left the bulk of his estate to his daughter, Mrs. Mary Louise Curtis Bok, including the income of his vast publishing interests which were placed in trust.

The will, filed at Norristown, Pa., today, made no charitable gifts. It was explained that such provisions had been taken care of in order that they "might have the benefit of such gifts during my lifetime instead of being obliged to wait until my death."

Former Charities Aided.

Mr. Curtis, who died Last Wednesday in his 83d year, gave many millions to charitable and educational institutions in Philadelphia and other cities.

Mr. Curtis named seven trustees for his stock in the Curtis Publishing company, the Public Ledger company, and Curtis-Martin Newspapers, Inc. The Curtis Publishing company issues the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies' Home Journal, and Country Gentleman. Curtis-Martin Newspapers, Inc., publishes the New York Evening Post, the Philadelphia Morning and Evening Ledgers, and owns the Philadelphia Inquirer company.

The trust is to continue until the death of the last survivor of his daughter and his grandchildren, when the principal is to be distributed among other relatives.

Mr. Curtis expressed the belief that the "success of the Curtis Publishing company will be best insured by the continuance of the present management and policy," and added:

"It is my wish that the common stock shall be retained by my trustees and shall not be sold unless some extraordinary contingency shall arise, and then only in the event that my trustees unanimously agree."

There was no similar stipulation in the will in connection with Curtis-Martin Newspapers, Inc.

ORDER DRIVER OF DEATH CAR HELD TO GRAND JURY

Sigurd Swensen, 36 years old, 2430 Ballou street, was recommended held to the Kane county grand jury in Elgin yesterday at the inquest into the death of Mrs. Elsie Hohlen, 32 years old, 2604 Altgeld street. The coroner's jury held that Swensen was driving recklessly when his automobile struck Mrs. Hohlen and crushed her against a parked car in Elgin on Sunday.

Two friends who accompanied him left before he did, and when he emerged from the water Hroma could not find his clothes. He spent the night alternately hiding in the chilly pool and trying, unsuccessfully, to flag motorists on a nearby highway. At dawn a motorist told police that what appeared to be an insane man, nude, had leaped at him from the roadside. Police investigated and took Hroma home in the patrol wagon.

Laflins to Invite 100 for Evening with Leacock

Humorist-Economist to Be Lake Forest Speaker.

BY JUDITH CASS.

BECAUSE they enjoy Stephen Leacock's subtle humor and brilliant repartée and because the seats for the commencement exercises at Lake Forest academy next Saturday morning are reserved for the families and friends of graduates, Mrs. Louis E. Laflin and the junior Louis E. Laflins are issuing invitations this morning to more than 100 of their friends to meet the Canadian humorist at 8 o'clock next Saturday evening at Ellsloyd, their lovely Lake Forest home.

It is certain to be one of the nicest parties of the week-end.

Dr. Leacock, economist at McGill university, who visited Chicago only six weeks ago to give the English Speaking union "Education by the Yard," is coming this time to address the graduates of Lake Forest academy at 11 o'clock Saturday on the academy campus. He is delighted, however, to stay over to accept the Laflins' invitation and give their friends a few highlights on present day trends in education.

Mrs. Laflin is requesting promptness of her guests, since Dr. Leacock hopes to make an 11 o'clock train Saturday night back to Canada. He is arriving in Chicago Friday evening for a hurried look at the Fair and perhaps a few hours with his good friends, the Gordon Laings of Kimbark avenue. Mrs. Laing explained yesterday that they were unable to entertain for Dr. Leacock this time, since she is suffering from arthritis in her right hand.

Students to Give Historical Play.

Plans revealed yesterday for the Lake Forest commencement indicate a gay and interesting two days, Friday and Saturday, on the academy campus. The event that is attracting the most attention—next to Dr. Leacock's address—is the one act historical play a cast of students, with the assistance of several outsiders, is to give at 3 o'clock Saturday in celebration of the 75th birthday of the academy.

It is an episode in '63 by John Oldboy, a pseudonym for at least a half dozen academy trustees and officials who have conspired in putting the piece together. It portrays a meeting of the Philologian society June 18, 1863, as drawn by the various authors from the secretary's book that has been preserved all these years. When produced Saturday it will be just 70 years minus one day after the original meeting was held.

Mrs. George C. Ellis to Be Leading Lady.

Mrs. George Corson Ellis, whose ability as an actress has been acclaimed since her recent appearance in "Return to Folly," is to play the feminine lead as Mrs. Milford Butler, the wife of the academy president in the '60s. Miss Jane Trowbridge, whose family, the Calvin D. Trowbridges, has been intimately associated with the school for generations, will be Miss Butler, and Mrs. Hermon Dunlap Smith will take the part of Miss Dickinson, another Lake Forest belle of civil war days.

In telling us yesterday that Andy Rebori Jr. is to take the part of Dr. Joseph Matteson, the bad boy of early academy days, the school officials didn't say whether this was a commentary on young Mr. Rebori's present day academy deportment. Tim Smithies, who enters Princeton next fall, is to impersonate George Manierre and a half dozen more academy students will appear as Charles Butterfield, George H. Holt, Charles S. Hulburd, Lucien G. Yoe, Charles L. Page, and Alexander Hesler, all of them pioneers widely known in early Lake Forest history.

There is much humor in the piece and much of historic interest. A student taking the part of Robert W. Patterson, will, for instance, read the letter written to Abraham Lincoln asking him to become an honorary member of the Philologian society.

Today this society is known as the Senate, but present report is that it is to take back its original name next fall.

Katherine Trowbridge and Fiance to Be Busy.

Delighted as he is to have Dr. Leacock as his guest Saturday evening, young Mr. Laflin is sorry that he is to miss the beach party the Calvin Trowbridges are to give that evening for Mr. Trowbridge's sister, Miss Katherine Trowbridge, and her fiancé, Edward Arpee. It is particularly appropriate that Mr. Laflin is to serve Mr. Arpee as best man at the wedding on June 21, since he introduced him to Miss Trowbridge.

The next fortnight is filled with small luncheon and dinner parties for the young couple. One of the nicest will be the dinner-dance Mrs. E. Hubert Allen of Winnetka, her niece, Miss Carolyn Durand of Lake Forest, and her sister, Mrs. William Mather Lewis of Easton, Pa., are to have the night before the wedding at the Onwentsia. Miss Trowbridge is a niece of Mrs. Allen.

There will be fun galore for the whole bridal party and several more friends next Monday evening, when Miss Elizabeth Rumsey entertains at the Fair. All of her guests are meeting at the Elm street house of her parents, the Henry A. Rumseys, and then moving on to A Century of Progress for dinner at one of the smart eating places and all the sights they can take in in one evening.

Mrs. Rumsey is leaving for the east today to be present at the commencement festivities at Smith college, where her younger daughter, Jean, is to be graduated the 19th. Miss Rumsey, who was prepared at

Miss Evelyn Willing, who would have been a Chicago debutante last winter if she had not decided to take an interesting job in Washington, D. C., is a visitor in Chicago. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Skinner Willing of Lake Shore drive and Virginia, and she and her mother arrived last Thursday for a fortnight's stay. They are very busy "doing" the Fair and seeing relatives and friends.

Good Morning!

It's not every day that a movie hands an audience such a good time as "The Nuisance" is doing! Yesterday's observers held their sides and enjoyed every minute of it.

Lee Tracy to the front again! This trip as an ambulance chaser. You know—the sort of shyster lawyer without whom no accident is complete.

A brainy chap, J. Phineas Stevens, who squeezes each opportunity till there's no juice left. He is the legal pain in the neck, crick in the elbow, and cramp in the toe of a certain big city traction company from which he often and with astute showmanship wrests large damages.

The company sets out to get J. Phineas. And now enters Madge Evans. J. Phineas discovers her sitting in the middle of a street car track ten minutes after an accident has happened. He seizes her to his bosom in several different ways . . . Three guesses!

Lawyer Stevens has a large and efficient staff of aides de accident—witnesses, come-ons, etc. One of these is a besotted but endearing old doctor, impersonated effectively by Frank Morgan. The doc can turn out the most remarkable X-ray pictures! When he's finished with a straight spine it has more kinks than a caterpillar's, and his way with internal injuries fairly bowls over juries . . . O, boy, O, boy, O, BOY!—has this picture got ACTION . . .!

Mr. Tracy, who at the moment is my favorite actor, is his usual wind-off-the-lake self. He can talk faster and longer than anybody else I know, without dishing out a weary moment. He has several marathonic spiels in this one that go over in great fashion. Dialogue throughout is crisp and to the point.

Charles Butterworth, Madge Evans, David Landau, John Miljan et al. do some splendid playing, and the director can be proud of the job he's turned out. I think I have never seen riotous comedy more deftly larded with pathos.

So, alannas, if be ye have faith in me, go trustfully to the Roosevelt, secure in my promise that a cool and joyous hour awaits you there.

Cartwheel Hat Takes Chicago for Hot Season

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The cartwheel hats have arrived, almost by the truckload . . . everywhere you shopped you were surrounded with large sized varieties, rough straw, smooth straw, lacey numbers in white, pale pink, and some good looking natural shades that are smoothly suntanned like the appreciative gals who wear them.

One black linen model that was a stunning contrast in black and white, was wide, floppy, and exceedingly picturesque . . . the top was covered with lamp black linen, the brim was faced with a dotted white material and the sheer organdy dotted with solid white embroidered dots as wide as a quarter. Around the dinky little flat crown [and these absurdly flat and small crowns are flattened to the brims of all the smartest summer cartwheels] was a band and flat bow of the dotted white material that lined the under brim.

Cotton mesh cartwheel hats are as cool looking as they are fresh and new, and the mesh has been stiffened in some manner and stays that way, through dew and damp. One wide white hat is made with a wide center section of very open meshed material cutting across crown and brim from ear to ear, the front and back sections being of average small mesh cotton.

Another transparent hat that ought to complete any summer costume with enviable coolness as well as distinction, is made of yards and yards of tiny narrow black braid sewed to a very filmy white base. The brim dips interestingly down over the face, the crown is one of the round type and a narrow black band ties around to the front in a small bow with long ends.

This is the summer you can find more large brimmed hats than have been ready for hat collectors in many a season . . . and they all have price tags that are delightfully modest.

Cast of 3,500 to Fill Theater with Audience Occupying the Stage

When the 3,500 members of the cast of "The Romance of People," to be presented in Soldiers' field on July 3, assemble tonight for rehearsal at the Auditorium theater, the audience will be forced to sit on the stage and the actors and singers will virtually fill every other seat in the house. The presentation of the pageant will climax Jewish day activities.

This huge cast, which will recall Old Testament high lights on the largest stage ever constructed, will assemble tonight for the first time under the direction of Isaac Van Grove, Chicago producer. Units of the cast have been rehearsing for months, but tonight's rehearsal will be the first of the entire group.

Museums Turn from Past to Show Present

Convention Hears Plea for Medical Exhibits.

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

Scientists attending the opening session of the American Association of Museums in the Chicago Historical society building yesterday declared that museums in the past few years instead of concentrating on the past, have turned their attention more to what is happening in the world today. The old historical material, it was said, is being studied only for background as an introduction to an understanding of the present.

In line with that attitude came the proposal of Dr. Aaron Learner of the college of medicine, University of Illinois, that public health should be the next field for museum study. He advocated that public health museums be established, following in some measure the Deutsche Hygienische museum at Dresden, one of the few health museums in the world.

"A public health museum, if it were carefully worked out, could play a very important rôle in public health education," Dr. Learner declared. "Modern urban civilization is founded on preventive medicine. But medicine alone cannot apply the knowledge; that can be done only by civilization. The people must have an understanding of the aims and purposes of medicine in modern society.

"It is surprising to notice how often and how much medicine as a body has to be on gaurd against the onslaughts of various organized bodies now fighting the instillation of silver nitrate in the eyes of the newborn, now opposing vaccination, at another time opposing the use of anti-toxia in diphtheria, and so often making threats to enact laws which would do away with vivisection.

"It seems that a well planned and well executed museum, organized and planned by individuals with vision could serve as a central point for the dissemination of public health knowledge, without at any time infringing upon the private physician."

Charles R. Richards, executive president of the New York Museum of Science and Industry, discussed the industrial museum from the point of view of its relation to the modern world. The industrial museum, he said, is a new institution claiming its place as another important element in the American educational system.

Several speakers described the museum as an educational center for children and students, discussing the least methods of presenting the material for study.

Meetings of the convention will continue through tomorrow. They are being held also in the Art institute, Chicago Academy of Sciences museum and Field Museum of Natural History. Among the Chicago scientists and art experts in attendance are Lorado Taft, Harold H. Swift, Robert B. Harshe, L. Hubbard Shattuck, Charles B. Pike, Alfred M. Bailey, O. T. Kreusser, and Oliver C. Farrington.

Charles Breasted to Marry Martha Ferguson June 28

Charles Breasted, executive secretary of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, and Miss Martha Munro Ferguson, of Tucson, Ariz., will be married June 28 at the Burro mountain homestead of her mother, Mrs. John C. Greenway, near Tyrone, N. M. He is the son of Dr. James H. Breasted, famous director of Oriental institute.

Only a few days ago Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt inadvertently revealed the engagement of Mr. Breasted and Miss Ferguson during a White House conference with newspaper women. The young couple were White House guests at the time. The Roosevelts and Mrs. Greenway are old friends.

The ceremony will take place at 11 a. m. on June 28, and will be private, with only members of both families to be present. Robert Munro Ferguson, brother of Miss Ferguson, will give her away. Prof. Breasted will serve as best man for his son. The bride-to-be will wear a yellow checked gingham dress with modernistic adaptations of the Victorian, with long skirt and five flounces. Her hat will match.

Miss Ferguson is tall and a brunette. She is an excellent horsewoman and "can work the cattle" as well as any professional cowpuncher. She was graduated from Bryn Mawr and during recent years has traveled over the world.

Mr. Breasted and Miss Ferguson met last November while she was convalescing from a pneumonia attack in Tucson and he recovering from an injury in the same city. At the time he was staying at the Arizona Inn, which is owned by her mother. Incidentally, Mrs. Greenway is now in the midst of a political campaign for the congressional vacancy caused by the appointment of Congressman Lewis Douglas as director of the budget.

After a honeymoon Mr. Breasted and his bride will return to Chicago and make their home at 5807 Dorchester avenue. She has many friends here.

Roosevelt High Gives Fair Best Music It's Had

Chorus Sings with Clear Tone, Good Balance.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Chicago public schools are doing well for themselves and the cause of music at A Century of Progress this week. What else may come out of the festival of seven days now going on is still to be determined, but up to date the best individual musical performance since the Exposition opened was put on last night in the court of the Hall of Science. It was the appearance of the Roosevelt High school chorus directed by Erhardt Bergstrasser.

It was really a double appearance, since first a partial chorus of about 100 sang two groups of songs, later joined by the others which built them up to about 350. But, whether of the smaller or greater group, there was clear, exact tone, good balance, and an entirely understandable projection of the English language. When their part of the program was finished their places were taken by the Harrison Technical High school band directed by Capt. J. H. Barabash. The band took a high place in the contest proceedings in Evanston last week, and played Wagner's "Rienzi" Overture in a way to show the position was deserved.

Earlier there had been music by younger students. The elementary schools held a program on the same stage in the afternoon that had plenty of interest. There was a kindergarten rhythmic band of 200, for one item, beating away on their percussion instruments to the baton of Miss Blany, and doing it with all the gravity and much of the exactness of an adult orchestra. There was a set of dances by 100 future ballerinas directed by Mary Courtney. A Negro chorus of 500 sang spirituals with all the rhythm in the world under the direction of Nellie Carter and Grace Heller. A cantata, "The Ugly Duckling," was sung by 700 children directed by Agnes Benson and Ethel Sherlock. Other choruses and an elementary band added to the merits of the event.

Late in the afternoon the Triadelphia High school band of Wheeling, W. Va., took the stand and played a program. They have been expertly trained, and gave a performance considerably better than a good part of the music of their program.

The Lindblom a cappella chorus is being featured this afternoon and the Lane orchestra and boys' chorus this evening. The Valparaiso university choir will be a visitor in the afternoon, and the Southern Iowa farm bureau band of 800 will also play in the evening.

SWELL GARRICK

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

"Swell" Garrick—the World's Perfect Tailor's Dummy—is the label given him by those who didn't know that his well molded body had been created by athletic training, rather than tailoring skill. His friend, young Alistair, a subaltern in the guards, is taken over by card sharpers and gives a check he can't meet.

INSTALLMENT II.

THE GIRL OF HIS DREAMS.

Garrick touched the crouching figure of his friend as if he were trying to pass to him some of his own abundant vitality. "Being as you are, the most colossal fool on earth with the pride of a peacock, you will not let me lend you the money. I realize that. But you're going to help me get that dud check of yours back."

"How?"

"Introduce me to Maitland."

"No—no! That's just what the blackguard said—if I'd introduce some of my wealthy friends—I simply can't."

"But you must. I want you to. Tell him I'm rich—and a fool and a gambler and a few other things—and that I rather fancy myself at manqué."

"Good lord, Lyle! I say, do you think you——"

"I think I'm going to try. As it's understood I'm not lending you anything; how much was the dud check for?"

"Twelve hundred."

"Right. Fix it for tomorrow night, Alistair. . . . Fancy your falling for that kind of thing, old man!"

"That's all very well but I was thrown out of my stride. I told you there was a girl there . . . By the way—you stayed with the Westburys last spring, didn't you?"

"Yes. What about it?"

"Did you happen to come across a girl—jolly decent girl, too—who used to be companion to Lady Westbury? A Miss Rhoda Fairclough?"

"Right. Fix it for tomorrow night, Alistair."

He knew that sooner or later he would hear of the whereabouts of the girl of whom he had been dreaming for six months. But—card sharpers!

"Now I come to think of it, I believe I did."

"Well—she was the girl! Her presence made me think everything was above board. The old trick of the decoy duck. Maitland—Major Maitland, he calls himself—gives out that he's her guardian."

"Do you mean—that Miss Fairclough acts as a decoy for these card sharpers?"

"Yes. But it's rather subtly done. She gives a sort of atmosphere of drawing room respectability. She doesn't play. Goes to bed soon after play starts. And I'll swear she hasn't the faintest idea that a crooked game is going on."

The meeting with Rhoda had been a strange one. He had been wandering through an obscure wing of Westbury castle when he had come upon her—for Lady Westbury had not required her "paid companion" to assist at the house party.

He had stayed with her a couple of hours—and in that time he had not touched her hand—yet strange to say he had contrived to bare his soul to her. And it seemed that she had revealed much of her inmost thoughts to him. And neither of them had noticed the lapse of time.

He had called on the Westburys again a week later, secretly intending to demand a sight of Rhoda. And Lady Westbury had told him that she had gone—"to join her guardian or something. Apparently she is coming into a little—a very little—money—it's a most unusual thing to happen to a companion!" He had asked for her address but Lady Westbury had somewhat curtly professed ignorance.

And now, within twenty-four hours, he would see Rhoda again. In the house of her guardian—a high class card sharper.

At ten o'clock the next night Garrick was knocking at the door of a house in Haltravers Crescent, which is on the outer fringe of the once fashionable district of St. John's Wood.

The door was opened by a manservant whom Garrick would have hesitated to describe as a butler. He was in fact a one time prizefighter who had also spent several years in the stone quarries of Dartmoor.

He passed into a hall in which there was a surprising number of doors. Ahead was the staircase—and down the staircase Rhoda Fairclough was coming.

"When I heard you at the door I couldn't wait. It seems so long ago."

Only one woman in the world could have said that to him without incurring the suspicion that she was pursuing him. But between them there had existed from the first a perfect understanding.

"I've found you," he muttered.

"Yes—and I'm so glad. We must go upstairs."

With a jerk he remembered young Alistair and without another word let Rhoda take him to the drawing room.

"Ah, Garrick! Glad you could turn up! Hadn't a notion you knew my ward before! Let me introduce Mr. Dorling—Mr. Garrick."

Dorling was very much what Garrick had expected—a small, inferior sort of man who modeled himself as closely as he could on Maitland, who successfully sustained the rôle of a retired army man about town.

Maitland was not lacking in social grace. He worked the general conversation so that Rhoda could take the chief part. Everything was done in irreproachable drawing room style for some ten minutes and then a third man was announced—for manqué is played with four players and no partners.

The third man, introduced as Lawson and addressed by the others as Archie, was of a flashier type than the other two. Rhoda, Garrick noticed, received him with an almost marked coldness.

After a minute or two Maitland suggested a game and Garrick professed eagerness.

While they were opening the card table Garrick looked about him. It was a well furnished drawing room, but it lacked the feminine touch. In one corner of the room was a very businesslike looking desk and behind it a small safe.

While they played, Garrick kept up a light conversation with Rhoda, thereby preventing her from retiring. Also he had a purpose—to use the desultory conversation to cover a deliberate carelessness in play. For he knew that it is an invariable rule of the crook that the victim shall win at the first sitting. He played wildly, foolishly, absent-mindedly. But he won. That made him quite sure they were crooks.

At a little before midnight he decided that both he and Rhoda had endured enough of it.

"I'm afraid I've got muddled with the score—always do!" he remarked.

"Then you'll have to take my figures," said Maitland. "Half a minute, I'll give you the total. . . By Jove, Rhoda! Mr. Garrick has given us a hiding." On a slip of paper he wrote "£127" and handed it to Garrick with a wink that cautioned him not to mention the amount aloud in Rhoda's presence.

Ground bait, thought Garrick, and said aloud: "Thanks! But please don't pay—I'll give you your revenge as soon as possible. What about tomorrow night—if Miss Fairclough can endure me again so soon!"

Rhoda came down to see him off. This had been stage managed by Maitland—making crude use of the girl, thought Garrick, as a decoy duck.

"Why did you run away, Rhoda?" he asked her.

"I didn't literally run away, Lyle." Each had used the other's first name unconsciously. "Lady Westbury knows my address."

"She wouldn't give it to me. Are you happy here?"

Her hesitation and the expression in her eyes gave him his answer. As if she knew she had told him her thoughts, she said:

"I never meet a woman—only my guardian's men acquaintances. Of course, I expect other arrangements will be made later on but at present everything's unsettled. You see, an uncle of mine I've never seen died in Rome last year—he was my father's brother and was always very eccentric. He had a little money—and he has left it to me."

"So you're an heiress!"

"Only about fifty pounds a year," she laughed. "But—I'm twenty-one in a few weeks and I have to be in London here with my guardian in case the lawyers want to see me."

It all sounded very vague, but that was not the moment for discussion.

"We'll arrange to meet!" he said. "Anyhow, I shall see you tomorrow night. Good night—dear!"

Coleslaw Is a Timely Salad for Hot Days

BY MARY MEADE.

Isn't it a pleasant surprise when you order a sandwich in your favorite tea shop and it is served with a mound of crisp coleslaw! Is it the thrill of "something for nothing" or the tang of the tart cabbage which warms your heart?

Whatever it is, I'm going to share with you a discovery I've just made—so that you can make the best coleslaw ever—and do it quickly. In your refrigerator tuck away a pitcher containing 1 cup of water, 1 cup of salad oil, and 1 cup of vinegar—or 2 cups—or 3 cups of each.

Now, here's all you do when you want a little coleslaw to garnish fish dishes, pork chops, sandwiches, and this or that. Shred as much cabbage as you'll need. You probably have one of those handy little cabbage shredders with a wooden guard that prevents accidents to fingers. If you don't, attack the cabbage with a sharp chopping knife and board.

Place the shredded cabbage in a bowl and pour a little of the mixture from the pitcher over the cabbage, stirring the liquid constantly as you pour because, you know, oil and water just won't mix. Toss the cabbage with forks until it is moistened and glistening—not too wet, however. Stir in a bit of sugar, a pinch of salt and pepper, and a teaspoon or so of lemon juice, flavoring it to taste. After a little practice you can stir it up in a jiffy, eliminating the tasting process, and be sure of success.

Now you may put the pitcher of oil, vinegar, and water mixture back into the refrigerator where it will be ready for many more hasty mixings of slaw.

Coleslaw is a particularly good salad for dinner or lunch these days when we don't feel like anything heavy. You can disguise it by changing the garnish each time you serve it. Some garnishes for slaw which taste as good as they look are: Thin slices of radish; crosswise slices of stuffed olives; a narrow strip of bright pimiento; crisp green pepper rings; grated cheese, or tiny sprigs of watercress.

CHEESE BALLS.

The blended packaged cheese is best as it will not become so stringy. Shape cheese into one inch balls. Roll in fine cracker crumbs, egg [add 1 tablespoonful of milk to 1 egg] and more crumbs. Fry in deep fat heated to 350 degrees F. The fat at this temperature is hot enough to brown the outside of the balls but not to affect the cheese. Serve warm.

Or the next time you have shrimp salad serve it in a nest of mildly flavored coleslaw. The tartness of the cabbage is pleasing with either fresh or canned shrimp.

Variations of coleslaw are many. In Mexican slaw a little finely chopped pimiento and green pepper are added to the grated cabbage. Or grate red cabbage and add lemon juice immediately [if you don't want it to turn blue]. Serve this, too, with the regular coleslaw dressing and perhaps a few chopped apples. Long, thin slices of red skinned apples are good in coleslaw and very colorful. The addition of grated carrots to the grated cabbage also makes a bright and tasty salad. Whole tomatoes stuffed with coleslaw provide an inexpensive dinner salad; garnished with asparagus tips they may serve as the main luncheon dish.

Another luncheon salad is:

HORN OF PLENTY.

Roll thin slices of boiled ham into cornucopias. Spread the overlapping edges with butter and secure with a toothpick. Fill with coleslaw. Arrange on a platter around halved hard cooked eggs or, if you prefer, around deviled eggs.

Tips for Girls Starting Out on First Jobs

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Laura" is one of our bright young women who succeeded recently in landing her first job. Jobs not being noticeably easy to land these days, you'd think such things as etiquette breaches met with in an office would be one of the last reasons for being so disgusted you'd contemplate giving up the job.

The complaints are those of a young woman brought up in a certain social strata where this and that is expected of men—rising when a girl enters the room, opening doors for her, and so on. Because, no doubt, other young women will be taking their first introduction to business life with the ink on the high school and college diploma hardly dry, we'd better induct them into a few of the things a young business girl ought to know.

First, she wants to get it out of her smartly coiffed head that she's going to find chivalry to protect her every little move. The men she'll meet in business are all right. They're just a little different in office character, as she in turn will be expected to be. She'll open her own doors and she'll take the chair pointed out to her, without expecting any rising courtesy on the part of the male dictator.

He may even let out a yell when he wants something in a hurry. She may have to listen to him ripping off a few choice ones following a bad telephone communication made to him. She may resent the assault on her right to be treated like a perfect lady, but if she's a perfect business lady she'll take it without comment, and hope in time her own soft voiced manner will quell the explosions.

Mostly what we would like to point out to young women on their business entry is that a former social standing has nothing to do with the job. Their status in the office depends absolutely on the importance of the work they're doing, not on the importance of their family or the relative or friend through whose good offices the job was secured.

A girl will save herself no end of friction if she'll only recognize this fact about her office status, and it will help her better to bear the real or fancied affronts.

Laflins to Invite 100 for Evening with Leacock

Dobbs Ferry, has been active on the Smith campus, having served as treasurer of the Clef club, secretary of the senior choir, and president of her college house. She has also been a member of the soccer and swimming teams. Mrs. Rumsey will visit Williamstown, Mass., and Canandaigua, N. Y., before she returns to Chicago in a fortnight.

John Alden Carpenters to Give Dinner Thursday.

On Thursday night of this week Mr. and Mrs. John Alden Carpenter will entertain at dinner at their residence on Lake Shore drive for George Gershwin and Mrs. Ernest L. Ives, later taking their guests to occupy four boxes at the Auditorium, where Roland Hayes will be the soloist with the Symphony. Mr. Gershwin, composer and pianist, will present a group of his own music at Wednesday night's concert, the first of the second week's A Century of Progress series arranged by the Friends of Music.

Tonight the Bohemians, of which Frederick Stock is honorary president, will give a stag dinner in the crystal ballroom of the Great Northern hotel for Mr. Gershwin and William Daly, who will be the guest conductor tomorrow night.

With Ruth Page and the Novikoff ballet giving the program with the Symphony Friday night, it is going to be hard for music lovers to keep away from the Auditorium Wednesday, Thursday or Friday nights, for all three concerts give promise of being outstanding.

Mrs. Howard Linn has undertaken to sell boxes for the third week's concerts, and she is especially interested in making a gala occasion of the concert on Wednesday of next week, for the guest conductor that night is married to her cousin. He is Karl Krueger and his wife is the former Emita Jewett, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jewett of Chicago. Mr. Krueger, whose home is in Vienna, recently has been the conductor of the Seattle Symphony orchestra. There undoubtedly will be some entertaining for Mr. and Mrs. Krueger during their stay in Chicago, for they have many relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Ives, who is sharing the distinction with Mr. Gershwin of being Mrs. Carpenter's chief guests Thursday night, is a sister of Mrs. Carpenter's son-in-law, Adlai E. Stevenson. Mrs. Ives and her mother, Mrs. Lewis G. Stevenson of Bloomington, arrived in the city yesterday to be here until Friday. They are at the Fortnightly. Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson are entertaining at dinner at their residence in Lake Forest for Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Ives.

Announce Henry Channon Engagement Today.

Mrs. Westover Channon had a telephone call yesterday from her son, Henry Channon, in London, informing her that the announcement of his engagement to Lady Honor Guinness was to be made formally today and that they were not planning to be married until September or October. And this is bad news to the many friends of "Chips" Channon, who had hoped he would bring his bride here on their honeymoon. They have no plans for coming to Chicago on their wedding trip. Mr. Channon, who has lived in London for about ten years, is a novelist and is immensely popular in London society. His fiancée is a daughter of the countess of Iveagh and is one of the greatest heiresses in the British isles.

Invitations came yesterday for a reception to be tendered by the Dante Alighieri society at 5 o'clock June 20 at the Drake hotel for Gen. Balbo and his forty members of the royal Italian air corps. To date this society, with the Italian consul general, Giuseppe Castruccio, as its honorary president, is the only group that has indicated a date on its engraved invitations. The others have held the time in abeyance, since the exact date of arrival of the flyers in Chicago cannot yet be determined.

Society for Shut-Ins to Hold Sale Today.

The Vocational Society for Shut-Ins is having the first of its two annual summer sales today at the home of Mrs. Walter Schuttler on Warrenville road, Wheaton. The hostesses today will be Mrs. John J. Bryant Jr., Mrs. Leo M. Nicolson, Mrs. Gale Thompson, Mrs. John M. Sellers, and Mrs. Oliver Burton.

When Miss Jane Boyce was in town a week ago to visit her aunt and uncle, the Laird Bells, in Winnetka, she expected to leave within a couple of weeks to join her mother and stepfather, the Livingston Fairbanks, in Paris and go with them to the south of France, where they are taking a house for the summer, but she finds that she is enjoying herself so much here that her departure has been postponed indefinitely. Miss Boyce is at present with her grandmother, Mrs. William D. Boyce, in Ottawa, Ill., but she comes into town frequently.

Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Andrews have just returned from the south seas, where they have spent several months. They are going east this week-end to attend the graduation of their son, E. Wyllys Andrews, from Lawrenceville school.

Mrs. George B. Massey and Daughter Leave Today.

Mrs. George B. Massey and her daughter, Phoebe, are leaving today for New York to sail for Santa Barbara, via Havana and Panama, to spend the remainder of the summer. Mr. Massey will motor west through the Black hills later on and drive his wife and daughter home in September. Since the Masseys rented their house a month ago they have been staying at the Homestead in Evanston, but when they return from California they will move into their house on the Winnetka lake shore again. Their sons, Loren J. Massey and George Massey Jr., will be here this summer to pursue one of their favorite sports —sailing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dunham and Mrs. Dunham's son, Willard N. Drown Jr., are leaving this morning for Burlingame, Cal., where the Dunhams have taken a house for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clow Jr. [Josephine Dunham], who arrived home from Sarasota, Fla., where they have been with the Russell P. Kelleys, are going to visit the Dunhams some time this summer, as are the Ralph M. Shaws, who are going out to a cottage on the Biltmore grounds at Santa Barbara in July. The Shaws will spend a week or so in August with the Dunhams and will return to Chicago late in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester D. Shepard are arriving today from Neenah, Wis., to visit Mrs. Shepard's parents, the Alfred W. Grangers, in Lake Forest. The children are not coming with them this time, but later on in the summer the Shepards will bring them down to see A Century of Progress.

A very interesting visitor who has just left the Grangers', but will return to them June 26, is the United States consul general to Vienna, Ernest L. Harris. Mr. Harris, who is on leave from his consular duties, will sail back to Austria July 8.

She'll Wed Chicagoan

[Burden Stage Photo.]

Announcement was made in New York recently of the engagement of Miss Georgette Chatillon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Edmund Chatillon of that city, to Morgan Collins Jr. of Chicago. Miss Chatillon attended the Sacred Heart convent in Norton, Conn., and the Nightingale-Banford school in New York. Mr. Collins is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and of Harvard university.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., June 12.—President Roosevelt today received the new ministers from Honduras and Persia, Dr. Don Miguel Paz Saraona and Graffar Khan Jalal, and the new apostolic delegate, the Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, who arrived here recently.

Count Laszlo Szechenyi, formerly Hungarian minister at Washington and now accredited to the Court of St. James's, and Countess Szechenyi, the former Gladys Vanderbilt of New York, announced today in London the engagement of their daughter, Countess Cornelia, to Eugene Bowie Roberts of Washington. Announcement was made simultaneously at the Hungarian legation here.

Countess Cornelia, who is the eldest of the count's four daughters, has spent much of her life in Washington, where her father represented his country for more than ten years. She was presented to society here.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Hamilton of Beacon street announce the engagement of their daughter, Lucille Genevieve, to Joseph Paul Kenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kenny of Winnetka.

Avoid Raising Issues When a Child Is Tired

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Yesterday we were talking about the tired small child and how we should avoid disciplining him or scolding him if his fatigue makes him cranky or difficult to manage in other ways.

I think many grown people have a feeling that young people never get tired. Now, as a matter of fact, two things are usually true of children. For one thing, they are "going it" all the time, apparently inexhaustible through the day. For another thing, the process of growth is going on, taking tremendous energy. Naturally, they're going to get tired.

For one thing, when a child is tired is no time to have him "on the mat" for something he has done. Neither is it a time to talk serious things over—nor to get a child emotionally disturbed. Wait for discussions or disciplining until a more propitious time.

THE STAGE

"Take A Chance," a musical comedy which has had a long and prosperous run in New York, will come to Chicago in July. The management of the Erlanger theater, where it will appear, announces that the engagement will begin some time between July 3 and July 17. The company will be headed by Ole Olsen and Chick Johnson, well known team of vaudeville comedians, and will include Ethel Merman, Jack Whiting, Barbara Newberry, Douglas Wood, Doris Groday, Royal Beal, Gloria Kelly, Oscar Ragland, Evangeline Raleigh, and a large chorus.

Katharine Cornell has decided to extend her engagement in "Alien Corn" at the Harris theater for a third week, but no longer. Her last performance here in this play, therefore, will be given on Saturday night, June 24. Almost immediately afterward she will sail for Europe, with a long vacation in the Bavarian Alps as her objective. Guthrie McClintic, her husband and stage director, is now in Chicago, and plans for her next season's program are under discussion. A Shakespearean production is likely.

Eva Le Gallienne will take her Civic Repertory theater company on tour next fall, starting in Boston Oct. 17. She will offer "Romeo and Juliet" and "Alice in Wonderland." This will be her first tour since she established her New York company in 1926. A Chicago engagement may be expected.

Save Education for the Many, Chase Pleads

U. of I. Confers More than 1,800 Degrees.

Urbana, Ill., June 12.—[Special.]—Dr. Harry Woodburn Chase, president of the University of Illinois, told the graduating class at the 62d annual commencement today that he did not believe that the American public wants restricted educational opportunities. He pointed out, however, because of the present bewildered state of the public mind, there is grave danger that many things may happen which will work immense harm to the future of the state and nation.

It was President Chase's final appearance before an official University of Illinois function, for he leaves soon to assume the chancellorship of New York university. He conferred 1,884 degrees here today and 347 Friday to graduates of the Chicago departments of the university, or a total of 2,231 for the two branches. Of this number 788 students receiving degrees were from Chicago and Cook county.

"If we narrow the gates of opportunity so that education once becomes the privilege of a few and not the right of the many, it would be the most un-American thing that we could do at any time, and especially during times like these," Dr. Chase told the graduating class. "The most American thing we can do in this crisis is to stand by the fundamentals which mean the survival of American institutions in ways of thought. That means, first of all, that we stand by this philosophy of the importance of popular education.

"To make education the privilege of a few is a move in the direction of peasantry, of a fixed and stratified social order," Dr. Chase opined.

"Any society must devise some means for bringing ability and character to the top. In America we keep open the door of opportunity through the school. It is our great means of seeing that opportunity goes to people who can use it. The school, then, is the open door of democracy."

At another point he said: "I am for all that genuine economy involves, but I am not for the starvation of the minds of a growing generation when waste and graft go on unchecked about us, when reorganization and cooperation in the name of economy and efficiency are possible. I am not, in other words, for making our popular education the taxpayer's goat.

"I do not think it too extreme to say that we are passing through a time in which it is to be decided whether the experiment of America is to be continued along the lines with which we are familiar or whether we must admit the necessity for a new type of social and economic order.

"Into such a situation you, as alumni and citizens, will find yourselves projected. I hope you will remember that, if our institutions of education suffer, American democracy suffers; that the philosophy of popular education is the philosophy of America, and that the fundamentals on which it rests must be preserved for the safety of the future."

MINUTE MYSTERY

By H. A. RIPLEY

[Copyright: 1933: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Dr. Fordney is professor of criminology at a famous university. His advice is often sought by the police of many cities when confronted with particularly baffling cases. This problem has been taken from his casebook covering hundreds of criminal investigations.

Try your wits on it! It takes but ONE MINUTE to read! Every fact and every clew necessary to its solution are in the story itself—and there is only one answer. How good a detective are you?

AN IMPORTANT CLEW.

After the coroner's physician had completed his examination of Beryl Evans' body, Fordney, who had been closely watching, picked from the floor near where she lay several small pieces of glass and a dented cigaret case. These he put into a handkerchief.

"Yes, it's suicide," replied the doctor in answer to the professor's question.

"Mmmm. Sure of that?"

"Almost positive," the physician stated emphatically. If the bullet had taken a different angle——"

"I agree with you," Fordney nodded slowly. "This is murder."

"I'm going to tinker with this a bit, but I want you to witness the fact that when the body was discovered the crystal was broken and the watch had stopped at exactly 11:12." He pushed in the stem and turned the hands. Apparently it hadn't been greatly damaged.

Randolph McBride, Beryl's sweetheart, was picked up by the police next morning. He said he had left her alone at 10 o'clock the previous night and had driven alone through the country for several hours. It was a hot night. However, after being given the lie-deception test four times, he admitted his story was untrue; though he wouldn't confess to the murder.

"Well, my boy," said Fordney. "I don't know yet whether you killed her or not, but it looks pretty bad. Eventually the police will find out definitely. Whoever did certainly made one bad mistake.

WHAT WAS IT?

[See solution on page 29.]

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Man Housekeeper Needs Tools.

"Dear Miss Brown: I have been out of work for some time, but my wife finally has secured a position. While she works to earn enough for groceries, I am doing my best to keep the house in order—scrubbing and doing the washing. But we have no modern tools for such work, and I would certainly appreciate a clothes wringer—the type that is attached to the laundry tub. S. D."

This man is certainly trying to do his part. Can any one help him to make his work more efficient?

Here's Simple Reducing Diet, Easy to Follow

Give It a Trial for Six Weeks.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Yesterday we were talking about the timeliness of the warm months for a reducing spree. Let me repeat that it is the ideal reducing season. There are so many avenues of approach open to the new and better silhouette right now: Swimming, rowing, tennis, golf, hiking, horseback riding. And the valuable asset of working up a hearty perspiration with exercise done at home, followed by a shower and rub.

The warm months have to be lived through and the way to get the most fun out of them is to live actively. Not in the broiling sun, of course—but certainly not lying around accumulating more and more weight. You need an energy supply to keep you in active service—and, again we say, there is nothing to supply it to you like keeping that body of yours fit and limber with exercise.

Let me map out an easy reducing course for you. Give it a six weeks' trial—and then write and tell me about the inches you've taken off; also the years you've removed.

For breakfast have your fruit—orange juice, grapefruit, or other fresh fruit; your slice of toast thinly buttered, and your coffee with a litttle cream in it and one sugar. Have a boiled egg now and then, or a coddled one. Between breakfast and lunch drink two full glasses of water.

For luncheon have a big, fat bowl of salad. Don't mind having oil dressing either. The oil is lubricating. Try fruit salad one day; vegetable the next, or vegetable every day. Take tea with lemon in it. Drink two glasses of water between lunch and dinner time.

Then, for dinner eat as much meat as you feel the need of, and two or three vegetables, without potato. Have a fruit dessert. It may be sweetened, but go lightly on the cream. I want you to have some sugar, some cream during the day. Not much, but some.

Sunday you may have a nice big dish of ice cream, but only on one day a week. But keep to vegetables, fruit, and meat as closely as you can and lay off the starches. If you're overweight you'll have enough stored up fat to take care of your starch needs.

Tomorrow I'll tell you what exercises to do, for you must do some exercise or I won't promise you the "figger."

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, June 12.—[Special.]—Ogden L. Mills, former secretary of the treasury, and Mrs. Mills have opened their country home at Woodbury. Later they expect to be in Newport, going there on their yacht, the Avalon, which will be in commission. Today Mr. Mills starts for Canton, N. Y., to receive the honorary degree of doctor of laws from St. Lawrence university.

Mrs. Joseph Leiter and her niece, Miss Audrey Campbell, are stopping at the Ritz-Carlton.

Delicious Cereal Relieves Constipation

Read this very enthusiastic letter:

"Something like eleven or twelve years ago I began eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. When I started it was called simply Kellogg's Bran, and I believe it was one of the first products of the kind on the market.

"My friends often laugh at my fondness for ALL-BRAN. It gives such a clean taste in the mouth, and I do not feel satisfied until I have had my ALL-BRAN.

"If the Kellogg Company should ever stop manufacturing ALL-BRAN, here is one who would be greatly disappointed."—Miss Amy Person, University Park, Iowa.

Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. How much safer than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily for most types of constipation. For serious cases, try it three times daily. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

FAIR AND WARMER — BLANKET WASHING TIME NEWS — EXTRA

Thrifty Wives Everywhere Get Wonderful Results this Easy Way

BLANKET WASHING TIME—and everywhere women are using the thrifty Lux way that leaves blankets clean and fluffy and soft . . . costs next to nothing!

Cleaning is so expensive—Lux washing so very economical. Of course, cake-soap rubbing—or soaps containing harmful alkali—tend to shrink and mat woolen fibres, leave blankets harsh and stiff. Tend to fade colors, too. But Lux has no harmful alkali, and with the rich, fast-working Lux suds there's no rubbing. Anything safe in water is safe in Lux!

Mrs. L. R. Walker, New Orleans, Louisiana: "I have been using Lux for blankets as well as for all my woolens and silks for years, and I am sure it is due to Lux that they have stayed so beautifully soft and new. I have blankets that I bought just after I was married, and honestly, you would think I had bought them this year."

MRS. H. C. SEGUR

Mrs. H. C. Segur, Auburn Park, Illinois: "Many a time my blankets have been dragged out when the children want to go on camping trips, picnics, or 'play house.' I don't mind because, no matter how often they are washed with Lux, they come out looking like new."

Mrs. S. P. Vatcher, Lynn, Mass.: "I used to send my blankets to the cleaners—I thought that was the only way to keep them nice and fluffy looking. But now, when we have to save every penny, I am washing them with Lux. They look every bit as nice as when they were cleaned—soft and fluffy and colorful."

EXPERT LUX METHOD

Wash each blanket in rich lukewarm Lux suds. Never use hot water. Squeeze the suds through the blanket—do not rub. Rinse thoroughly in lukewarm water. Gently squeeze water out, but don't twist. Hang the blanket up. Dry in shade, never near heat.

HAWAII HONORS FIRST KING OF A CENTURY AGO

Race Tolerance Is Plea of Victor Houston.

BY CLIFFORD GESSLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, T. H., June 12.—Hawaii today celebrated the anniversary of Kamehameha, first kind of united Hawaii. Meanwhile, Honolulu residents watched the wires from Washington to learn the fate of the bill which would amend the organic act of Hawaii to enable the appointment of a nonresident governor—termed locally a carpetbagger.

[Last week the house passed the so-called Rankin bill to permit the selection of governor from the citizenry of the mainland. The bill is now pending in the senate.]

Those persons who realized the implications of the proposal fear that the appointment of a nonresident governor would be the opening wedge to entire abolition of home rule.

Houston Principal Speaker.

It was strange irony that the renewed attempt to pass this measure was launched on the day which was celebrated as a national holiday under the old independent rule and not as a territory under the rule of the United States.

Victor Houston, former Republican delegate to congress, was the principal speaker. He appealed for race tolerance and urged "those in military service" to set an example of obedience to the law.

Houston quoted the advice of Kamehameha, king more than a century ago: "Do not quarrel with the white man."

"I appeal to the Caucasian race, sometimes an unjust critic; to reciprocate and leave race prejudice behind in coming here," Houston said. "It would help also if those who live with us would set an example of obedience to the law that is preached to use. We have the right to expect those of the military services to show such an example in view of their oath to support the constitution.

Refers to Brawl.

"It comes, therefore, as a shock to hear the admission in open court by commissioned officers that they had drunk four to six glasses of liquor, then gone riding about town, one in bathing trunks with girl friends riding in their laps. Brawls following such incidents are made the subject of mainland criticism of the Hawaiian people."

Houston referred to last week's fight on Ala Moana road between local youths and two army officers. One civilian was fined $25 for assault. Other participants could not be identified and were released.

Meanwhile police were investigating two fights in which service men are accused of participating. One army man was found unconscious. He said he had been struck by a sailor. In another case a sailor was slightly injured. His assailants were not determined.

Police Chief William Gabrielson, who formerly was associated with Chief August Vollmar at Berkeley, Cal., today denied a statement made by Senator Millard Tydings [Dem., Md.] in Washington last Saturday that Hawaiian police were divided on racial lines and discriminated in favor of offenders of certain races.

"There is absolutely no truth in that statement," Gabrielson said. "I am convinced that Senator Tydings is misinformed. Our officers are interested primarily in arresting and convicting the guilty, regardless of race, and the records bear me out in this."

Mitchell's Brother-in-Law Called as Defense Witness

He said he was a man of means in 1929, had been a stockholder in the National City bank for several years, and was in close touch with his sister, Mrs. Mitchell, late in the year.

At this point Mr. Rend's testimony was interrupted by a difference between United States Attorney George Z. Medalie and Defense Counsel Max D. Steuer over the admissibility of evidence regarding the extent of Mr. Rend's means and holdings of National City stock.

Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard at first ruled that the amount of Mr. Rend's wealth was not material to the case.

Seeks to Show Wealth.

"But, your honor," protested Mr. Steuer, "I want to show just what his means were because I also want to show that his means were available to Mrs. Mitchell and that she could have borrowed from him to pay in full for the stock she bought from her husband."

"If that is the case," replied Judge Goddard, "I should be inclined to let you."

Judge Goddard then adjourned the trial until tomorrow morning, when Mr. Rend's testimony will be resumed.

If Mr. Rend testifies that he offered to lend Mrs. Mitchell money or securities to help her carry the purchase of 18,300 shares of National City bank stock from Mr. Mitchell in 1929, it is expected to have an important bearing upon the question whether the sale was bona fide or not.

One of the grounds on which the government has interpreted the sale as not having been made in good faith has been the fact that Mrs. Mitchell's net worth at the time of the purchase was only about $1,000,000, as against a $3,800,000 obligation represented by the purchase price of the shares.

When Mr. Mitchell was on the witness stand last week he testified that both Mr. Rend and Mrs. Mitchell were enthusiastic about the prospects of the stock.

Before the dispute came up Mr. Rend testified that he lived in Chicago, that he was 62 years old, and that he and his sister were very close, being the only survivors of a large family.

The only other witness today was Garrard B. Winston, a director of the National City company and member of the law firm of Shearman & Sterling, counsel for the company. Mr. Winston was undersecretary of the treasury from 1923 to 1927.

Advised Mitchell, He Says.

Mr. Winston, called by the defense, corroborated Mr. Mitchell's testimony that Mr. Winston had advised him that the July, 1929, payment of $666,666.67 by the management fund of the National City company did not constitute taxable income and need not be reported on his income tax burden.

As a member of the board of directors, Mr. Winston said, he wrote the resolution of December, 1929, which rescinded the July payment of that year because the profits of the first half year had been wiped out by the losses of the last quarter.

"In the latter part of 1929," Mr. Winston testified, "I advised officers of the National City company, including Mr. Mitchell, that I regarded payments from the management fund of that year as not proper deductions from the company on its income tax report, and that therefore it of course followed that the payments could not be regarded as personal income by them."

GOVERNMENT TOO COSTLY, MEAT DEALERS TOLD

Harold H. Swift Urges Public Economy.

BY PAUL POTTER.

A nation which last year paid about one-third of its total income for governmental expenses either has too much government or is paying too dearly for it.

So declared Harold H. Swift, vice president of the packing firm which his father founded, in the opening address of the 48th annual convention of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers at the Congress hotel yesterday. The convention, with 800 delegates, concludes its business sessions Thursday.

Swift named two other hurdles which must be surmounted, in addition to a reduction in governmental expenses, before the meat business and a vast agricultural industry whose products it markets, can recover from economic conditions of the last five years. They were increased buying power, which comes with a rise in farm prices permitting farmers to purchase products of industry, and a removal of international trade barriers that are "proving destructive to the nations' mutual interests"

Calls Government Too Costly.

"When we pay, as we did last year, 14 billion dollars or about one-third of our national income for taxes," declared the packer, "it is clear that we have too much government or pay too dearly for it, either of which dries up purchasing power. Excessively high taxes divert available capital from channels of business, kill initiative, and cripple productive enterprise."

A substantial reduction in taxes of state, local, and federal governments, he declared, "would do much to lighten the burden of our people and stimulate recovery." Something has been accomplished in these lines but "we still have a considerable distance to go."

Swift told the meat merchants of the nation that within the past three months there had been a "decided upturn in business, a better sentiment, a growing confidence" and that the world economic conference in London has "possibilities of beneficial effects on our foreign trade, the creation of new outlets for our surpluses."

Discuss Trade Code.

The meat dealers yesterday discussed a code of trade practices in a closed meeting as a part in the new move of the meat industry, including farmers, packers and retailers, to create a means of stabilizing the industry under the federal farm adjustment and industrial control acts.

Chief in the considerations, it was stated, was a desire to improve quality and service in meat merchandising and to safeguard against too rapid advancement in prices in the interest of consumers. It was said that the code probably would be adopted today.

PORTER STABBED BY GANG.

John Alexander, 35 years old, 5830 South Park way, a porter, was stabbed and seriously wounded by one of five colored youths who attacked him when he berated them for throwing fire crackers at him near his home early yesterday.

COP LOSES SUIT FOR '$6,000 SPENT IN COURTSHIP'

Policeman Dan Donagher, 3006 Archer avenue, yesterday lost his suit to recover $6,000 which he said he spent on Miss Mary Esther Curley, 1443 Thome avenue, during a courtship which extended from 1914 to 1926. The case was heard by Judge Joseph B. David in the Superior court.

In addition to buying Miss Curley an engagement ring for $1,550, Donagher testified that he paid the cost of remodeling and redecorating her home. She promised to marry him, but kept putting off the date of the wedding, he charged.

Miss Curley replied that it was not she but Donagher who held back on the path to the altar.

"I promised to marry him, but his attentions were spasmodic," she said. "After 1926, when I would suggest a date for our wedding, he would only glare at me."

"This is a case of diverse temperaments, a policeman and a woman of refinement and education," said Judge David. "It is the duty of the man to insist upon a date for his wedding. I believe this suit was brought to club the defendant into a marriage."

Miss Curley offered to return the ring after Judge David had dismissed the suit, but when Donagher gave notice to appeal the judge told her to keep it and see what became of the appeal.

GOLDEN GLOVES TO MARK IRISH DAY AT THE FAIR

International Bouts August 2.

BY ARCH WARD.

The date of the international Golden Gloves bouts between the champions of Ireland and Chicagoland—Aug. 2—has been designated as Irish day at A Century of Progress Exposition by Daniel McGrath, Irish consul and official commissioner from the Irish Free State to the World's Fair.

A stage presentation by Irish players, an art exhibit and the amateur boxing bouts will be combined to make Aug. 2 a day and evening entertaining to thousands of visitors to the Exposition.

How Games Started.

The Tailtin games—Aonach Thailtin—opened Aug. 1 and lasted generally for a week. The Aonach or fair was instituted by Lugh Lamhfhada—Loo the Longhanded—monarch of Ireland. He reigned for 40 years, long before Christianity came to the island. He was one of the Tuatha De Danaan race which ruled Ireland before the coming of the Milesians. It was to honor his foster mother, Tailte, that the Aonach was held. Through all the ages since that time Lugh Lamhfhada has been honored as the great patron of outdoor games and athletic events.

Mr. McGrath thinks it is auspicious that Irish day at A Century of Progress will be held under Lugh's patronage.

The month of August—in Irish it's Lughnasa—is named to honor both Lugh and the Tailtin fair.

May Revive Games.

Tailtin, in English Telltown, the site of the celebrated fair, is beside the River Boyne in the County of Meath, nearly midway between the towns of Kells and Navan. Every variety of games and sports was held on the first of August from the time of Lugh until the English invasion of Ireland in the late years of the twelfth century. It was continued with occasional interruptions until the early years of the nineteenth century, and there now is strong sentiment for its revival. An effort toward this end recently was made, but failed because of economic and political reasons. The resurgence of national spirit, however, is expected to bring about reinstatement of the event.

A month from today the eight amateur champions of Ireland will be on the Atlantic heading for Chicago and the thrill of their lives. The party will sail from Southampton, England, July 12. In addition to the eight boxers the group will include a coach, a representative of the Irish Amateur Boxing association, and Jerry Curran, TRIBUNE correspondent in Dublin.

Win Over European Opponents.

Ireland's 6 to 1 victory over Italy ten days ago and triumphs over other continental opponents have led Gen. W. R. Murphy, president of the Irish Boxing association, to predict another win in Chicago.

The team will be quartered at the Midwest Athletic club, Hamlin avenue and Madison street, during its two weeks' stay. The invitation from the club was extended by William Druley, president, and Julian Fitzgerald, chairman of the athletic committee.

Garfield park will serve for the boxers' road work and the club, equipped with a modern gymnasium, has all the facilities needed to prepare a team for a match of the importance of international Golden Gloves.

BAR GERMANY IN INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE TOURNEY

New York, June 12.—[Special.]—Charles M. Schwab, who is the donor of a trophy to the international bridge tournament to be held on July 17, has requested the withdrawal of any invitation to Germany to participate in the tournament so long as discrimination against Jews persists in that country and Jewish bridge players are barred from taking part in the tournament.

This was revealed today by the Bridge World, which made public a communication from Mr. Schwab stating his position. His communication was written in reply to a letter from Bernard S. Deutsch, president of the American Jewish congress.

"Join with you," Mr. Schwab wrote to Mr. Deutsch, "in requesting United States bridge tournament to withhold invitation from Germany for participation in international event for Schwab trophy if bridge players are excluded from competing."

Lady Athletes Get a Rap and Maybe Some Deserve It

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 12.—The Italians are having an argument as to whether lady athletes are a national asset or a national nuisance, with a side issue as to whether fat girls or skinny ones are the prettier. Signor Mussolini does not like lady athletes, wherein he will find many males of like opinion in the U. S. A., and he favors considerable heft in ladies, so the argument would seem to be settled on both questions.

He has forbidden store keepers to display slender models in the shop windows, ordering all such to be replaced with female blacksmith types, and an artist who painted some scrawny figures on the walls of the national style show was compelled to rub them out and paint in some billowy ladies according to the dictator's specifications.

With the dictator's opinion that lady athletes are not so easy to gaze upon it would not be difficult to agree if he would except the lady swimmers, who have been improving in face and figure in recent years. There was a time when the lady swimmers ran to considerable bulk and the sight and sound of the same, whooshing and sloshing around in a vat of water in a closed natatorium with loud acoustics, was nothing to drive any cash business from any of Mr. Ziegfeld's current shows.

Let's Talk About Miss Holm.

On such occasions one felt that if some one should throw the lady swimmers a handful of herring, as the keepers feed the sea lions in the zoo, the ladies would moo for the crowd. A race between a school or fleet of these mermaids, as the papers, generously and, perhaps a little sarcastically, called them, much resembled a flotilla of scows coming down the Hudson with gravel and sand and brick.

But the lady swimmers of the last American Olympic team included several young persons of great social and physical charm, one of whom, Miss Eleanor Holm, was scouted by the Hollywood people and put under contract to stay in California and go on being her own beautiful self for $1,500 a week. That is, I take it that her salary was $1,500 a week, because I understand everybody gets $1,500 a week to start in Hollywood. If Sig. Mussolini does not think Miss Holm is beautiful that is his hard luck, but then he never qualified as a beauty expert, whereas the Hollywood people get paid [$1,500 a week, to start] for picking them.

As to other types of lady athletes, however, Signor Mussolini would have taken the words right out of your correspondent's mouth if your correspondent had not taken them right out of his mouth a long time ago. They are likely to be knob-kneed and heavy-legged from constant practice and training, and the more knob-kneed and heavy-legged they are, the more determined you will find them to go around wearing shorts.

Who Should Wear Shorts.

There is no objection to the wearing of shorts by ladies, athletic or otherwise, if the parties who are to do the gazing are allowed the privilege of selecting the ladies. But this is obviously impossible in the case of lady athletes, because if a lady be selected for the symmetry of her calves and the unobtrusive grace of her knees, then you will be pretty sure to discover that she smokes cigarets and cannot run or throw anything around afield and doesn't want to do so either, what's more.

Moreover, habitual lady athletes spend a lot of their time out in the sun and thus become leathery around the face like the English ladies who accompany their husbands on long tours of duty in the tropical outpost garrisons. They also become squinty around the eyes, and, in general, look like so many Tris Speakers or Sam Rices. And anyway, there isn't anything that the best of them, which would be Babe Didrikson, can do, that

REDS MAKE FOUR RUNS IN SEVENTH; BEAT CUBS, 6-5

Malone Becomes Peevish at Umpire Stark.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., June 12.—The Cubs this afternoon were leading the Cincinnati Reds 5 to 2 with two out in the seventh when Pat Malone got indignant at Umpire Dolly Stark. And before any one could get an ice poultice on Pat's throbbing temple the Reds had chased across four runs for a 6 to 5 victory over the erstwhile National league champions. It was the Reds' seventh win over the Cubs in nine games played this year.

In the second game yesterday the Reds made four errors to give the Cubs their first victory of the year at Redland field. When they made four more errors in two innings today to give the Cubs three of their five runs, the Chicagoans naturally assumed that the Santa Claus tableau was still going on. That's what they thought until Mr. Malone got sore at Mr. Stark.

Anger Doesn't Pay.

Just as a moral lesson, to point out to you boys and girls that anger is an intemperate vice we propose to set down right here what happened to Mr. Malone when he lost his temper.

As previously related, the Cubs were leading 5 to 2 going into the latter half of the seventh. Adams started off with a foul to English and Moore lifted a gentle fly to Demaree. Certainly this was well enough. Then Bottomley walked on four pitches and Malone began to show signs of peevishness. His temper did not improve when Hafey slammed a single to center, Bottomley stopping at second. Still the situation did not appear especially dangerous.

Then Malone set about throwing to Rice. Pat thought he was throwing strikes while Rice and Umpire Stark thought he was throwing balls. After Pat had thrown four, Mr. Stark said it would be all right for Rice to walk to first, which he did, filling the bases.

Pat Uses Harsh Words.

Well, Mr. Malone's language could be heard in far places but he did not curse or blaspheme so Mr. Stark and Manager Grimm permitted him to stick around.

So up came George Grantham. George has been batting well under .200 this year but in the sixth had shown signs of revival with a double. This time he socked a triple to the right field corner, scoring Bottomley, Hafey and Rice with the markers that tied the score at 5 all. It was at this point that Manager Grimm ordered the ice poultice for Malone's head and sent Bush in to pitch. Morrissey singled off English's glove, Grantham scoring the winning run. Lombardi singled to right, putting Morrissey on third, but Smith ended the rally when he forced Lombardi.

Bob Smith went all the way in his first appearance against the Cubs since he left the fold in the Babe Herman deal last winter. The victory was his fourth of the season, which is the number he won all last year for the Cubs. It was the second loss of the current trip for Malone and his fifth setback of the season.

Cubs Fill Bases.

The Cubs got the bases full in the first inning and they still were full of the same fellows when the inning ended. English was called out on strikes but Bill Herman walked. Babe Herman fouled to Adams but Stephenson singled to right, putting Bill Herman on third. Demaree walked on four pitches, filling the bases. Smith then threw a wide one to Grimm. Charley then took a strike and on the next pitch grounded out to Grantham.

In the second inning three singles netted the Reds a run. Rice led off with a single to center. Grantham backed Babe Herman against the far distant right field screen to pull down his drive, then Morrissey singled to left, Rice stopping at second. Lombardi singled to center, scoring Rice. Smith and Adams flied to Babe Herman.

The Cubs tied the score with a cheap run in the fourth inning. Demaree tapped to Smith, who never made an error in his two years as a Cub, and Bob permitted the ball to slip from his hand as he drew back to throw to first. Grimm bounced a potential double play ball to Morrissey but the Reds' shortstop tossed the ball

Nothing Flashy About Gehrig; He Just Busts 'Em

(This is the first of a series of sketches of players who will take part in the game of the century between American and National league all stars at Comiskey park July 6.)

[BALLOT ON PAGE 21.]

Lou Gehrig hits baseball for long distances, does a little first base fielding in between, and let it go at that. There is nothing flashy about the lad they call Columbia Lou because he was going to school at a place of that name when the Yankee officials decided he might be worth signing for a tryout. Neither is there anything noisy about him. It is his nature to be easy going, whether he's on the field or off it.

Lou is the large, cumbersome type you would expect to be a plodder. That's what he is. He plays baseball by brute strength and courage. He plays it to win and regards his job as a job deserving of his attention. He doesn't consider that he is doing Jake Ruppert a favor by playing ball for Jake's Yankees. Lou actually thinks he's lucky to be in such a choice spot. If he didn't like it he probably would quit laughing off minor injuries such as send most players to bed and abandon the idea that he must set up a new record for consecutive games played.

May Pass Record This Season.

The present record for staying in there is held by Everett Scott, the former Red Sox, Yankee, Senator, and White Sox shortstop, who toiled through 1,307 games without a miss. Gehrig will pass that mark some time this season, if no mishaps occur.

The happening that headed Gehrig into a baseball career occurred right here in Chicago. He came out to the Cubs park in 1920 as a member of the School of Commerce team which played Lane Tech High in an intercity championship game sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. He knocked the ball out of the park that day. That put the Yankee bosses on his

Schmeling to Wed German Movie Actress

New York, June 12.—(AP)—Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion, who was knocked out by Max Baer last Thursday night, called the sports writers around him today to tell them he was sailing for Germany Wednesday night to marry Anna Ondra, blonde film star of his homeland.

For two years he has been denying vigorously that Miss Ondra was his fiancée. And today, to the very men to whom his denials had been most vigorous, the quiet young German warrior was forced to confess.

Max Machon, his trainer, said that the fighter fell in love with Miss Ondra upon seeing her in motion pictures in Germany. Schmeling said that they met three years ago, that she is blonde, weighs about 110 pounds, is 23 years old, and a bit better than five feet tall. They will be married some time in July.

The marriage, Schmeling said, would take place at his estate at Bad Saarow, about 40 miles from Berlin, with Machon as best man. A year ago, when Machon married a friend of Miss Ondra's, Schmeling was the best man.

Simmons' Average Rises to .383.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The St. Louis Browns, who ordinarily have humble habits, yesterday proved the old theory that the worm will turn if you give it enough time. They turned on the White Sox by administering a neat 3 to 1 beating, making their second victory in eleven attempts against the Chicagoans during the current campaign.

The notable achievement was accomplished partly because Bruce Campbell, a White Sox alumnus, hit a homer into the seats, and partly because George Blaeholder, the work horse of the Brown pitching staff, was in action. The curving wizard came back with only one day of rest after a three inning stretch against Cleveland, but gave no indication of being weary. He had his moments of trouble but after the first inning didn't permit his would be assailants to pair any of their hits.

Browns Score Early.

Ed Durham, the former Boston employé, yielded a run to the Browns in the opening inning, but at the time the Sox didn't let a little thing like that worry them. However, they soon discovered that Blaeholder was out to avenge some of the things they did to him recently in his own back yard, and the seventh rolled around before they were able to get back into a tie. Then as soon as the count was deadlocked Durham threw the home run ball to young Campbell with a man on base and the tie dissolved.

Al Simmons was the only member of the losing party who derived any consolation from the day's effort. He singled twice, once in the first inning only to see a teammate thrown out at the plate, and again in the ninth when he endeavored to engineer an eleventh hour coup against Blaeholder. In between the two hits Al flopped twice, making his day's average .500 and adding two points to the mark that has him well ahead of all the other league batters. Simmons' figure is now .383.

First One Is a Gift.

The run off Durham in the first inning was practically a gift. The game started with Scharein popping to Berry, after which West drew a walk. Garms sent him to third with a single to right. Durham cheered up the Brownies with something badly needed at this point. He let loose with a wild pitch, on which West scored and Garms went to second. Then both Campbell and Burns grounded gently to Kress.

After seeing the visitors get a run on one single the Sox demonstrated in their opening half that it is possible not to score despite a double and a single. Haas slapped the double over third base after Hayes had popped out. Swanson was thrown out by Blaeholder, but Haas hugged second. Then Simmons lined a single to left and Haas ran for the plate but was nipped there when Garms' accurate throw bounced perfectly into Shea's hands.

The Browns didn't make any more menacing motions until the fourth, when they might have accomplished something had they been skilled enough to work the bunting game. Garms led off with a single past Kress. Hayes, by knocking down a single by Campbell, made Garms stop at second base. Burns tried to sacrifice, but the bunt went straight to Durham, whose throw to Dykes forced Garms. Simmons then ran over to the stand to take in Gullic's foul fly and Durham took care of Levey on strikes.

Durham Pulls Fast One.

Swanson singled to center with one out in the fourth to swell the Sox hit total to three, but Simmons forced him and Appling grounded to Scharein. Then Durham tried to start something in the fourth. He bunted with two strikes and beat it because Gullic wasn't expecting such trickery. Hayes sacrificed and Haas bounced to Blaeholder. Durham was caught trying to go to third on the tap and Swanson fanned to close the inning.

Only bad luck could have prevented the Sox from scoring once to bring on a tie in the seventh. For a starter

BY FRENCH LANE.

Consistent old Sandwrack, always a longshot, but forever turning in splendid speed exhibitions, found himself in a running mood in the stretch as the racing season opened at Lincoln Fields yesterday and stepped so fast down the last furlong that he won the Ravenswood purse at a mile and a sixteenth.

He had no easy time winning. It was only by the margin of a neck that he took the decision over Uncommon Gold, which beat Old Judge for the place. By Gracious, the favorite with the sensational Westrope in the saddle, was fourth.

His victory brought great joy to the players of field horses. The field paid a hatful, the mutuels reading $34.42 to win, $36.62 to place and $20.14 to show. Uncommon Gold was at $8.70 to place and $7.52 to show. Old Judge's price was $7.06.

Dusky Devil Quits.

Before Sandwrack and Uncommon Gold made their dash forward and waged their struggle in the stretch, Dusky Devil, from the Audley farm stable, had been the leader. He quit quickly once he started to give ground and was completely out of the picture in the final stages. Old Judge closed a big gap and so did Spud, which had been forced to lose ground on the first turn.

Westrope had scored two victories earlier in the afternoon, and when he was able to keep By Gracious close to the pace until the field reached the stretch the crowd began to expect to see him pull up past his field in the final furlong. He was in tight quarters down the stretch, however, and By Gracious would not respond with enough speed to get a piece of the purse.

Sandwrack ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:45 4-5. He races for John Theall of Chicago and was ridden by Jockey A. Richard.

10,000 Watch Race Card.

Nearly 10,000 were on hand when Col. Edward R. Bradley's silks were carried to victory by Boy Crazy, a daughter of Broadway Jones, in the seven furlong dash which opened the program.

Boy Crazy, despite the popular green and white jacket she carried, wasn't able to muster much support. She was a longshot when she reached the post. Westrope had her away flying and she stayed in front for the entire trip. The odds on favorite, Hernando, offered little opposition at any time. Chat Eagle loomed dangerously at the head of the stretch and came up to beat Hernando out of the place money. Bradley's filly paid $26.74.

The Englewood purse, engaging some fleet old sprinters, had the crowd on edge when Rubio, a far westerner owned by T. C. Worden of Kansas City, staged a terrific drive in the stretch and raced up in the last strides to beat C. V. Whitney's Slapstick by a neck.

This was also an upset, Rubio paying off at $12.08, although there had been brisk support for most of the horses in the race.

Trinchera and Commuter had made the early running, but Slapstick took care of them as they rounded the bend into the stretch. Once in command Slapstick bore out slightly and left just enough room next to the rail for Rubio to squeeze through. The western horse was pulling away when the battle ended.

SIX ATHLETES TO DEFEND TITLES IN NATIONAL TRACK

Champions

FOLLOWING is the list of champions who will defend their titles in the national collegiate track and field meet this week at Soldiers' field:

Metcalfe [Marquette].....100 yards
Metcalfe [Marquette].....220 yards
Cunningham [Kansas].....One mile
Hornbostel [Indiana].....Half mile
Keller [Ohio State].....Low hurdles
*Seeley [Illinois].....Pole vault
†Ward [Michigan].....High jump

*Ineligible but tied Beecher of Indiana since meet also was Olympic tryout.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Six athletes, all from the central states territory, one of them a double champion last year, will be back this week-end to defend their individual titles in the National Collegiate track meet at Soldiers' field. The double winner, undoubtedly the outstanding sprinter in the United States if not in the world, is Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette university, who began his record breaking activity at Tilden Tech, Chicago.

Metcalfe's claim to world greatness is clean cut since the retirement of Eddie Tolan, one time Michigan star, who won the 100 and 200 meter sprints in the Olympic at Los Angeles last summer. Even so, there are those who believe Metcalfe tied Tolan in the shorter dash and his defeat in the 200 meters, although more or less glossed over, probably was due to an error in measurement of the lanes which gave Metcalfe a longer course.

Greatest Day Last Year.

Metcalfe's greatest afternoon of running was in the National Collegiates in 1932, when he tied one world record and established three others, times being taken in the sprints for both the English and metric distances. Metcalfe ran the hundred in 9 5-10 seconds, which equaled the then recognized world record. His time for the 100 meters was 10 2-10 seconds, one-tenth of a second faster than Tolan's time in the Olympics. Metcalfe covered 200 meters in 20 5-10 seconds and 220 yards in 20 5-10 seconds, both marks beings world records when and if recognized.

Glenn Cunningham, the nation's best collegiate miler, ran the fastest outdoor mile in the history of the United States to set a N. C. A. A. record of 4 minutes 11 1-10 seconds. Incidentally, he covered the 1,500 meters within 1-10 of a second of the world record in the same race.

Tough for Hornbostel.

Charley Hornbostel of Indiana university, defending half-mile champion with the mark of 1:53.5 which tied the N. C. A. A. record of Dale Letts, former Chicago runner, will have his work cut out for him. Not only has Cunningham indicated he expects to compete in the race but Ben Eastman, Stanford's star who holds the unofficial world record for the distance, will be in the field.

Jack Keller, Ohio State's double hurdle winner in the Western conference meet this spring, expects to do as well in the National Collegiates. He hit a hurdle and finished third in the 120 yard highs last year, but he won the low hurdles in 22 7-10 seconds, a N. C. A. A. and world record for the race.

Irv Seeley, Illinois' pole vaulter, whose best effort in competition was a leap of 13 feet 10 inches at the Drake relays, where he shared honors with his teammate, Ike Lennington, tied in the vault last year at the same height with Bryce Beecher of Indiana. Beecher won, since Seeley was ineligible at the time, although he was permitted to compete because the meet was an Olympic qualifying trial.

Ward Back in High Jump.

Willis Ward will be back for the high jump. Ward was a freshman last year and competed because of the Olympic angle. Ward's mark of 6 feet 7⅛ inches was the best, although N. C. A. A. honors went to Nelson of Butler. With at least two jumpers of equal ability working against him, Ward will have difficulty winning, and certainly he cannot expect to duplicate his feat of scoring in the conference meet when two firsts and two seconds gave him the all around proficiency medal.

Walter Marty of Fresno State college has cleared 6 feet 8⅝ inches, a world mark if accepted, and Spencer of Geneva college, has done 6 feet 7¼ inches.

wide, Demaree reaching third and Grimm first. Hartnett popped to Morrissey but Jurges filed to Moore, scoring Demaree. Adams threw out Malone.

Errors Help Cubs.

In the fifth the Cubs were aided by two more sloppy errors but this time there was some hitting. English was safe on Morrissey's fumble and when Adams fumbled Bill Herman's grounder English reached second and Bill first. Babe Herman then doubled to center, English scoring and Bill Herman stopping at third. Stephenson then tripled off the right field wall, scoring the Hermans. Stephenson and Demaree put on the squeeze play, Stevie scoring while Frankie was bunting out to Bottomley. Grantham threw out Grimm and Hartnett filed to Hafey.

The Reds made a run after two were out in the fifth. Hafey doubled and came home on Rice's single. Rice was out trying to stretch his effort to a double. You've been told what happened thereafter.

IT'S WARNEKE TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., June 12.—The Cubs and Reds tomorrow will play the fourth of their five game series here. Lon Warneke will seek to slap down his worst enemies in the National league, the gents who have handed him three of his four defeats this year. Lon will be after his No. 9 victory and Paul Derringer, late of St. Louis Cardinals, will endeavor to say him nay.

Manager Donie Bush of the Reds this afternoon saw his team play for the first time since May 8, when he was stricken with pneumonia. Donie sat in the stands after attending the pregame club house meeting. He nearly had a relapse when he saw his inner defense commit four costly errors in the fourth and fifth innings, but he felt better when he saw Malone driven to cover in the four run rally in the seventh inning.

No blame could be attached to the weather today. A fine breeze was blowing throughout the contest, a condition that was expected to make things easy for Malone. The weather, of course, had nothing to do with the heat that burned Malone's neck in the seventh.

How They're Voting on American League Stars

The baseball fans of the nation will decide who will play in the game of the century at Comiskey park July 6. Fifty-five newspapers in all sections of the United States have invited fans to help pick the National and American leagues' greatest players.

The Tribune is offering $500 in cash prizes to the fans who come closest to naming the teams. The first award of $250 will go to the person who comes closest to naming the starting lineups [batting order] and the three pitchers for each team in the order they work. The fan who selects the American league's starting lineup with starting pitcher will receive $100. A similar prize will be presented for the National league team. Fifty $1 prizes will be distributed among the fans who can name the six pitchers.

In case more than the allotted number qualify for the awards, the prizes will go to those whose selections reach The Tribune first.

Simmons was thrown out by Levey. Appling walked and Kress whistled a high powered liner toward third. Gullic stuck up his hand, the ball thumped him on the forearm, and he recovered it in ample time to get Kress at first. Appling took a big lead off second, and when Shea threw there to trap him, he ran for third and made it easily. Levey relayed the ball to Gullic, and it was headed straight for the dugout, but Gullic leaped to get it with his gloved hand. However, Appling went home a moment later on Dykes' single to left.

That Unlucky Eighth!

That ill fated eighth began with a pass to Scharein. West flied to Simmons, who followed up with a snappy catch of Garms' line drive. The next happening was a steal of second by Scharein. Durham threw three wide ones to Campbell and then made him look like a chump on three change of pace balls, one of which was fouled off. Then Durham threw something resembling a fast one right through the middle and Campbell thumped it so solidly that it lined into the right field upper deck. All the Sox could do in their half was a double by Haas with two out, after which Swanson bounced to short.

To open the home ninth Simmons notched his second single, a terrific drive that handcuffed Gullic. Appling flied out, Simmons took second on a wild pitch and Kress walked. It did not take Blaeholder long to clean up the situation and end the game. Dykes popped to Gullic and Berry tapped a leisurely roller to Scharein.

Breaks in as a Regular in 1925.

Gehrig was with the Yankees for the first time in 1923, but a pretty good first baseman named Wally Pipp was enrolled with the New York team at that time. So there was no inclination or desire to put Lou to work. Instead he was shipped to a Yankee farm at Hartford, Conn., and he had to go through the same priming process in 1924. But when he came back he decided to stay, and to date nobody is thinking about his successor. One will not be needed for some time.

Gehrig in eight consecutive seasons as a regular with the Yanks has been under the .300 mark only once. That was in 1925, his first season. One other season he hit .300 on the head. But he has had his good years, and may have more. He touched his all time high of .379 in 1930, and in all his recent seasons has been the elite or close to the elite in the production of home runs.

STATE AMATEUR, PRO GOLF MEET TO OPEN MONDAY

The third annual Illinois state amateur and professional tournament, which will begin at the Medinah Country club Monday and continue for five days, constitutes the next important part of Chicago's busiest golf year. Sharing interest will be the international team matches between American and Canadian women golfers, to be held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week at Riverside, Beverly, and Evanston.

Jim Foulis Jr. of Ruth Lake and Warren Dawson are the pro and amateur state champions, respectively, and both are certain to compete in this year's tournament.

The Traffic club of Chicago will play at Olympia Fields today, with a field of 150 expected. The Western Advertising Golfers' association will hold its second tournament of the season today at Bob O' Link, the home club of Lloyd R. Maxwell, who has been an officer or director of the association for 20 consecutive years.

Medinah will have almost as many golfers on its courses this week as next, when the state titles will be decided. The Dotted Line club and the Druggists' and Chemists' association will meet today, the Oak Park Lions club and the Peoples' Gas Light and Coke company tomorrow, and the Rotary club of Chicago, the Medinah Bowlers' league, the Illinois Association of Warehouse men, and the Western Trade Golf association, all on Thursday.

Walsh Takes North Shore Tourney Title

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Frank Walsh, Bryn Mayr's husky, curly haired professional, whose solid game makes him one of the steadiest players in the country, was consistent when consistency was needed most last evening in the sixth annual North Shore open tournament at the Sunset Valley Golf club.

Walsh finished the regulation 36 holes of the tournament with a two day score of 70—74—144, tying for first place with Harry Cooper of Glen Oak and Sam Bernardi of Briergate. A sudden death playoff was ordered and Walsh terminated it at the first hole with an orthodox four, while Cooper and Bernardi were taking fives.

Walsh Gets $350.

Walsh's victory enabled him to take first prize of $350, while Cooper and Bernardi were awarded $150 each. Bill Chambers of the home club took the first amateur prize, with Don Armstrong of Aurora second. Johnny Revolta, the bushy thatched prodigy from Menominee, Mich., and Joe Paletti of Chicago divided third place among the professionals.

The gallery at Sunset Valley yesterday swarmed around Revolta and Ralph Guldahl, the 21 year old St. Louis professional, who was runner up to Johnny Goodman for the National open championship last Saturday. Neither had competed in the opening round of play on Sunday, and so were permitted to go over the full 36 holes yesterday. Revolta played well to get his 146, and might have tied the three leaders, but for difficulty in getting home against the wind on the last few holes of his afternoon round.

Guldahl, still showing the result of his losing battle to overcome Goodman at North Shore last week, turned in a card of 74—76—150. The big boy over-drove several greens, and was not clicking on short putts, although he holed out a number of long efforts.

Guldahl admitted that he was disappointed at the failure of the Professional Golfers association to consider him for the tenth place on the American Ryder cup team, which sails for England tomorrow. Leading scorers:

TWO PUTTS.

TWO putts determined the national open golf tourney at North Shore last week

Naturally any such statement regarding three days of play may be subject to challenge, for with scores so close between the leaders one bad shot anywhere along the route might have turned the result. But these two putts, in our opinion, were the vital factors—one for its psychological effect and the other for its actual effect.

Strangely enough, the winning putt by Johnny Goodman did not interest us as much as the losing one by Ralph Guldahl. Perhaps that is because, as a dub, we are more adept in missing putts than in making them.

Goodman's winning putt was on the 511 yard fifteenth hole, par 5, where he holed a 6 footer for a birdie 4. It came just when the Omaha boy knew he was being pressed hard by Guldahl and it steadied him enough to coast home in front with 76, his poorest round of the three days.

Guldahl's missed putt was tragic. It was the kind one expects professionals to make easily. It was a 4 footer, that distance so disconcerting to amateurs like ourself. We'd rather try them from eight feet than from four.

Guldahl needed a four on the last hole to tie Goodman. His drive was down the center. His second started beautifully, but veered into a trap from which a brilliant out left him with only the putt between him and a tie. He had been playing very deliberately. On this stroke he seemed to take less time than usual. It was not even close. It was not "on" the cup from its start and stopped almost two inches to the left, slightly beyond.

The effort intrigued us so much we sought him in the locker room afterward. "I stroked it badly," he explained. "It never had a chance." "Why?" we asked. "I don't know. It was just one of those things. Perhaps I had the jitters," he laughed when one would think he would want to cry.

Incidentally, this tourney, we think, proved The Wake's contention that putting plays too great a part in the game, at least for experts. You know we favor wider cups. Old timers called the affair a "putting contest," saying it was a drive and a pitch, then putting. To us it hardly seems equitable that great drives, brilliant recoveries, almost perfect approaches should be neutralized by fractions of inches on the greens. You don't think so? All right, it's an argument, anyway.

Spring Fever.

I'm tired of thinking the same old thoughts,
Of shunning the same old fears,
Of futilely scoffing at might-have-beens,
Of repressing the same old tears,
Of heaping the clap of forgetfulness
On the graves of ghostly dreams
That though buried oft will arise again
When tomorrow's day-star gleams.

I'm tired of styling in modern rags,
A wish grown quaint with time;
Of closeting fast the skeleton boy
Lest he shame the man in his prime;
Of pretending to think my tether will stretch
To widen my circular way,
So that somehow tomorrow won't be the same
As yesterday or today.

I'm tired of yes-ing the folks who preach
That life is a serious thing,
Of feigning escape from ennuis found
Any more in a thrill than a sting.
When I think without work there can be no rest,
No ease without previous pain,
I turn to the shade, saying, "What's the use?"

LEADING TENNIS STARS TO SEEK WESTERN TITLES

Start Battle Monday on River Forest Courts.

River Forest will be host to America's greatest tennis players when the seven day western championship tournament opens at the River Forest Tennis club next Monday.

Frederick R. Baird, River Forest, and a committee of tennis officials representing various parts of Chicago and suburbs will be in charge. The entry committee, composed of Ralph Westcott and Arthur Kaiser, has been in touch with leading players from coast to coast and promise the most brilliant field in recent years. Frankie Parker and Bryant Grant already have signified their intention of entering. Parker, the 16 year old player from Milwaukee who won the title last year, is one of the favorites. Gene Mako, who was runner-up to Parker in the national junior tournament last year, is another.

Two Davis cup stars top the men's division. They are George Lott and Clifford Sutter. Lott will be one of the favorites in the western meet and will be fighting to avenge his five set defeat by Frankie Parker last year.

CLAY COURT JULY 3

The United States Clay courts tennis meet will open at the Chicago Town and Tennis club, July 3. The probable meeting of Frankie Parker of Milwaukee, and Gene Mako of Los Angeles, will be a feature. Both are entered along with many others in the top flight of American tennis. The friendly feud between Parker and Mako is one of long standing.

In 1931 Parker defeated Mako in the finals of the U. S. Boys' tournament and in 1932 emerged the victor over Mako in the final round of the U. S. Junior tournament.

Bryant M. Grant Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., 1930 U. S. Clay Court champion, will try to regain the title. So will J. Gilbert Hall, who paired with Fritz Mercur to win the clay court doubles in 1929 and 1930. Mercur is also entered, as is R. Berkeley Bell, of Austin, Tex., 1929 intercollegiate champion.

Wyatt Bids for Second Victory Over St. Louis

Whitlow Wyatt, taken from the Tigers in trade for Vic Frasier, marked his White Sox debut with a victory over the Browns last week, so will be given a chance to repeat the trick in the second of the present series this afternoon. The Browns may have to start a southpaw—Ed Wells or Wallace Hebert.

The Browns are in a bad fix for infielders. They have only five and two of them are absent. Oscar Melillo is out with a jammed thumb and Lindel Storti was spiked during the series at Cleveland. During the emergency, Outfielder Ted Gullic is doing the best he can at third base.

Not many local folks appear to be interested in the Browns, at least not on a Monday. The attendance was in the neighborhood of the 1,500 mark.

There was a reason for not calling out Gerald Walker, the Detroit outfielder, on Sunday, when, after stealing second, he picked up the ball dropped by Hayes and ran to third base with it. The ball, thrown by Grube, had hit Hayes and Umpire Moriarty, thinking the infielder was injured, immediately called time. That saved Walker from being ruled out on a charge of interference.

BUSINESS HEADS MEET TO OPPOSE TAX MEASURES

Assert Laws Would Hurt Illinois Concerns.

Determined opposition to pending senate bills giving the state tax commission some of the powers now vested in local assessors was voiced yesterday at a meeting of representatives of several large commercial and industrial organizations at the Union League club.

The measures, known as senate bills 338 and 339, have already passed the state senate and are being sponsored in the house by the state administration.

The legislation takes from the local assessor and turns over to the commission the power to assess the capital stock of manufacturing, mining, mercantile, and newspaper corporations.

Opposed to Measures.

The meeting, which was attended by representatives of leading business organizations and retail corporations, went on record as strongly opposing the measure. They charged the bills would also give power to the commission to fix the assessed valuation of the kind of corporations mentioned on which state and local personal property and real estate taxes would be levied.

The enactment of the bills would discourage further incorporations in the state and would drive business out of Illinois, according to the resolution adopted at the meeting.

The measures, the resolution declared, represent flagrant violations of the principle of home rule in local government. They would impose a handicap on Illinois corporations which operate in competition with out of state companies.

Forecast Many Abuses.

Furthermore, it was charged, the delegation of the assessing power to the state commission would lead to many abuses and to discrimination.

In addition to the representatives of the retail stores the following attended the meeting:

American Snuff.

Investors' Guide: Please advise in regard to American Snuff.—C. W. A.

Answer: American Snuff company has been an important manufacturer of snuff since 1900. Its principal brands are "Garrett," "Honest," and "Dental." These are widely advertised, especially in the southern section of the country, where most of the sales are made. Principal competitors are United States Tobacco company and George W. Helme company.

One outstanding feature is the company's stability of operations. For the twelve years through 1932 profits have fluctuated from a low of $1,640,000 to a high of $2,193,000 per year. Net income for 1932 was $1,818,000, or $3.59 per common share, which approximated average earnings for the twelve year period.

This compared with net of $1,916,000, or $3.81 per common share, for 1931, net of $1,893,000 for 1930, and $2,110,000 for 1929.

Current position is strong. At the close of 1932 cash alone of $2,041,000 compared with total current liabilities of $949,000. Total current assets amounted to $10,563,000. Working capital was $9,614,000, against $9,680,000 the year before.

There is no funded debt. Capitalization consists of 39,528 shares of 6 per cent $100 par preferred and 440,000 shares of $25 par common. Dividends on the preferred have been paid regularly since issuance and on the common since 1902.

Relatively small property requirements and strong current position have enabled the management to distribute a large percentage of earnings in the form of dividends. In 1932 only 8.3 per cent of net earnings was carried over as surplus. Property account is carried at an almost entirely depreciated value.

The $25 par common stock has paid regular dividends of 75 cents a share since 1930. Extras in 1931, 1932, and 1933 totaled 25 cents a year.

Both the preferred and common are high grade stocks.

Modern Woodmen of America.

Investors' Guide: I am a member of one camp of Modern Woodmen of America and I am wondering if the parent organization is responsible for the insurance issued by individual camps.—M. J.

Answer: J. G. Ray, head clerk of Modern Woodmen of America, has informed us, in part, as follows:

". . . Our local organizations, or camps, as they are designated, do not issue insurance. . . . All members of Modern Woodmen of America are required to belong to some local camp, but the local camp itself does not issue the certificates of insurance. . . . Modern Woodmen of America guarantees the payment of all maturing obligations as represented by benefit certificates held by its members, regardless of where or in what local organization such membership is held . . ."

HURLEY SLATED FOR INDUSTRIAL CONTROL BOARD

Washington Hears He Will Be Invited.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12. — Edward N. Hurley of Chicago will be asked to serve as one of the 5 members of the industrial control board under the national industrial act, it was reported here tonight.

E. N. HURLEY. (Du Bois Photo.)

Mr. Hurley is the fourth prominent industrialist to be mentioned as a probable member of the board. It is understood that Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, selected as administrator under the act, wants a middle westerner to serve on the committee to represent industry. The others mentioned for posts are all easterners. They are Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey; Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors corporation, and Gerard Swope, chairman of the General Electric company.

Won Fame During War.

Mr. Hurley has long been identified with manufacturing in the middle west. He became known nationally and internationally as chairman of the shipping board during the war. He was one of the "dollar a year" men who volunteered their services to the government.

Gen. Johnson is said to regard him as a logical candidate for the industrial board because of his experiences as the first chairman of the federal trade commission and his work as a pioneer in the trade association field. Mr. Hurley was an early advocate of strong trade associations to regulate problems within industries.

At the present time Mr. Hurley is serving as co-receiver of the Middle West Utilities company. It is not expected that it will be necessary to give up that position to serve on the new advisory board.

Chief Interests in Utilities.

Mr. Hurley's principal business interests are in the electrical utility field. The Hurley family are the principal owners of the Hurley Machine company and the Electrical Household Utilities company.

His availability for the position is enhanced by the fact that he has long been prominent in Democratic councils. He is the only industrialist of those so far mentioned for the board with Democratic affiliations.

STEEL OUTPUT IN CHICAGO AREA MOVES FORWARD

Steel production in the Chicago district continues to gain, the average rate for the area now being estimated at between 40 and 45 per cent, according to reports. Four more open hearths are melting in the Chicago district than a week ago, which means more men are working.

Harold H. Swift, vice president of Swift & Co., told members of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers yesterday that better sentiment and growing confidence had caused a decided upturn in American business conditions.

From Pittsburgh comes news that the Pittsburgh Coal company has reopened five mines, providing work for from 500 to 800 men. J. D. A. Morrow, president, stated that for the first time in years the company has customers who are doing something more than hand to mouth buying. The company recently gave a 10 per cent wage increase which affected 8,000 workers.

Senate Action on Bonds Jolts Investor Faith

BY HOWARD WOOD.

The senate of the United States on a hot day last week voted to remove the tax exemption features from the bonds of federal, state and local governments and stipulated further that the change should be retroactive—that is, that it should apply to bonds already outstanding as well as those to be issued in the future.

Senate and house conferees later hastily agreed to delete this measure from the industrial recovery bill to which it has been attached by the senate.

Despite this sudden deletion the financial world got quite a shock out of the fact that a majority of the senate had gone as far as to vote for such a degree of repudiation.

In the case of United States government bonds congress had authorized the treasury to pay in paper dollars and maturing bonds that the treasury had originally sold on the promise of payment in gold. Repudiation to that extent, however, was not widely opposed in business and financial circles because it was believed to be a matter of necessity in a national emergency.

The federal government has outstanding approximately 22 billion 400 million dollars of bonds and other securities. State and local governments, school districts, drainage districts, and other public bodies have outstanding an estimated total of about 14 billion dollars.

Practically all of these bonds have been sold on a low interest yield basis because buyers have been willing to receive small interest in view of the tax exemption features.

For an investor whose income is $50,000 a year a yield of 4 per cent on a tax free bond is equivalent to a yield of 5.8 per cent on a taxable bond. An investor with an income of $500,000 a year would be as well off with a tax free municipal or government bond yielding 4 per cent as with a taxable security yielding 10 per cent.

But it isn't the enormity of the injustice to investors that astounded investment experts. It was the fact that the senators apparently forgot that eliminating the ax exemption features would wreck the market for government and municipal bonds and force all governments to pay tremendously increased interest rates on their borrowings, thereby increasing the cost of government sharply because a large proportion of such cost is represented by interest on public debt.

The management of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad has a tough problem to solve. The interstate commerce commission last Saturday denied the road's petition for permission to ask the Reconstruction Finance corporation for a loan to pay back taxes.

The "North Shore Line" is in receivership and therefore is temporarily freed from the necessity of earning enough to pay interest charges, but it hasn't even been earning enough to pay taxes. Normal credit sources are naturally closed to a railroad in such financial condition. Now the interstate commerce commission has blocked aid from the R. F. C.

The management is considering the wholesale elimination of trains. The difficulty there is that fewer trains would probably drive passengers off the rails and onto the highways in buses and private motor cars. A 40 foot superhighway is already being completed along the road's high speed "Skokie" route from Niles Center northward.

The Chicago and North Western railroad, the North Shore line's principal competitor, has already cut its passenger schedules to the bone.

It may be that one of Commissioner Eastman's jobs as railroad "coordinator" will be to coördinate the passenger services of the electrified North Shore line with those of its steam competitor.

Leading commercial banks of the nation continue to pour money into United States government bonds and the stock market and at the same time are lending less to business.

The federal reserve board yesterday issued its weekly report on the position of member banks in 90 principal cities of the nation. These banks during the week ended June 7 had enjoyed an increase of about 180 million dollars in their aggregate deposits. Their investments in government bonds were up 65 millions for the week. Their loans on securities were up 29 millions. Commercial loans were down about 3 millions.

Minnie, with 197 Children, Railroad's Pet

One of the most valued members of the Illinois Central staff at Columbia, Miss., is a 19 year old cat which has given birth to 197 kittens in her day. Her maternity record is certified by the road's office records at Columbia. She is the property of Agent C. A. Wilcox, who brought her from Bogalusa, La., seventeen years ago. Mr. Wilcox declared that "Minnie" has more than paid her seventeen year board bill of $300 by preventing damage to freight.

Japan is reported as being America's principal market for worn out and obsolete freight cars. The battered old cars aren't used on Japan's railroads, but are broken up here and the metal parts salvaged. The scrap so obtained goes to feed Nippon's open hearth furnaces. A Chicagoan, M. S. Kaplan, is one of the largest purchasers of antiquated freight cars in the country. He recently bought 2,000 old freight cars from the southeastern lines, sending the scrap obtained from them to Japan. He has purchased 16,000 cars since the first of the year and 60,000 in the last six years. One railroad is reported to have converted its obsolete freight cars into $1,000,000 in cash in the last year.

The value of air conditioned cars for railroads was demonstrated forcibly to a real estate man who returned from California during the recent hot spell via the southwest. The crack excess fare train he traveled on had one artificially cooled car—the diner. The Pullmans on certain desert stretch had a temperature of 127. The result was that passengers kept the diner crowded all the time. "Some of us ate five meals or more—in fact, we ate all we could in order to stay in the comfortable atmosphere as long as we could get away with it," he said.

The Chesapeake and Ohio, which goes nowhere near a desert nor has such terrific temperatures to contend with as do the southwestern and western railroads, has had every through passenger train on its system completely air conditioned. This went into effect Sunday. The C. & O., therefore, is the first and only railroad in the world to have 100 per cent air conditioned through service.

OIL BURNER GROUP FRAME PROGRAM UNDER 'NEW DEAL'

The formulation of an "all industry wage and employment policy" in accordance with the industrial recovery act occupied a special session of the board of directors of the American Oil Burner association yesterday. A general understanding as to what would be necessary in framing the code was reached, according to Morgan J. Hammers, president of the association.

Almost a thousand delegates were present at the opening of the tenth national show and convention of the association at the Stevens hotel, Mr. Hammers said.

BANK INSTITUTE TO OPEN ANNUAL MEETING TODAY

The American Institute of Banking, the educational section of the American Bankers' association, will hold the first business session of its thirty-first annual convention today at the Palmer house. The Chicago chapter, the third largest unit in the institute, is acting as host to the junior bankers of the convention, which will be in session until Friday.

Albert S. Puelicher, vice president of the Marshall and Ilsley bank, Milwaukee, Wis., and vice president of the institute, is slated to be nominated for president today.

MacLeish Elected Head of Better Business Group

Bruce MacLeish, secretary of Carson Pirie Scott & Co., was elected president of the Chicago Better Business bureau at a luncheon in the Palmer house yesterday. He succeeds Charles H. MacDowell. J. A. Peterson was chosen first vice president; A. H. Rich, second vice president; Kenneth E. Rice, treasurer, and Kenneth Barnard, secretary and general manager.

DOLLAR RALLIES AFTER STERLING HITS NEW PEAK

Pound Touches $4.20 Before Slumping.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 12.—The pound gained more than 4 cents and the French franc nearly 5 points against the dollar, which reached a new low of 80.50 cents in the exchange markets early today. This was followed by a sharp rally in which the dollar recovered all its declines and gained a fraction against sterling.

Gyrations of 4 cents in a few hours of trading indicated at first a livelier demand for sterling and francs, followed by profit taking by speculators. The early demand might be explained in part by large purchases of commodities in the Liverpool market.

Pound Reaches $4.20.

The pound sterling rose to $4.18½ here, after having been quoted in London at $4.20. Subsequently it reacted to $4.14½, only to rally again and close at $4.18, up 2¼ cents net. At

Defiant Gold Hoarders Held Threat to Inflation Program

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—President Roosevelt's inflationary and monetary program may collapse or be seriously threatened, if the government's campaign against gold hoarding is thrown out by the courts, officials admitted today.

At the same time, Attorney General Cummings announced that the number of hoarders defying the President's anti-hoarding order had risen from 37 to 95. The defiant hoarders hold $660,601 in gold, the attorney general estimated.

No test case has been started, Cummings said, but the criminal division of his department is going over the evidence against the 95 recalcitrants. The attorney general has promised prosecutions for every one who does not relent.

Would Bring Premium.

With about 600 million dollars in gold and gold certificates outstanding in private hands, success of the hoarding campaign is vital to the Roosevelt monetary program. If the courts should declare that these private holdings are legal, despite the anti-hoarding order, they could then be sold at a premium. They would be sure to command a premium if any inflationary move was launched.

Such a development, officials admitted, would catch the treasury department in a vulnerable spot. The secretary of the treasury is required by law to keep all currencies on a parity with gold. He would be confronted with the necessity of driving down the value of gold by selling large quantities of it or raising the value of other currencies by stopping inflation.

Turn Over $177,839.

The number of defiant hoarders exceeds by two the number to surrender their holdings of gold. Ninety-three persons out of the 1,838 investigated turned over $177,839.

Another 1,650 persons claimed never to have had or to have previously surrendered $15,081,684. Of this total 1,024 cases, involving $10,219,931, have been verified.

"Not one will escape investigation," Cummings affirmed today. "We will locate every person on the list. I have no patience with persons who follow a course which, if we were at war, would brand them as slackers." He said he had received a second list of suspects from the treasury.

WARNER BOARD ELECTS GRAHAM NEW CHAIRMAN

R. J. Graham was elected chairman of the Stewart-Warner corporation at a meeting of the new board of directors yesterday. He succeeds L. H. La Chance who becomes vice president. C. B. Smith was reëlected president; J. E. Otis Jr. and F. A. Hitler, sales manager, were also made vice presidents. V. R. Bucklin was named vice president and treasurer and T. T. Sullivan was made vice president and secretary. Mr. Graham is a large stockholder and was said to be acceptable to the opposition faction which tried to oust the present management at the annual meeting.

RAILS AND OILS KEEP STOCKS ON UPWARD PATH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 12.—With several factors contributing to maintenance of cheery sentiment, stocks advanced from fractions to more than 8 points in all sections of the active list in active trading today. Turnover was in excess of five million 800 thousand shares.

Prices were quick to respond to such influences as further reports of business improvement, a sharp and broad depreciation of the dollar, high hopes for early adjournment of congress and feeling that, at least, no harm would come from the world economic conference.

The movement for the rise was conducted in smart fashion and the trend encountered little resistance. Those traders who became shy of the market last week and sold were said to have

BABSON FEARS BIG SCANDAL IN FEDERAL WORKS

Favors Roosevelt Idea on Farm Prices.

Boston, Mass., June 12.—(AP)—Roger W. Babson, statistician, today said "public works programs and farm relief measures may open the way for the biggest graft scandal in the United States history and a reaction that is too ugly to contemplate."

Addressing the National Association of Purchasing Agents, Babson said this was the first year since 1928 that he could bring a message of optimism, but he warned of the dangers of too much inflation.

Farm Benefits to Spread.

"President Roosevelt is working for higher prices," Babson said. "Realizing that an improvement in the prices of agricultural products and raw materials will, if sustained, spread to the whole price structure and make for more employment through increased purchasing power.

"There is the excellent chance that the mere announcement of his plan may so prime the business pump that it can continue to operate satisfactorily without the use of the various remedies he now has authority to apply. That certainly would be a very fortunate contingency.

"There is, however, the prospect that such measures as extensive public works and new farm relief may have to be applied to try to accomplish the central purpose. Therein lies the possibility of serious consequences.

Fears Possible Graft.

"Public works programs and farm relief measures may open the way for the biggest graft scandal in the United States history and a reaction that is too ugly to contemplate. As honest and conscientious as the President is, it will be difficult for him to control the dispensing of huge sums without the political machine creeping in. This could result in a drastic action toward either conservatism or radicalism, with a probable decline in prices to a natural level based upon supply and demand."

"Possibly the next ninety days will be the most crucial time since the "critical period" of 1783-'89. Not since that momentous time has the life of the nation depended so upon wisdom, foresight, and backbone. The next two or three months may tell us whether our domestic and international plans are going to give us the necessary lift from chaos or turn us over to socialism."

Rails and Oils Lead.

A strong lead having been furnished by rails and oils, stocks were quick to advance, and in the course of the day many new high prices were set. In early dealings heaviness developed here and there on profittaking, but it disappeared quickly. At bottom the main sustaining force seemed to be the fresh decline in the dollar.

For breath of movement, American Telephone was the leader. It rocketed to another new high for the year and closed up 8¼.

Later other utilities in general extended the advance which featured the market Saturday. Among the strongest active leaders were American and Foreign Power, Consolidated Gas, Commonwealth and Southern, United Gas and North American.

Another rise in the mills' operating rate helped the steel group. United States Steel exceeded 58, the best price reached this year. Bethlehem, Republic and Truscon were strong. Industrials generally were in demand, with American Can and Du Pont closing 3 or so higher.

Realty Issues Join Rise.

Reflecting belief that business improvement would soon embrace that thus far lagging field, real estate and construction industry shares had a particularly good day, including General Realty, United States Realty, Otis Elevator, and American Radiator.

Rails were well bought. Leaders were Union Pacific, Louisville and Nashville, Southern Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, Reading, and New York Central. Their gains were 1 to 4 points at best levels.

The sudden run up in Cream of Wheat was laid to reports that General Foods was pulling wires to take company over. The play in the issue resulted in a net advance of more than 2 points.

Oils had one of their frequent spells of buoyancy on news of higher crude prices in the southwest. Standard of New Jersey was among the issues to reach a new high price. Consolidated was a leader in activity.

Farm Shares Advance.

The rally in wheat gave substantial aid to farm implements and mail orders. Case hit a new peak and closed up 4½.

Buying was heavy in aviation leaders like Aviation Corporation, Bendix, Curtiss-Wright, and United Aircraft, all of which were moderately higher.

LARD PRICES WEAKEN UNDER HEDGING SALES

Provision traders said there were sufficient hedging sales by packing interests to take the bull edge off the market for lard, despite the advance of 10 to 25 cents in hogs, and make a close on futures 2½ to 5 cents net lower as compared with Saturday. In all a fair business was under way. Cash lard was 5 cents lower for regular at $6.32½, 2½ cents off for loose at $5.70, and leaf unchanged at $5.75. There was no trade in bellies for futures delivery, and cash lots were unchanged at $7.25.

GRAINS REACH HIGHEST POINTS IN TWO YEARS

Wheat Aided by Reports of Crop Damage.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

New high levels for nearly two years were established on all deliveries of wheat, oats, and rye on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Bulls were aggressive and after early selling on reports of scattered showers and lower temperatures, general buying swept aside all opposition. The close was at the top.

A flood of unfavorable crop comments was received by the trade on winter wheat and oats, and there were also intimations that the outlook for the spring wheat crop in South Dakota had been lowered materially. The damage claims and the strength in stocks were the main bullish influences, although the trade also regarded the convening of the world's economic conference and its possible action on the proposed plan to curtail the acreage in the United States, Canada, Australia, and Argentina as a potential bullish influence.

Soft Wheat Belt Reports Damage.

The so-called soft red winter wheat belt, largely confined to Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio, sent in reports that the crop had ripened prematurely in some sections and light weight grain was feared when the harvest gets under way.

A radical change in the European wheat situation was indicated in private cables received at the seaboard yesterday, with the French crop estimated at well below 300,000,000 bushels. Last year's official returns were 332,000,000 bushels, although private estimates ranged up to 362,000,000 bushels.

Houses with eastern connections and strong local professionals were good buyers of wheat after the stock market started upward and disclosed a lack of pressure. Early there had been a break of 1 cent on the more favorable weather. The finish was at the best figures, with net gains of 1¼ to 1⅝ cents, July being 77⅞ to 77⅞ cents, September 79¾ to 80 cents, and December 82⅛ to 82⅛ cents. Winnipeg was ⅞ cents higher in Canadian funds.

Corn Rallies with Wheat.

Corn broke 1¼ to 1⅝ cents early on the favorable weather for the new crop, but rallied with wheat and finished unchanged to ⅛ cent lower for the day. July was 46 to 46¼ cents, September, 48⅞ to 49 cents, and December, 51¾ to 51⅞ cents at the last. Cash grain is moving freely, with much poor corn from Iowa points in the day's arrivals here, and some of the latter was off as much as 3 cents as compared with the July.

Damage to the oat crop in some sections of the west is so severe that the trade had reports yesterday the grain was being cut for hay. While these were regarded as somewhat extreme, the market advanced readily after an early decline, closing at the top with net gains of ¼ to ½ cent, making the third straight day of advancing prices. July finished at 29⅜ to 29½ cents and September 30⅝ to 30¾ cents.

Rye was more active than on Saturday, with commission houses good buyers, and the close was 1¾ to 1⅞ cents higher, with July finishing at 63 cents and September at 64⅜ cents, cents higher. Barley was ¼ cent lower to ¼ cent higher.

COTTON TRADE ACTIVE; PRICES MOVE HIGHER

$4.20 it was the highest since England left the gold standard. All other important currencies reached record high prices for the year, the quotations for francs, guilders, belgas, Swiss francs, marks and lire establishing the highest prices in the history of the present monetary units.

At its high for the day, 4.87⅛ cents, the franc was at a premium of 24.4 per cent over parity indicating a gold value for the dollar of 80.4 cents. French exchange closed at 4.86 cents, up 3⅝ points from Saturday's final price.

The discount on Canadian dollars continued to shrink, being reduced to 9 per cent at one time, compared with 9¼ per cent discount last Saturday. The closing quotation, however, showed a slight loss at 9⅜ per cent discount.

Heavy "Advance Buying."

Brokers handling accounts of Americans operating in the Liverpool commodities market report heavy "advance buying" there before the market opens here, and subsequent selling in New York on the rise, if one occurs. This has the effect of transferring New York funds to London and is considered a powerful influence in causing the rise of the pound.

A distinction is made by brokers between this "advance trading" and arbitraging, which consists of simultaneous buying in Liverpool and selling in New York, or vice versa, for an arbitrage profit or loss.

Sellers Leave Dollars Abroad.

Another potent influence in the advance of sterling, and consequent weakness of the dollar, as defined in financial circles, is the practice of large exporters of American commodities and manufactured articles to leave the proceeds of their sales on deposit or invested in European financial centers, instead of bringing them back to New York. This because they believe the dollar is going lower, and perhaps also from some distrust concerning American financial policies, as indicated by the inflation projects emanating from Washington.

In effect this results in a steady movement, if not an actual "flight," of American capital to Europe. It is said to have been going on steadily for some time. Together these influences are regarded by brokers as strong enough to account for the fact that the pound has been driven up $1.06 from its low point of November last.

NATIONAL REAL ESTATE BOARDS OPEN MEETING

BY AL CHASE.

With a meeting yesterday afternoon of thirty-five members of the board of directors of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at the Stevens hotel, the twenty-sixth annual convention of American and Canadian realtors unofficially got under way. Today will be devoted to a further meeting of the directors, sessions of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, and various meetings of executive committees of national divisions.

This evening there will be an informal reception at the Stevens hotel at 8 o'clock.

Tomorrow, however, the big realty gathering, expected to be one of the largest of its kind in recent years, will get into its stride. The day will be devoted to public sessions, with speakers of prominence from this country and Canada. All day Wednesday, all day Thursday, and Friday morning will be given over to business sessions, with speeches and discussions.

Much Fair Sight-Seeing.

Friday afternoon and evening and all day Saturday, and, of course, evenings of the other days, will be devoted to sight-seeing at the Fair. During the week there will be an elaborate program of entertainment of various kinds for the wives and daughters attending the convention.

Reduction of real estate taxes, formation of a national property owners division on an extensive scale and the inauguration of modern corporation methods in real estate business were discussed at yesterday afternoon's session of the board of directors.

Reports of the year's activities and future plans were outlined by Herbert U. Nelson, executive secretary of the national association and J. Soule Warterfield, general convention chairman of the Chicago Real Estate board.

"The more than 500 real estate boards of the United States are one of the major causes of what we might term a veritable tax revolution which has swept the nation in the last year," said Mr. Nelson.
